

ESTABLISHED 1878

LOWELL MASS. MONDAY NOVEMBER 9 1908

PRICE ONE CENT

DOCK WAS CROWDED

Large Number of Offenders in Police Court Today

Men Arrested for Dancing on Sunday — Sad Case of Man Arrested for Stealing Clothing — Drunk List Longer Than Usual

Sergt. Hugh Maguire and Patrolmen William Groux and John J. Ganley, though uninvited guests, "batted" into a dancing party which was being held in upper Market street yesterday afternoon and as a result of their unceremonious entrance, six foreigners were given a free ride to the police station.

The officers happened to be passing through Market street late in the afternoon when their attention was attracted to a building from which emanated great sounds. Investigation showed that six men were dancing in a style which is anything but popular to Americans. Music for dancing was being furnished by lyres, lutes, cymbals and other instruments.

The appearance of the officers put a stop to the festivities and the merry-makers were hustled into the patrol wagon and taken to the police station where they gave their names as George Makars, James Goulas, Athanasios Tziamas, George Rajana, Andreas Wamopoulos and Kostas Samaras.

In court this morning the sextet were charged with voluntarily taking part in an amusement known as dancing on the Lord's day. They all pleaded guilty, but through an interpreter informed the court that they did not know they were violating the law.

Judge Hadley read the law, but feeling that there was more ignorance of the law than an intent to violate it, allowed them to go after paying fines of $2 each.

Larceny of Lead

Germain Pineault was arraigned in court Saturday on a complaint charging him with the larceny of 24 pounds of lead, the property of Paul Cossette and the case was continued till this morning in order that he might have a chance to make restitution. In the meantime Mrs. Pineault made a settlement with the complainant and Pineault was placed in the hands of the probation officer.

To State Farm

John J. Fox was arrested Saturday night for drunkenness. It was his fourth offense and the court sentenced him to the state farm.

LAWRENCE CUMMINGS

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR

WILL SPEAK TONIGHT, NOV. 9

In Odd Fellows Hall, Bridge Street, and in Centralville Social Club Rooms, Lakeview Avenue, near Aiken Street.

LAWRENCE CUMMINGS, 29 Huntington Street, Advertisement.

ELECTRIC POWER

Twenty-four hours per day, 365 days per year and one day extra in leap year.

The mill with electric motors has no fear of low water, engine break down or boiler explosion, resulting in shut down for weeks or months.

We Can Explain

Lowell Electric Light Corp.

50 Central St.

William J. Fleming, a parole man, will be returned to the state farm.

Sent to Jail

John J. Polzy, charged with being drunk, was in very bad condition as a result of the over indulgence of liquor. His wife said that he was drunk all the time and had been on a continual spree for six weeks. He was sent to jail for eight days in order that he might sober off.

James Patterson was charged with being drunk, he denied the allegation. Patrolman Dennett testified that he was called to Patterson's home Saturday afternoon and found him drunk in the yard in the rear of the house. Patterson said that he had had but one drink during the day and that when the officer arrived he was sitting in his house and was perfectly sober.

Patrolman John Leighton, who was in the station house when Patterson arrived, said that the latter was drunk. It was his second offense and he was fined $3.

Patrick Kelley and wife, arrested for drunkenness, Saturday, were placed on probation.

Joseph Dion, a third offender, was sentenced to three months in jail.

Robert Popp, a third offender, also, was sentenced to four months in jail, sentence was suspended and he was placed in the hands of the probation officer for one year.

The court was inclined to be lenient with Martin Connerion. It was his third offense, but the fact that he was an old man caused the judge to be lenient. Connerion was given a suspended sentence of four months in jail and placed on probation for one year.

William H. Dever, a third offender, was sentenced to the state farm. Five first offenders were fined $2 each and ten simple drunks were released without appearing in court.

The following second offenders were fined $6 each: David Linton, George Wigley, Arthur Levesque, Arthur Blouin, Louis Provost, Patrick J. Gately and Albert Hamilton.

Among the Sunday drunks were the following: Frank Gogar, fined $7; Jacob Topolski, Joseph Sopol and Angie Tomon, $6 each and Costos Arkas $5.

Placed on Probation

Frederick Potter was arrested Saturday night by Inspectors Ladame and Maher for the larceny of clothing from the store of J. L. Chalfoux in Central street, and was in police court this morning on that charge.

In court this morning Potter pleaded guilty to a complaint charging him with the larceny of two coats, valued at $11.50 each; one vest, valued at $4, and a coat, valued at $15, the property of J. L. Chalfoux.

Deputy Welch explained to the court that the case was a very sad one, inasmuch as he had three small children and a pair of twins which were born recently.

Mr. J. L. Chalfoux stated to the court that he had learned of the circumstances of Potter's family, and was willing to have the man placed on probation.

Mr. Cheney, the well known box shop man, for whom the prisoner works, spoke in high terms of the ability of Potter and stated that he would do everything in his power to assist the man in leading a better life.

Despite the fact that Potter was before the court four years ago on a similar offense, the court was inclined to be lenient owing to the fact that Mr. Chalfoux and Mr. Cheney were anxious to have the man placed on probation. Potter was given a suspended sentence to the Massachusetts reformatory.

House Was Raided

John Pekos and Laura Matte were taken from a house in Paige street, Saturday night, by Patrolmen John Leighton and David Petrie, and this morning in court both pleaded guilty to a charge of adultery. Pekos is single, but the woman is married. Both were held for the superior court, bonds being placed at $300.

Stole a Locket

James F. O'Neil was arraigned in court this morning on a complaint charging him with the larceny of a locket and chain, the property of Patrick F. Gully. O'Neil entered a plea of guilty, but the evidence against him was sufficiently strong to have the court find him guilty, and he was sentenced to two months in jail.

Dowling acknowledged to the court that he had been drinking and fell asleep in a chair in a Merrimack street saloon Saturday afternoon. He had the watch chain and locket attached to his suspenders and knew that someone took it, but could not tell who committed the larceny.

Inspector Maher said that he arrested O'Neil in Middlesex street, and that the latter said he had had the chain about a month, having purchased it in Nashua.

O'Neil offered no defense.

SILVER TROPHY

WAS AWARDED TO W. H. BAILEY OF THIS CITY

W. H. Bailey of this city, a member of the Lowell Hamline club, has been awarded the silver trophy given by C. H. Jones, publisher and editor of the Pigeon and Flying Journal, and secretary of the National Association of American Homing Pigeon Fanciers, for making the best average speed for old birds, 1908 races, from 100 to 500 miles. His birds also won the fourth prize for the best average from the 100 to 500 miles, thereby winning another silver trophy given by the National Association of American Homing Pigeon Fanciers. The average of Mr. Bailey's birds for the year was 1252, 67 yards per minute.

JOSEPH TESSIER

ISSUES A CHALLENGE TO ELI LAPORTE

That there is a keen rivalry among the owners of fast horses in this city is very evident. For today Mr. Joseph Tessier, owner of "Rose Mack" issued a challenge to Eli Laporte, owner of "Harris Bashford" to meet on the Pawtucket boulevard in half mile heats, best three out of five, for a purse ranging from $25 to $500.

THE OLD ASA POLLARD HOUSE, WHICH WAS BURNED SATURDAY NIGHT. (See page 3.)

WARNER SET FREE

Man Who Wrecked Two Banks Released From Prison

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—Breathing the air of freedom for the first time in nine years, Louis Warner walked briskly out from the state prison at Charlestown shortly before 9 o'clock today, having completed his penalty for wrecking the Hampshire County National and the Hampshire County Savings bank in Northampton, nearly ten years ago. The charge was the misapplication of $640,000. Speculation caused Warner's downfall.

Warner left state prison entirely alone and dodging a dozen newspaper men and photographers leaped into a carriage and was driven to the South station where he took the train for Springfield and Northampton.

Despite his nine years behind prison walls the former bank official appeared in excellent health and spirits. He was attired in a black suit and a black hat and his prison pallor was hidden behind a neatly trimmed beard and mustache, both of which had become gray since he entered Charlestown.

He was given the customary $5 in addition to a sum of money which his daughter had sent him several days ago.

Warner up to the time of his downfall ten years ago was one of the leading citizens of Northampton and besides being president of the National bank and treasurer of the Savings institution was interested in several industries in Northampton which suffered from his mismanagement. In addition to his financial interests he was identified with a number of religious institutions and was one time a member of the city government of Northampton, chief of the fire department, and made an unsuccessful effort to be elected state treasurer of the democratic ticket.

As the direct result of Warner's ability to hide his shortage in the funds of two institutions by transferring securities from one bank to another upon arrival of the bank examiner, the legislature passed a law forbidding national and savings banks to have adjoining offices.

Warner was 60 years of age when he received his sentence, but he did not look 60 years of age when released.

lous to have the man placed on probation. Potter was given a suspended sentence to the Massachusetts reformatory.

House Was Raided

John Pekos and Laura Matte were taken from a house in Paige street, Saturday night, by Patrolmen John Leighton and David Petrie, and this morning in court both pleaded guilty to a charge of adultery. Pekos is single, but the woman is married. Both were held for the superior court, bonds being placed at $300.

Stole a Locket

James F. O'Neil was arraigned in court this morning on a complaint charging him with the larceny of a locket and chain, the property of Patrick F. Gully. O'Neil entered a plea of guilty, but the evidence against him was sufficiently strong to have the court find him guilty, and he was sentenced to two months in jail.

Dowling acknowledged to the court that he had been drinking and fell asleep in a chair in a Merrimack street saloon Saturday afternoon. He had the watch chain and locket attached to his suspenders and knew that someone took it, but could not tell who committed the larceny.

Inspector Maher said that he arrested O'Neil in Middlesex street, and that the latter said he had had the chain about a month, having purchased it in Nashua.

O'Neil offered no defense.

SILVER TROPHY

WAS AWARDED TO W. H. BAILEY OF THIS CITY

W. H. Bailey of this city, a member of the Lowell Hamline club, has been awarded the silver trophy given by C. H. Jones, publisher and editor of the Pigeon and Flying Journal, and secretary of the National Association of American Homing Pigeon Fanciers, for making the best average speed for old birds, 1908 races, from 100 to 500 miles. His birds also won the fourth prize for the best average from the 100 to 500 miles, thereby winning another silver trophy given by the National Association of American Homing Pigeon Fanciers. The average of Mr. Bailey's birds for the year was 1252, 67 yards per minute.

JOSEPH TESSIER

ISSUES A CHALLENGE TO ELI LAPORTE

That there is a keen rivalry among the owners of fast horses in this city is very evident. For today Mr. Joseph Tessier, owner of "Rose Mack" issued a challenge to Eli Laporte, owner of "Harris Bashford" to meet on the Pawtucket boulevard in half mile heats, best three out of five, for a purse ranging from $25 to $500.

JOHN HANLEY,

Advertisement, 59 Tyler St.

VERDICT OF $1000

Given Against B. & N. R. R. Today

At the opening of superior court, this morning the jury in the case of John M. Bills of Somerville vs. Boston & Northern returned a verdict of $1000 for the plaintiff.

The case of John J. Emerson of Newton, who sues the General Accident Fire and Insurance company of Perth, Scotland to recover $10,000 on an accident policy for loss of a hand, which was opened last Wednesday and suspended until today, was resumed this forenoon.

At the opening of court, counsel in the case held a conference with the court. In this case the company had an agency in Philadelphia and an office in Boston and the defense is requiring the plaintiff to prove that the agent who insured him was the authorized United States agent of the company, a matter that required recourse to Philadelphia lawyers and may necessitate correspondence with the home office in Scotland. The conference was held in Judge White's office and took up the greater part of the forenoon.

WEDDING BELLS

Suggested in the Following Intentions

The following intentions to marry were registered at the city clerk's office today:

James Grouke, 26, laborer, 112 Chapel street and Annie D'Lacey, 24, operative, 538 Central street.

Francisco Ferreira, 23, operative, 17 Pearl street and Eleanor I. Bettencourt, 22, operative, 365 Watt street, Lawrence, Mass.

Edmund J. Cheney, 31, hair dresser, 19 Gros street and Winifred A. King, 29, 61 home, 205 Stockpile street.

Antonio Dion, 21, butcher, Montreal, Canada, and Eva M. Vincent, 24, hostess, 41 Race street.

LIQUOR SEIZED

Found in O. L. Field's Drug Store

The drug store conducted by Osmond L. Field at 398 Merrimack street was raided shortly after midnight Sunday morning by Inspectors Atkinson and Dwyer and the latter seized more than 150 pint and half pint bottles of whiskey, together with a barrel containing about five gallons of liquor.

A couple of officers in plain clothes entered the store shortly after midnight and made purchases of whiskey. While one of the officers who had secured the "fire water" was present, Messrs. Atkinson and Dwyer appeared on the scene and making a search of the premises succeeded in locating the liquor.

Mr. Field will be haled into court during the week and charged with the illegal keeping and sale of liquor.

FORT HILL PARK

The Work of Re-grading It Begun

The work of remodeling and improving Monument square is about all through with, and after the debris has been cleared away the square will present a very pleasing appearance. The square has been made to conform with the surroundings at city hall so that it looks like part of the city hall lot.

The park commission is making busy to clean the monument. It was at first thought that the best and quickest way would be to sand blast it, but after consulting authorities on the matter the commission decided to apply soap, water, oil and grease and iron bristles, it being stated by the authorities that sand blasting would spoil the monument.

The work of re-grading portions of Fort Hill park was begun by the park department last week, but only a few men are at work there because of the fact that this is the time for bulb planting and the men of the department are busy at that work.

Democrats Attention!

There will be a meeting of the Democratic voters of

WARDS 2, 8 and 9

At Cummings' Headquarters, 48 Middlesex St.,

At 8 O'CLOCK THIS EVENING.

All Invited.

HALL TO LET

The hall in the Harrington building, 52 Central street, will be vacated

December 1st. For further particulars inquire at THE SUN OFFICE.

JOHN HANLEY,

Advertisement, 59 Tyler St.

HELD IN $1000

McCarthy Charged With Setting Fire to a Building

Charles McCarthy, a young man 25 years of age, was arraigned in police court this morning on complaints charging him with recklessness and maliciously burning a building, the property of the Commonwealth in the town of Tewksbury early yesterday morning, the building in question being a piggery at the state hospital grounds.

McCarthy has been employed by a farmer on the Andover road in Tewksbury and Saturday night he came to this city. It was testified, for the purpose of indulging in some liquid beverages. He boarded the Boston car which leaves Merrimack square fifteen minutes before midnight and got off at Chandler street in Tewksbury, which leads to the almshouse. After making several attempts to gain admittance to the institution to see one of the inmates he went to the piggery on the premises, and it is alleged that he "fired" the place.

William E. Sprout, a conductor on the Boston line of the Boston & Northern Street Railway Co., testified that on Saturday night McCarthy boarded his car at Merrimack square and left the state farm in Tewksbury. McCarthy left the car shortly after midnight and was in an intoxicated condition.

Helen Murphy, a nurse at the state hospital, said that at about five minutes before two o'clock he called at the hospital and asked to see one of the inmates. Witness said that he could not see her, whereupon he walked away toward the piggery. Miss Murphy stated that she watched the defendant walk along the road and about fifteen minutes later she saw the piggery was ablaze.

Beatrice Josephine Higgins, also a nurse at the hospital, corroborated the testimony offered by Miss Murphy. Dr. George A. Pierce, of the hospital corps, said that the piggery was burned in three different places.

Dr. Howard Holmes corroborated the testimony offered by the previous witnesses.

Frederick Flynn, a member of the state police, said that he had conversed with McCarthy and told the latter who he was and what rights he (McCarthy) had relative to making statements which might be used against him.

Continuing Mr. Flynn said: "Mr. McCarthy told me that he was 25 years of age and had been in this country for 12 years, that he had been an inmate of the Tewksbury institution but that since last July he had been working for a Patrick Kelly on the Andover road."

"Last Saturday night, according to his statement, he came to Lowell and had five or six drinks of beer and took the last car, at 11:45 o'clock, for Tewksbury. He got off at Chandler street in Tewksbury and went into the institution building."

"He did not know what happened till about two o'clock in the morning when he awoke in the pig pen and found that the building was afire. Finding that there were two fires in progress he went to the consumptives' department and told the officers at that place that the piggery was afire. He said he didn't know how the fire started. He would not say whether he set it or not."

Probably cause was found and McCarthy was held under $1000 bonds for the grand jury.

PARIS, Nov. 8.—Victorien Sardou, who has been ill for a long time, died yesterday from pulmonary congestion.

The man whose first play was hissed and who then wanted to go to America to seek his fortune died rich and honored, with the proud title of France's greatest and most prolific contemporary dramatist.

FUNERALS

CASEY.—The funeral of Johanna Casey took place from her late home 133 Chapel street, this morning, at 11:30 o'clock. The cortege proceeded to St. Peter's church, where at nine o'clock a requiem mass was sung for the soul of the deceased.

The church choir, headed by the direction of Mr. E. Haggerty, was in attendance at the mass and rendered the Vatican edition of the requiem. The solo at the mass were given by Messrs. P. P. Haggerty and James E. Donnelly. Mrs. Josephine McKeeney, presided at the organ.

The bearers were William Buckley, Fred Rollins, William Buckley, Matthew McCarthy, John Buckley and Peter Braut. Interment was in the Catholic cemetery in charge of Funeral Director Thomas J. McDermott. Rev. Fr. Burns officiated at the grave.

The floral offerings were as follows: Spray, Ruth and Leo Buckley; spray, Miss Nellie Buckley; spray, Mrs. Edward Buckley.

BURNS.—The funeral of the late Malachy Burns took place from his home on Pleasant street this morning at 8:30 o'clock. It was one of the largest funerals that passed through the city for considerable time. A solemn mass of requiem was sung at the immaculate conception church at 9 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Flynn, O. M. I., assisted by Rev. Frs. Lyons and McRory, O. M. I.

At the offertory Mr. John Dalton rendered "O Salutaris" and as the body was being borne from the church Mr. William Gookin rendered "De Profundis." Despite the fact that it was requested that no flowers be sent, there were many floral tributes to the deceased. Many friends from out of town were present, among whom were Messrs. Maher of Nashua, Mrs. Edward Teimery, Mrs. John Callahan, Mrs. Andrew Callahan, Miss Nellie Kiere, Mrs. Mary Gilligan, Mr. John O'Brien, Mrs. John Meenan, John Butler, Patrick Gilligan of Boston, Mrs. Eda McMurphy, Mrs. Elizabeth Noonan, Miss Adelle Noonan, Mrs. Anna Carpenter of Lynn. The bearers were Messrs. Frank Shonks, Peter Mann, James Hickey, Frank Burns, William F. Curran and John Collins.

The funeral of Peter H. Davey was the undertaker. Rev. Fr. Sullivan, O. M. I., and Rev. Fr. Lyons officiated at the grave.

FUNERAL NOTICES

DUMAS.—Levi Dumas, the well known book binder, passed away at his residence, 11 Ash street, this morning, aged 78 years. The funeral will take place from his late home at 314 Broadway at 10:30 o'clock. Undertaker G. W. Healey will be in charge.

FUNERAL NOTICES

MURPHY.—The funeral of Mrs. Sarah J. Murphy will take place from her late home at 800 Central street this morning at 8 o'clock. Funeral mass at St. Peter's church at 9 o'clock. Undertakers Higgins brothers in charge.

FUNERAL NOTICES

LOWELL GAS LIGHT CO.

Gentlemen: I began using Lowell coke when I began making candy in 1887 and I have used it in my business ever since. I also use coke at my home.

DUDLEY L. PAGE, Nov. 7th, 1907.

We as well as many others have wondered why it was that D. L. Page's candy was so good. The reason is out. Everyone in Lowell knows that your Uncle Dudley Page and his team ever used Lowell coke.

LOWELL GAS LIGHT CO.

PRES. ROOSEVELT

Says That Religion Has no Place in Politics

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Secretary Taft's religious faith is purely his own private concern and not a matter for general discussion and political discrimination, says President Roosevelt, in a letter he made public last night, in which he answers numerous correspondents.

The letter selected for reply, from many similar ones received by the president during the campaign, is one written to him by J. C. Martin of Dayton, O. The president says he deferred the publication of the letter until now, to avoid any agitation likely to influence the election. The president's letter follows:

"My Dear Sir—I have received your letter, running in part as follows: 'While it is claimed almost universally that religion should not enter into politics, yet there is no denying that it does, and the mass of the voters that are not Catholics will not support a man for any office, especially for president of the United States, who is a Roman Catholic.'"

"Since Taft has been nominated for president by the republican party, it is being circulated and is constantly urged as a reason for not voting for Taft that he is an infidel (Unitarian) and his wife and brother Roman Catholics. If his feelings are in sympathy with the Roman Catholic church on account of his wife and brother being Catholics, that would be objectionable to sufficient number of voters to defeat him. On the other hand, if he is an infidel, that would be sure to mean defeat. . . I am writing this letter for the sole purpose of giving Mr. Taft an opportunity to let the world know what his religious belief is."

Many Similar Inquiries

"I received many such letters as yours during the campaign, expressing dissatisfaction with Mr. Taft on religious grounds; some of them on the ground that he was a Unitarian, and others on the ground that he was suspected to be in sympathy with Catholics. I did not answer any of these letters during the campaign because I regarded it as an outrage even to agitate such a question as a man's religious convictions, with the purpose of influencing a political election. But now that the campaign is over, when there is opportunity for men calmly to consider whether such propositions as those you make in your letter would lead, I wish to invite them to consider them, and I have selected your letter to answer because you advance both the objections commonly urged against Mr. Taft, namely, that he is a Unitarian and also that he is suspected of sympathy with the Catholics."

Freedom of Conscience

"You ask that Mr. Taft shall let the world know what his religious belief is. This is purely his own private concern; and it is a matter between him and his Maker, a matter for his own conscience, and to require it to be made public under penalty of political discrimination is to negate the first principles of our government, which guarantee complete religious liberty, and the right to each man to act in religious affairs as his own conscience dictates."

"Mr. Taft never asked my advice in the matter, but if he had asked it, I should have emphatically advised him against thus stating publicly his religious belief. The demand for a statement of a candidate's religious belief can have no meaning except that there may be discrimination for or against him because of that belief. Discrimination against the holder of one faith means retaliatory discrimination against men of other faiths. The inevitable result of entering upon such a practice would be an abandonment of our real freedom of conscience and a reversion to the dreadful conditions of religious dissension which in so many lands have proved fatal to true liberty, to true religion and to all advance in civilization."

Lincoln and Adams Cited

"To discriminate against a thoroughly upright citizen because he belongs to some particular church or because, like Abraham Lincoln, he has not avowed his allegiance to any church, is an outrage against that liberty of conscience which is one of the foundations of American life. You are entitled to know whether a man seeking your suffrage is a man of clean and upright life, honorable in all his dealings with his fellows and fit by qualification and purpose to do well in the office for which he is a candidate; but you are not entitled to know matters which lie purely between himself and his Maker."

"If it is proper or legitimate to oppose a man for being a Unitarian, as was John Quincy Adams, for instance, as is Rev. Edward Everett Hale, at the present moment chaplain of the senate, and an American of whose life all good Americans are proud, then it would be equally proper to support or oppose a man because of his views of justification by faith, or the method of administering the sacrament, or the gospel of salvation by works. If you once enter on such a career there is absolutely no limit at which you can legitimately stop."

"Foul Slander" on Catholics

"So much for your objections to Mr. Taft because he is a Unitarian. Now, for your objections to him because you think his wife and brother to be Roman Catholics. As it happens, they are not; but if they were, or if he were a Roman Catholic himself, it ought not to affect in the slightest degree any man's supporting him for the position of president. You say that the mass of the voters that are not Catholics will not support a man for any office, especially for president of the United States, who is a Roman Catholic. I believe that when you say this you foully slander your fellow countrymen. I do not for one moment believe that the mass of our fellow citizens, or that any considerable number of our fellow citizens can be influenced by such narrow bigotry as to refuse to vote for any thoroughly upright and fit man because he happens to have a particular religious creed. Such a consideration should never be treated as a reason for either supporting or opposing a candidate for a political office."

"Are you aware that there are several states in this Union where the majority of the people are now Catholics? I should reprobate in the severest terms the Catholics who in those states for in any other states) refused to vote for the most fit man because he happened to be a Protestant, and his condemnation would be exactly as severe for Protestants who, under reversed circumstances, refused to vote for a Catholic."

"In public life I am happy to say that I have known many men who were elected and constantly re-elected to office in districts where the great majority of their constituents were of different religious belief. I know Catholics who have for many years represented constituencies mainly Protestant, and Protestants who have for many years represented constituencies mainly Catholic; and among the congressmen whom I know particularly well was one man of Jewish faith, who represented a district in which there were hardly any Jews at all. All of these men by their very existence in political life refute the slander you have uttered against your fellow-Americans."

"I believe that this republic will endure for many centuries. If so there will doubtless be among its presidents Protestants and Catholics, and very probably at some time Jews."

"I have consistently tried while president to act in relation to my fellow-Americans of Catholic faith as I hope that any future president who happens to be a Catholic will act toward his fellow-Americans of Protestant faith. Had I followed any other course I should have felt that I was unfit to represent the American people."

Instances His Cabinet

"In my cabinet at the present moment there sit, side by side, Catholic and Protestant, Christian and Jew, each man chosen because in my belief he is peculiarly fit to exercise on behalf of all our people the duties of the office to which I have appointed him."

"In no case does the man's religious belief in any way influence his discharge of his duties, save as it makes him more eager to act justly and uprightly in his relations to all men."

The same principles that have obtained in appointing the members of my cabinet, the highest officials under me, the officials to whom is entrusted the work of carrying out all the important policies of my administration, are the principles upon which all good Americans should act in choosing, whether by election or appointment, the men to fill any office, from the highest to the lowest in the land."

"Yours truly,"

(Signed) "Theodore Roosevelt."

evitable result of entering upon such a practice would be an abandonment of our real freedom of conscience and a reversion to the dreadful conditions of religious dissension which in so many lands have proved fatal to true liberty, to true religion and to all advance in civilization."

Lincoln and Adams Cited

"To discriminate against a thoroughly upright citizen because he belongs to some particular church or because, like Abraham Lincoln, he has not avowed his allegiance to any church, is an outrage against that liberty of conscience which is one of the foundations of American life. You are entitled to know whether a man seeking your suffrage is a man of clean and upright life, honorable in all his dealings with his fellows and fit by qualification and purpose to do well in the office for which he is a candidate; but you are not entitled to know matters which lie purely between himself and his Maker."

"If it is proper or legitimate to oppose a man for being a Unitarian, as was John Quincy Adams, for instance, as is Rev. Edward Everett Hale, at the present moment chaplain of the senate, and an American of whose life all good Americans are proud, then it would be equally proper to support or oppose a man because of his views of justification by faith, or the method of administering the sacrament, or the gospel of salvation by works. If you once enter on such a career there is absolutely no limit at which you can legitimately stop."

"Foul Slander" on Catholics

"So much for your objections to Mr. Taft because he is a Unitarian. Now, for your objections to him because you think his wife and brother to be Roman Catholics. As it happens, they are not; but if they were, or if he were a Roman Catholic himself, it ought not to affect in the slightest degree any man's supporting him for the position of president. You say that the mass of the voters that are not Catholics will not support a man for any office, especially for president of the United States, who is a Roman Catholic. I believe that when you say this you foully slander your fellow countrymen. I do not for one moment believe that the mass of our fellow citizens, or that any considerable number of our fellow citizens can be influenced by such narrow bigotry as to refuse to vote for any thoroughly upright and fit man because he happens to have a particular religious creed. Such a consideration should never be treated as a reason for either supporting or opposing a candidate for a political office."

"Are you aware that there are several states in this Union where the majority of the people are now Catholics? I should reprobate in the severest terms the Catholics who in those states for in any other states) refused to vote for the most fit man because he happened to be a Protestant, and his condemnation would be exactly as severe for Protestants who, under reversed circumstances, refused to vote for a Catholic."

"In public life I am happy to say that I have known many men who were elected and constantly re-elected to office in districts where the great majority of their constituents were of different religious belief. I know Catholics who have for many years represented constituencies mainly Protestant, and Protestants who have for many years represented constituencies mainly Catholic; and among the congressmen whom I know particularly well was one man of Jewish faith, who represented a district in which there were hardly any Jews at all. All of these men by their very existence in political life refute the slander you have uttered against your fellow-Americans."

"I believe that this republic will endure for many centuries. If so there will doubtless be among its presidents Protestants and Catholics, and very probably at some time Jews."

"I have consistently tried while president to act in relation to my fellow-Americans of Catholic faith as I hope that any future president who happens to be a Catholic will act toward his fellow-Americans of Protestant faith. Had I followed any other course I should have felt that I was unfit to represent the American people."

Instances His Cabinet

"In my cabinet at the present moment there sit, side by side, Catholic and Protestant, Christian and Jew, each man chosen because in my belief he is peculiarly fit to exercise on behalf of all our people the duties of the office to which I have appointed him."

"In no case does the man's religious belief in any way influence his discharge of his duties, save as it makes him more eager to act justly and uprightly in his relations to all men."

The same principles that have obtained in appointing the members of my cabinet, the highest officials under me, the officials to whom is entrusted the work of carrying out all the important policies of my administration, are the principles upon which all good Americans should act in choosing, whether by election or appointment, the men to fill any office, from the highest to the lowest in the land."

"Yours truly,"

(Signed) "Theodore Roosevelt."

LADIES' SHIRT WAISTS
69c
$1.00 Value

J. J. CHALIFOUX
49 to 59 CENTRAL ST.

MEN'S ALL WORSTED WOOL SWEATERS AT $1.98
Regular $3 Value

$10 for Women's Coats
Of the $15.00 and $18.00 Types
Dressy coats and coats of simplicity. Made by the highest salaried tailors of highest grades of Woolens, Broadcloths and Kerseys, in black and colors. Wide variety from the unassuming jacket to the handsome 52-inch models, braided or silk trimmed.

Misses' School Coats
In heavy Scotch Mixtures, all sizes in different patterns; semi-fitted. Good storm coats.

Ladies' Sweaters
48c, 98c, $1.98 and $2.98
Heavy Weight Close Knit Sweaters, all sizes, in mannish styles. In different colors

Ladies' Patent Leather Shoes
For $1.49
We have only about 50 pairs left, the remainder of several hundred pairs we closed out from a manufacturer at about 50 cents on the dollar.

Men's Overcoats Of High Quality
An Unexcelled Variety Very Moderately Priced
Our assortment is noteworthy not only for the wide variety of styles offered, but also for the extensive number of patterns in each style.

$28 SILK LINED Black Kersey Overcoats
Equal to $65 kind made by tailors. The merits of these Overcoats will appeal to any one wanting the best. They are hand made, by the best journeymen tailors, lined with the best of silk and are guaranteed to fit perfectly.

$22 Fine Auto Overcoats
In fine Scotch Cheviot; tan, gray and olive.

Young Men's Fancy Overcoats $15
The assortment at $15.00 is unsurpassed and comprises half a dozen new shades of Scotch Cheviots, Cassimeres and Kerseys. Some are made with patch pockets and fancy sleeve trimmings.

Men's Overcoats $12.95
Regular $18.00 Value
In mouse colored Kersey; black, blue and brown Kerseys; and fancy Cheviots. Full lengths and thoroughly well made.

The Bon Marche
DRY GOODS CO.

Monday Evening Sale
From 6 to 9.30 O'Clock Only

LONG OUTING FLANNEL SKIRTS (Second Floor) 45c
Made of good outing flannel in sizes 36-38 and 40. Regular price 59c. Monday Evening Price, 45c

TEASPOONS 8 for 5c
Good heavy Steel Spoons, finished to imitate silver. Regular price 6 for 10c. Monday Evening Price, 8 for 5c

WOOL FLANNEL (Basement) 12 1/2c Yard
Extra heavy White Flannel, 28 inches wide. Regular price 25c. Monday Evening Price, 12 1/2c

MEN'S NEGLIGEE SHIRTS 29c
Chambrays, Madras and Percales, with separate cuffs. Regular price 50c. Monday Evening Price, 29c

WOMEN'S HOSE 15c, or 2 Pairs for 25c
Black Hose, ribbed and plain, winter weight, with linen heel and toe. Regular price 25c pair. Monday Evening Price, 15c Pair, or 2 Pairs for 25c

SHEPHERD FLOSS 5c Skein
Genuine Shepherd Floss, in full size skeins. Bright colors only. Regular price 12 1/2c. Monday Evening Price, 5c Skein

TOOTH BRUSHES 8c
Full size, bone handles, with good bristles. Regular price 15c. Monday Evening Price, 8c

COLLAR FOUNDATIONS 7c
All styles, in black or white. Regular price 10c. Monday Evening Price, 7c

ILLUSTRATED HISTORY OF LOWELL AND VICINITY—A
9x12 book of 881 pages and about 1000 illustrations of buildings, scenes and prominent persons. A beautiful book published by the Courier-Citizen Co., giving the history of Lowell from its earliest period. Published to sell at $5.00. Monday Evening Price, 69c

REMNANTS OF COLORED DRESS GOODS 25c Yard
Mostly dark colors (fall goods). Regular price 30c yard to 50c yard. Monday Evening Price, 25c Yard

36-INCH SATINS FOR COAT LININGS 79c Yard
Gray, mode, brown and black. Regular price $1.00. Monday Evening Price, 79c Yard

WOMEN'S UNION SUITS 89c
Very fine fleece lined Jersey in cream and white. Regular price $1.25. Monday Evening Price, 89c

WOMEN'S GAITERS 35c
Ten-button length in black. Regular price 50c. Monday Evening Price, 35c

BELT BUCKLES AND BELT PINS 25c
In Gilt, Plain, Rose, Silver and Oxidized finish, plain and stone settings. Regular price 50c and $1.00. Monday Evening Price, 25c

CHILDREN'S WHITE FUR SETS 79c
Muff and throw, very handsome little sets for children. Regular price $1. Monday Evening Price, 79c Set

CHAS. W. MORSE
Convicted Banker on His Way to Jail

POLITICAL NOTES
The Candidates Will be Busy This Week

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Charles W. Morse, the "ex-ice king," sentenced to fifteen years in prison for misappropriating the funds of the National bank.

Meetings this Week
This will be a busy week for all candidates for they will make addresses at different points tonight. Mr. Cummings will address meetings in Old Fellows hall, Bridge street, and the Centralville Social club, Alken street, tonight. Ex-Mayor Casey will address a meeting in the Lyon street school this evening.

Ex-Alderman Cosgrove Active
Daniel Cosgrove, candidate for the democratic nomination for the office of chief of the supply department, opened his campaign yesterday afternoon by holding a rousing meeting which was attended by about 200 enthusiastic democrats who represented every ward in the city. Of course, the majority of the voters present were representatives of the democratic wards, but there was a good representation of democrats from the republican wards and the latter were as enthusiastic as their brothers from the democratic wards.

Candidate Cosgrove made a very brief speech and refrained from throwing bouquets at himself, but the speaker who followed for the same office and at city hall, stating that it was clean, healthy criticism and that his acts had been approved by the voters throughout the city, both democrats and republicans.

The fact was also brought out that the first year that Mr. Cosgrove aspired for political honors he was elected to the common council to represent ward four. The following year a very unusual thing happened. Mr. Cosgrove, instead of seeking a second term for the lower board, aspired to higher honors and was elected to the board of aldermen. His acts while in the upper board were of such a character as to secure for him at the next town election the entire strength of the democratic party and a good portion of the republican party and as a result he received the highest vote ever given a man far any position in the city of Lowell.

Mr. Cosgrove said there were three other candidates seeking the democratic nomination for the same office and that there should be no mud-slinging or knocking; also that after the primaries it was the duty of the members of the democratic party to support the democratic nominee, whether it be himself or one of the other candidates. Several strong speeches were made in advocacy of his nomination.

Mr. Brown's Replies
Candidate George H. Brown was about yesterday speaking in husky tones, the effect of the campaign of out-door speaking, but he believed that by resting yesterday he would be in shape for today's strenuous work. "My voice holds out," said Mr. Brown. "I shall make 25 speeches during the week. He will address the employees of the American Hide and Leather company at the tannery gate this noon. This evening at 7.30 o'clock Mr. Brown will speak at the corner of Bridge street and Lakeview avenue. At 7.45 he will address his fellow-citizens from in front of Sparks' drug store, corner of Lakeview avenue and Little Canada and will make a speech there."

The League's Ticket
The local independence league have nominated the following municipal ticket: For mayor—William Zimmerman, 31 Pine street, merchant, 28 Middle street; Chief of department of supplies—William H. Brown, printer, 171 Fort Hill avenue; Alderman—Joseph F. Ashton, textile worker, 24 Prescott street; William Domondio Ring, attorney at law, 55 White street; Frank M. Bell, painter and decorator, corner 44 Carlton street; Hugh Gallagher, stationery, Freeman; Pollard street; Robert Hartley, merchant, 51 White street; Joseph Plan, carpenter, 301 West Sixth street; William H. Williams, merchant, 203 Sun-

CHAS. W. MORSE
Convicted Banker on His Way to Jail

POLITICAL NOTES
The Candidates Will be Busy This Week

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Charles W. Morse, the "ex-ice king," sentenced to fifteen years in prison for misappropriating the funds of the National bank.

Meetings this Week
This will be a busy week for all candidates for they will make addresses at different points tonight. Mr. Cummings will address meetings in Old Fellows hall, Bridge street, and the Centralville Social club, Alken street, tonight. Ex-Mayor Casey will address a meeting in the Lyon street school this evening.

Ex-Alderman Cosgrove Active
Daniel Cosgrove, candidate for the democratic nomination for the office of chief of the supply department, opened his campaign yesterday afternoon by holding a rousing meeting which was attended by about 200 enthusiastic democrats who represented every ward in the city. Of course, the majority of the voters present were representatives of the democratic wards, but there was a good representation of democrats from the republican wards and the latter were as enthusiastic as their brothers from the democratic wards.

Candidate Cosgrove made a very brief speech and refrained from throwing bouquets at himself, but the speaker who followed for the same office and at city hall, stating that it was clean, healthy criticism and that his acts had been approved by the voters throughout the city, both democrats and republicans.

The fact was also brought out that the first year that Mr. Cosgrove aspired for political honors he was elected to the common council to represent ward four. The following year a very unusual thing happened. Mr. Cosgrove, instead of seeking a second term for the lower board, aspired to higher honors and was elected to the board of aldermen. His acts while in the upper board were of such a character as to secure for him at the next town election the entire strength of the democratic party and a good portion of the republican party and as a result he received the highest vote ever given a man far any position in the city of Lowell.

Mr. Cosgrove said there were three other candidates seeking the democratic nomination for the same office and that there should be no mud-slinging or knocking; also that after the primaries it was the duty of the members of the democratic party to support the democratic nominee, whether it be himself or one of the other candidates. Several strong speeches were made in advocacy of his nomination.

Mr. Brown's Replies
Candidate George H. Brown was about yesterday speaking in husky tones, the effect of the campaign of out-door speaking, but he believed that by resting yesterday he would be in shape for today's strenuous work. "My voice holds out," said Mr. Brown. "I shall make 25 speeches during the week. He will address the employees of the American Hide and Leather company at the tannery gate this noon. This evening at 7.30 o'clock Mr. Brown will speak at the corner of Bridge street and Lakeview avenue. At 7.45 he will address his fellow-citizens from in front of Sparks' drug store, corner of Lakeview avenue and Little Canada and will make a speech there."

The League's Ticket
The local independence league have nominated the following municipal ticket: For mayor—William Zimmerman, 31 Pine street, merchant, 28 Middle street; Chief of department of supplies—William H. Brown, printer, 171 Fort Hill avenue; Alderman—Joseph F. Ashton, textile worker, 24 Prescott street; William Domondio Ring, attorney at law, 55 White street; Frank M. Bell, painter and decorator, corner 44 Carlton street; Hugh Gallagher, stationery, Freeman; Pollard street; Robert Hartley, merchant, 51 White street; Joseph Plan, carpenter, 301 West Sixth street; William H. Williams, merchant, 203 Sun-

FOUND DEAD
COHASSET MAN DIED IN BOSTON HOTEL
BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Thomas E. Keefe of Cohasset, a railroad telegrapher, was found dead yesterday afternoon in his room at the Revere house, with gas flowing from two open jets. Medical Examiner Magrath said it was apparently a deliberately planned suicide.

3000 FARMERS TO HOLD MEETING IN WASHINGTON WEDNESDAY
WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Three thousand farmers, hailing from thirty states, will meet in this city on Wednesday next, when the national grange patrons of husbandry assemble for their forty-second annual convention. The convention will be significant as bearing upon the financial, social and educational advancement of the farmer, and will bring together a distinguished gathering, comprising those who are foremost in the farming industry in the United States.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL
Chevalier-Middlesex lodge, 2, K. of P., met Friday night. A large delegation was present. Frank Griffin was in the chair and a large amount of business was transacted, after which whist was enjoyed. Next Friday evening steamed clams will be served. All members are invited.

ERVIN E. SMITH 47-49 Market Street
Number 45
We do not have to cut prices in our store 25 or 50 per cent. to sell goods. We buy large quantities direct from the manufacturers and set our prices lower than the lowest. We lead, others follow.

Furniture Polish 9c, worth 25c	Dust Brushes... 18c, worth 25c
Scrub Brushes... 3c, worth 5c	Carpenters' Pencils 2c, worth 5c
Nail Sets... ..7c, worth 10c

INVERTED GAS LAMPS, 49c, Worth $1.00.
Window Brushes 42c, worth 60c
Brooms... ..19c, worth 25c
Tack Hammers... 7c, worth 15c

GAS MANTLES, 7c, Worth 15c.
Can Openers... 5c, worth 10c
Garment Hangers 3c, worth 5c
Hand Saws... ..39c, worth 50c

WASHING MACHINES $2.89, Worth $5.00
Scissors and Shears, 5 to 8 in. 14c, worth 30c
Best Steel Shears, 6 to 8 in. 49c, worth 75c
2-blade Pocket Knives, 15c, worth 30c

6-5-4-STOVE POLISH, 15c, Worth 25c
Lanterns... ..42c, worth 60c
Axle Grease... ..8c, worth 15c
Boys' Axes... ..59c, worth 85c
Wood Faucets... 7c, worth 10c
Sponges... ..19c, worth 35c
Stove Clay... ..17c, worth 25c

1 blade Pocket Knives 10c worth 25c	Kitchen Sets, five knives 79c, worth $1.00
Putty Knives... 9c, worth 15c

SMITH'S, 47-49 MARKET ST.

MAN LEFT IN JAIL

Awaiting Trial That Had Been Abandoned

Probation Officer Ramsey recently unearthed an interesting case which illustrates two important matters, one the peculiarity of the law relative to paternity cases, and the other how soon and how easily a foreigner coming to this country may become a public charge.

About the 15th of last May a young woman who had been in Lowell but two years had a fellow-countryman, also of youthful age, arrested on a paternity warrant. Both came from the continent of Europe. As is well known to lawyers and those familiar with such cases, the man arrested on such a charge has about one chance in one hundred of clearing himself, even if innocent. The girl had no counsel nor had the accused, and on the 29th day of last May the man was committed to jail, unable to give a bond to the complainant.

Now such cases, though first appearing in the police court, are not ranked as criminal but as civil cases, and while in a criminal case the defendant is called to trial by the government at stated intervals, in a civil case the defendant does not have to answer in court until the complainant gets ready to call the case against him. Before the late Gov. Greenhalge became a member of the legislature the law was such that a man sent to jail on a paternity charge would have to remain there until the complainant called him into court, and if the complainant showed no disposition to have the case brought up, the unfortunate would remain in jail for an indefinite period. A case of this evident injustice came to the attention of Gov. Greenhalge, and he got an amendment of the existing law through the legislature to the effect that if a case should ever arise where the defendant was kept in jail awaiting trial for more than a reasonable length of time the probation officer or keeper of the jail could notify the district attorney and he in turn would present a petition to the court to have the complainant come into court and show why the case should not be disposed of.

Recently Probation Officer Slattery discovered the unfortunate man in jail, and upon learning that he had been in since last May immediately notified District Attorney Higgins, who sent the necessary petition to the court. The latter promptly instructed the clerk to send an order to the complainant to come into court. Then the difficulty arose as to where to find the complainant, who had no counsel in court and was not known to the police.

Mr. Ramsey then accepted his gratuitous position as "poor man's counsel," and started out to find the woman. After a search he located her, and learned that she had no child where she was living and had no intention of prosecuting the case any further. He continued his investigation and learned that the child had been born at the state hospital at Tewksbury and had been abandoned by the mother and left to the tender mercies of the state. Happily for all concerned, however, the child passed away on Saturday. Mr. Ramsey had thought of having the mother and child sent back to their native land, but the death of the child and the fact that the mother has gone back to work made this move unnecessary. He then returned to the mother who stated that she had no intention of prosecuting the man any further, but did not know how to proceed to allow his release. Accordingly, Mr. Ramsey reported back to the authorities, and this afternoon the young man was taken from jail to the superior court on a writ of habeas corpus, and discharged from custody.

HISTORIC LANDMARK

Old Asa Pollard House at Billerica Burned

The historic Asa Pollard house in Billerica, just beyond the Fordway bridge, was destroyed by fire early Saturday evening. The house was famous because of the fact that it was on the estate of Asa Pollard, the first Continental soldier to fall at the battle of Bunker Hill on June 17, 1775, and was one of the most prominent landmarks in connection with the early battles of the revolution. The cause of the fire is unknown.

The large barn in the rear of the house which was well stocked with hay, was saved as were a pair of horses and eight cows, but the fire on the house had such a headway before it was discovered that all efforts to save the building were fruitless. The barn caught fire several times from flying sparks and brands, but through the efforts of the firemen and neighbors who were attracted to the scene the barn was well protected.

The fire had its origin in a shed in the rear of the house and quickly communicated to the main building. As soon as the blaze was discovered the fire alarms were sounded in the North and Centre villages and the departments were promptly in responding. The North Billerica department was first on the scene and Engineer O'Toole saw at a glance that there was no hope to save the house inasmuch as the blaze had spread rapidly and the lumber in the building was exceedingly dry, making good food for the flames.

Attention was immediately directed to the barn. Sparks from the burning house were showering on the roof of the barn and from time to time a fire would start in the shingles, but a line of hose or a couple of extinguishers operated by the firemen extinguished the fires on the different parts of the roof.

At one time the blaze got into the hay in the loft of the barn and for a time it looked as though the building was doomed, but a couple of streams of water soon extinguished the fire.

The house burned like tinder and the blaze cast a reflection on the sky that could be seen for many miles. The house was completely gutted and nothing remains but the walls of the structure. A few chairs were the only articles of furniture saved.

The house was owned by J. Henry Call and was tenanted by James A. Ruth and family, with whom Mr. Call boarded. None of the Ruth family was in the house at the time the fire started, both Mr. Ruth and his wife being in the barn in the rear. The Ruths lost practically all of their furniture, upon which there was no insurance.

Mr. Call was in Windham, N. H., at the time, but he was immediately notified of the fire and started at once for Billerica.

Searchers among the ruins yesterday afternoon discovered a blackened cigar box with $65 in bills stuck to the bottom of it. The box was found near that part of the building which was occupied by Mr. Call and the money belonged to him. The bills were water soaked, showing that the box must have come in contact with one of the streams of water that the firemen played upon the flames.

The original building of which the ruin is said to have been a part was erected over 200 years ago. According to the history of Billerica the estate was acquired by Thomas Pollard, who came to Billerica about 1692, purchased the place and "right" which had been

William Hale's, near the fordway, and received in 1708 a grant of 30 acres between the road to the fordway and the road which turns east from it.

Asa, his grandson, the first to fall at Bunker Hill, was born in 1733. A stone placed by the Billerica Historical society several years ago, with a suitable inscription marks the spot.

CUT EXPENSES

In the Assessing Dept. in Boston

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Declaring that the number of employees in the assessing department of the city of Boston is excessive, and that the antiquated method of doing business is extravagant, the finance commission yesterday issued its report covering an investigation of the department through a term of 13 years. Recommendations are made which, it is claimed, will save the city $61,000 a year.

The commission finds that from one-half to three-fourths of the citizens escape paying poll taxes, and that the cost of assessing and collecting is $115,000, or more than the poll tax receipts. Extravagant pay, from $8.50 to $14 a day, is paid copying clerks, when typewriters might be employed at much less expense, it is further claimed.

The commission recommends that a system be devised to do away with duplication of work in assessing polls, that the work of recording poll taxes be simplified and the payment of the polls be enforced; that the number of assessors be reduced from nine to five, and salaries and the number of employees be reduced.

FUNERALS

QUINN—The funeral of the late Thomas Quinn took place yesterday afternoon from his home, 7 Hampton avenue, Walker street, and was largely attended by friends and relatives. Among the many floral tributes were a large wreath, Misses Fitzgerald, Coolidge and Bromley; palms, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Giblin; mammoth of roses, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Coffin, from fellow workmen. The bearers were Thomas and Maurice Hannifin, Roger Hayes, Cornelius Hart, Michael Donovan and Jeremiah Hayes. At the grave Rev. John McHugh read the committal prayers and the burial was in the Catholic cemetery in charge of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Co.

ROBINSON—The funeral of the late Gertrude F. Robinson was held Saturday afternoon from her home, 127 Powell street. Rev. George F. Kennigott conducted the services, and Miss Nettie Studley sang "Face to Face" and "Jesus Wipes Our Tears Away." The bearers were A. R. Coffin, A. A. Ludwig, H. M. Fox and W. S. Stanley. The burial in the Edison cemetery was in charge of Undertaker George Healey. The body reclined in a perfect bed of flowers among which was a large pillow inscribed "Baby" from the family and Mr. Herbert Butler; a beautiful wreath from Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Wiley and Miss S. A. Hope; wreath, Miss Catherine Thomas; sprays chrysanthemums, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Crawford, Beta Sigma club, Miss O. E. Colton, Miss Grace Blood; sprays of pinks, Miss E. B. Bennison, Misses P. Peabody and E. Martel, Mrs. S. M. Patterson and family; sprays of roses, Mrs. M. J. Coffin and son, Miss Mildred Hutchins, and a large basket of pinks, Mr. A. M. Holman and family.

SMITH—The funeral of Mrs. Rose C. Smith, who passed away at the Old Ladies Home, took place yesterday afternoon from the home of Robert E. Foster, 216 Thorndike street. Services were conducted by Rev. B. A. Willmet, pastor of the First Congregational church, and there were singing by Mrs. George Burns. The bearers were J. W. Griffin, E. W. Fletcher, C. Worden and J. H. Kimball. Burial was in the family lot in the Lowell cemetery under the direction of the J. B. Currier Co.

FINNEGAN—The funeral of Dennis Finnegan took place yesterday afternoon from the home of his niece, Mrs. James Dean, 21 Lundberg street, and was largely attended by relatives and friends of the deceased. The funeral services were held at the Sacred Heart church where the "Libera" for the dead was read by Rev. Bernard Fletcher, O. M. I. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery where the body was tenderly laid to rest in the family lot. The bearers were Thomas Mahan, James Sheehan, Daniel Finnegan, Thomas Lynch and Eugene Dean of this city, and John Finnegan of Milford, N. H. The funeral was attended by out-of-town friends from Milford, N. H., Providence, R. I., New York city and Haverhill, Mass. The arrangements were under the direction of Undertaker John A. Finnegan.

HOVEY—The funeral of J. W. Hovey took place yesterday afternoon from his home, 4 Fifth street. The services were conducted by Rev. F. A. MacDonald, and there was singing by Mr. Lou-

MERCHANTS

You desire prosperity and the patronage of the people, you desire to build up a firm, substantial and successful business in Lowell, and to do so you depend on the masses, do you not? Of course you do. No one can be independent; every one depends on the patronage of those around him.

The Lowell Sun is the people's paper. It is universally read.

Seek the attention of the people through the advertising columns of the people's paper, and prosperity is yours.

The Sun has by far the largest circulation in Lowell. Advertise first of all in The Sun; then in the other papers if you choose.

It is in every respect
LOWELL'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER

is Sweatt and Miss May Whitely, of the West Fifth Street church.

The bearers were Frank J. Clifford, Henry Prescott, William McEvoy and Joseph M. Bowers. Among the many floral offerings were a wreath from Charles Guthrie and son; sprays, Mr. and Mrs. Peter C. Leclaire, George and William McEvoy; James S. Hovey, Miss Marion Hovey, Philip Hovey, Mrs. A. O. Austin, George D. Mahoney; wreaths, O'Donnell Brothers, Martin Peabody, and wreaths from other friends.

Burial was in the family lot in the Hillside cemetery under direction of the J. B. Currier Co.

REED—The funeral of Frank C. Reed took place Sunday afternoon from the home of his sister, Mrs. William McCabe, 653 Broadway, the Rev. Arthur P. Wedge officiating. The bearers were Charles Taylor, James B. Taylor, Frank Vaughn and Charles Neal. Burial was in the Edison cemetery, C. M. Young in charge. Among the floral tributes were a large pillow from the family; spray of purple chrysanthemums from Mr. and Mrs. Charles Neuhumms from James B. Taylor; spray of yellow chrysanthemums from friends.

PERRY—The funeral of Manuel Perry took place Saturday afternoon from his late home, 85 Gorham street. Funeral services were held at St. Anthony's church, Rev. Fr. Rosa officiating. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery in charge of Undertakers M. H. McDonough & Sons.

FELTON—Mrs. Henry F. Felton, formerly Mrs. Eli W. Hoyt, died Saturday night at her home, 385 Andover street, aged 70 years. Mrs. Felton had been ill for about two years, and while her death was not unexpected, it brought sorrow to a large circle of friends. Mrs. Felton had lived in Lowell over 50 years and was an attendant of the First Trinitarian church up to the time of her illness. Beside her husband, she leaves a sister, Mrs. Ellen Kane of Milwaukee.

DEATHS

SLATTERY—Mrs. Mary A. Slattery, widow of the late Patrick Slattery, died Saturday morning at her late home, 47 Percy street, Dorchester. She was a former resident of this city and a well known and highly respected member of St. Patrick's church. She leaves three daughters, Mary A. and Elizabeth Slattery of Dorchester and Mrs. William Mahoney of Lowell, and one grandchild Miss Lettie Mahoney of Lowell. She was a well known member of Gardfield colony, Pilgrim Fathers of this city.

BUCKLEY—Mrs. Alice Buckley died at her home in North Billerica, yesterday afternoon, at the age of 59 years, 4 months. She leaves, besides her husband, William Buckley, three daughters, Mrs. William Cooper of England, Mrs. Henry Brown and Mrs. Thomas Ellis of Billerica; and three sons, Joseph and Frank of Lawrence, and William of Maynard. Mrs. Buckley was a member of the Daughters of St. George.

BRUNELLE—John Roland Brunelle, infant son of Archibald and Aulogie Brunelle, died last night at the home of his parents, 43 Beaver street, aged four months and 16 days.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Louis Sergerie of Nashua and Miss Maria Begin of this city were married yesterday at St. Joseph's rectory, where the ceremony was performed at 2 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Baron, O. M. I. Messrs. Benjamin J. Begin, an uncle of the bride, and Charles Begin, her brother, were the witnesses. Later in the afternoon, a dinner was served at the home of Mr. Charles Begin, 54 First street, and Mr. and Mrs. Sergerie left in the evening for a honeymoon trip to be enjoyed in Canada. They will reside in Nashua.

THE VANDERBILT CUP PRESENTATION

The automobile editor of The Sun is in receipt of an invitation from the Vanderbilt Cup commission to be present at the Automobile Club of America, Fifty-fourth street, New York city, on Thursday evening, to witness the formal presentation of the William K. Vanderbilt Jr. trophy to the winning Locomobile.

ROLLER POLO LEAGUE

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 8.—At a meeting of the directors of the National Roller Polo League yesterday, the franchise of the Salem, Mass., club was declared vacated, that club having disbanded last week. Of the players Fahey was assigned to Worcester and Jason to Brockton to strengthen those teams and the sale of Higgins to Fall River was confirmed.

A BIRTHDAY PARTY

A most delightful birthday party was held Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Richardson of Chase street in honor of their two children, Edith and Arthur. Refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. John Nolan and numerous games and songs were enjoyed until a late hour.

A. G. POLLARD COMP'Y

The Store for Thrifty People

Rummage Sale Offerings

In Our House Furnishings Department

Household Articles Almost Given Away

This is more than a usual clearance sale, for we have dug out every corner and shelf of this basement, finding the little lots that would ordinarily come to your notice in January sales. We have made such unheard-of price cuttings as to tempt the closest shopper or thinnest pocketbook.

For 1c—Articles worth 3c to 10c
For 2c—Articles worth 5c to 10c.
For 5c—Articles worth 10 to 25c.
For 10c—Articles worth 20c to 40c.
For 15c—Articles worth 25c to 50c.
For 20c—Articles worth 38c.
For 25c—Articles worth 35c to $1.50.
For 38c—Articles worth 75c.
For 50c—Articles worth $1.00 to $1.75.
For $1.50—Wash Boilers worth $2.10 and $2.25.
For $2.00—Wash Boilers worth $3.00 and $3.75.
The list includes Bone Dishes (decorated), Bird Cage Hooks, Bluing, Clothes Baskets, Baking

Tins, Covered Butter Dishes, Individual Butters, Cake Plates (decorated), Covered Vegetable Dishes, Coffee Boilers (tin and enameled), Clothes Lines, Coffee Cans, Coffee Caddies, Children's Mugs, Celery Trays, Chocolate Pots (decorated), Egg Separators, Fruit Dishes (nickel), "Home" Package Dyes, Gas Check or "By Pass," Ice Cream Freezers, Kitchen Knife-and-Fork Sets, Oil Cloth Binding (zinc), Preserving Kettles (tin), Pictures, Paper Racks or Wall Pockets, Pudding Dishes (nickel), Tissue Paper, Soap Dishes (decorated), Wash Benches, Wash Boards, Wash Boilers, Wash Tubs, etc. The lots are small and the prices exceedingly low.

BE SURE TO VISIT THIS SALE

Merrimack Street

READY TODAY

Basement

A Great Dress Goods Value is Ready For You

SPECIAL SALE OF DRESS GOODS

Over 25,000 Yards

Of MILL ENDS at practically half the regular price. Panama, Sicilian, Barathea, Diagonals, full 36 inches wide, all colors and white. Regular price 50c. ONLY 25c A YARD
Brilliantines, Serges, Nuns Veilings, Granite Weaves, full 50 inches wide, blacks, whites, blues, every color. Regular price 75c ONLY 39c A YARD

Lengths from One to Ten Yards

Palmer Street

Right Aisle

A Special Demonstration

—of this—

PREPARED PUDDING

A Special Demonstration of this PREPARED PUDDING will be held in our Tea and Coffee Section all this week. Free samples will be served. You are invited to come and share.

Merrimack Street

Basement

"ALL READY ALL THE TIME."

A SUIT REDUCTION

That Means Something

$18.50 Suits at $10.98

We have taken 20 SUITS from our $18.50 and $15.00 reels and will offer these few SUITS at the ridiculously low price of $10.98. There are just 20 SUITS in all, and there will be no more, so if you want one of these SUITS be on hand early. Three splendid styles of Plain and Fancy Striped Suitings, full satin-lined coats. These SUITS are taken out of our stock and are not cheap suits bought for this sale.

Our Entire Stock of MODEL SUITS has been reduced 15 per cent. and 25 per cent. reductions on some of these SUITS.

ALTERATIONS FREE

$1.25 Wrappers - - 98c

COME IN WHILE THE ASSORTMENT IS GOOD

Cloak Department

Second Floor

BASEMENT BARGAIN DEPT.

ON SALE TODAY

2500 YARDS OF FINE WOOL CHALLIES WITH SATIN STRIPE

Just received from the mill one case of those FINE WOOL CHALLIE REMNANTS, plain colors and figured, with fancy woven satin stripes, very handsome material for waists, etc, made to retail at 50c a yard. Our Price 29c yd.

FIVE BALES OF VERY FINE UNBLEACHED COTTON

We have closed out from the mill man a small lot of VERY FINE BROWN SHEETING, 40 inches wide, for Pillow Cases and Sheets. Cotton easily bleached, remnants two yards to 15 yards long, sold on the piece at 11c yard. We offer it at Half Price. 5 1-2c yd.

FOR TODAY ONLY

10 DOZEN BED COMFORTERS

In order to reduce our stock of $2.00 COMFORTERS, we offer them at a special price Monday. COMFORTERS extra long and regular size, covered with fine silkolins, medium and dark colors, filled with pure white sanitary batting, with fancy stitching, nice, light and fluffy, $2.00 value At $1.39 each

ON SALE THIS EVENING AT 7 O'CLOCK

75 DOZEN MEN'S JERSEY FLEECE UNDERWEAR

As a special attraction in our Men's Department, we offer 75 dozen MEN'S 50c JERSEY RIBBED UNDERWEAR at almost half price. Very heavy garments with thick wool fleece and made of Egyptian combed yarn. Eoru Shirts with French neckband, sateen facing and pearl buttons. Drawers are made with reinforced gusset, strong sateen waistband. Garments sold all over New England at 50c each. We have Shirts and Drawers in all sizes. 29c each

TONIGHT AT 7 O'CLOCK

Hello! Hello!

Give me a sack of flour please—
No—that's wrong
Give me

GOLD MEDAL FLOUR

WASHBURN-CROSBY'S

FOR SALE BY YOUR GROCER THE VERY HIGHEST QUALITY

REV. MR. FISHER

Talks on Men and the Election Results

Governor Hughes He Considers Leading Figure in Political Life Today—Labor Vote Can't Be Delivered

"After Election Lessons: What Can be Done for the Common Good?" was the subject of Rev. C. E. Fisher's Sunday night sermon at the First Universalist church. Mr. Fisher said he did not believe in all of the policies of President Roosevelt. He looked upon Mr. Roosevelt's advocacy of strong armies and navies as an argument for the useless expenditure of public money, and he alleged that Mr. Bryan had tried to excite class hatred. He said it was impossible nowadays to deliver the labor vote, and he thanked God for it. He paid his respects to the trusts and said he considered Gov. Charles E. Hughes of New York the leading figure in American life today. He said in part:

"The time has come when the common people must be considered. I thought as I looked over my ballot last Tuesday and saw the number of presidential candidates, that if we could take the grain of truth from each one of them and put those grains all in one man, what a wonderful man and candidate we would have. You all will agree that the social life of America needs toning up. It is slowly coming to the time when the process will begin in earnest. And the time will come, too, when presidential candidates won't have to go out on the stump looking for votes. I don't believe the candidates in this last election influenced very many people to change their votes. People are thinking for themselves. The day of the torchlight and the brass band, as persuaders, has gone.

"The great question was asked and answered by one of the candidates for president in this last election: 'Do the people rule?' I will answer it: 'Yes' and 'No.' The people, when aroused, will assert their right to rule. In matters of mere routine they show little interest in ruling for themselves. If you impose on the people a little, they will rule for themselves. Men of character and righteousness will come to the front in politics. We have some of them today. Money isn't all there is in life, for some men, neither is political office, although it would seem to be in Lowell just now, when there are so many men aspiring for petty offices. There are men today in public life who would stand by a principle to their last breath, men that money could no more touch or swerve from a purpose than a gale of wind could change their minds.

REV. CALLEB E. FISHER.

"I don't believe in all of the policies of Theodore Roosevelt, but I do believe he is honest and righteous to the core. He is a strong, sturdy man, a man who does as he believes right. 'The men we need are the men who hold in their power good and who will spread that good about. There are many men who might do much good in the world, who consider themselves doing much if they keep themselves free from taint.

"Now, Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States, has advocated vast armaments, has advocated strong armies and navies. This I consider nothing short of a waste of public

RAY LAMPHERE

GUNNESS MURDER

The Prisoner, Lawyer and the Victims

can't run men in today by the halter, into religion or anything else.

"I will tell you that when a man toils day, works hard, exhausts his body, and then receives only remuneration enough to pay for what he eats, and his clothing, there is something radically wrong. Man was never made to work like that and to live like that. There's got to be something besides mere talk of abolishing the trusts. No trust has gone out of business, as far as I can learn, despite the vast amount of talk about putting them out. You've got to do more than talk; you've got to act. There is something in the hearts of men which won't stand abuse; that something is righteousness. I have nothing against trusts, only as they affect the common good, and when they do, then I believe in abolishing them."

In conclusion, Mr. Fisher said that he considered the leading figure in American life today to be Gov. Charles E. Hughes of New York. He considered him a big man, a man of absolute integrity, with righteousness as the basis for his acts.

THE DUKE

WILL NOT COMMAND UNTIL MAJOR REAR ADMIRAL

TUREN, Nov. 9.—The Duke of the Abruzzi, in conversation yesterday, jokingly said that he would not go to the United States nor on a cruise on the battleship Regina Elena, which, therefore, would not be under his command on her next voyage. This confirms the official statement that the duke will not again take command until after his promotion as rear admiral.

One of the duke's intimate friends said yesterday that seven chances out of ten were favorable to the marriage of the duke to Miss Elkins, but there were three still against it.

7-20-4
10c CIGAR

Actual increase for past nine months two million, sixty-eight thousand. Factory, Manchester, N. H.

AT FIRST BAPTIST

Rev. S. W. Cummings on "Secret of Life"

Rev. Selden W. Cummings, pastor of the First Baptist church in Amherst, N. S., occupied the pulpit at the First Baptist church in this city yesterday. In the evening he preached on "The Secret of Life." In part he said:

"What is the secret of life? True life is not power. Otherwise the palaces of the Caesars would not be in ruins. Life is not money. O the desirability of riches! Intellectual power or capacity is not life. Lord Byron was one of the greatest geniuses of his age, but on account of his dissipation he died an old man at 36. The man who follows the instruction of the text has found the secret of life. It bears our relation to man and to God. How shall a man 'do justly'? It is to live on the square, to so live, to so transact his business that he can look into his neighbor's eye and not flinch. To so live that he will not take advantage of another man even in trading horses. 'To Show Mercy.' The original word comprised the idea of forgiveness and compassion. When Christ looked on a man or a woman and had compassion on him or her his very life went out and for the time being he was that person. In our relation to our fellow-man the secret of life is to do justly and to love mercy on the other side, the secret of life toward God is to walk humbly before him. This is to live so that we become subject to him, until what he wants we do and we strive constantly to serve him. God made this world and all that therein is. He made us and to walk with him is to know that fact and to be in proper relation with him. From the power house of God there should come to us strength to be and to do. That power is given at the disposal of the weakest child of his. We can come into this relation with God through Jesus Christ. I can find no other way revealed by which we can come unto the father. Christ wants to touch your life. He wants to mend that broken life of yours. If you will let him, you will solve the secret of life."

STOLE JEWELRY

Thieves Made Big Haul in New York

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—With the ray of a burglar's dark lantern shining in their eyes and two revolvers held by masked men covering them, the five members of the family of Charles E. Tayntor, a wealthy granite dealer, lay in bed in the Tayntor home at Borough Park, Brooklyn, for more than an hour yesterday morning while a world of jewelry and silverware, then the burglars' haul, Mr. Tayntor's hand and foot and escaped with their booty. Mr. Tayntor, who has a number of rich granite quarries in New England, is known as a crack shot. It is believed that the burglars knew this and took no chances with him. The three men gained entrance to the house by breaking a window on the ground floor. The burglar who was ransacking the room found in a bureau and two wedding rings in a bureau and was about to take them, when Mr. Tayntor asked him not to. The burglar replied that he would take everything of value he could find. Then one of the burglars standing guard over the family spoke up: "Don't take these wedding rings. I am a married man, and have some sentiment about wedding rings," he said.

CITY OF MANILA

REPORTED TO BE FREE FROM CHOLERA

MANILA, Nov. 9.—The Merchants' association of this city has issued the following statement:

"Manila is reported by the health authorities to be practically free of cholera. Since Nov. 1, in a population of nearly one-quarter of a million, one case only has occurred. These cases were found in outlying districts not usually visited by whites. The investigation proved to be of a very light character. Since its beginning in the month of July there were only 22 cases among the white people. Of these but ten proved fatal. There was not a single case among the 12,000 city school children.

"Soldiers from Fort McKinley and sailors from the Asiatic squadron are now entering the city freely and the citizens are anxious that Rear Admiral Sperry will permit them to carry out the plans for the reception of the Atlantic battleship fleet. If these plans are not carried out, it is feared that a false and harmful impression will be given to the world of the sanitary condition of Manila, which unquestionably is better than any other city in the Orient and probably is unequalled by any large city of the world."

LIKE FINDING IT.

We've had bargains before, we've had soap bargains before, but nothing like our present offering, and we do not believe that its equal has ever been shown in Lowell. Venetian Violet soap, a pure, perfumed toilet soap, comes in a box at 10c a box. Remember this offer is for this one lot only and may last but a few weeks. Head, the druggist, 197 Central Street.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of J. C. Watson

HUGH J. MOLLOY

Of the State Normal School Faculty

TELLS WHAT IS WORTH WHILE IN THE SCHOOLS

Methods Are Only Incidental—The Children Are Worth While—True Education Will Work Out All Problems of the Nation

Mr. Hugh J. Molloy of the State Normal school was the speaker at the Elliot Congregational church Sunday night. It was the first of a series of three sermons for young people. The general theme of the course is "What is Worth While?"

Mr. Molloy said that the question, "What is worth while in the schools?" he considered a more appropriate one to ask. "The great questions that are now being debated," he said, "will not be settled by the men and women of today, but by the boys and girls now in the schools. That is the serious question, in connection with the consideration of what is worth while in the schools, that through these boys and girls now growing up in the schools, the great questions of the republic are to be settled.

"Changes may be made in the curriculums of the schools, new methods devised and adopted; but the essentials, the fundamentals of the training of children, will not be materially changed. The best things in life are as old as the race itself. The finest

PROF. HUGH J. MOLLOY.

STOLE JEWELRY

Thieves Made Big Haul in New York

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—With the ray of a burglar's dark lantern shining in their eyes and two revolvers held by masked men covering them, the five members of the family of Charles E. Tayntor, a wealthy granite dealer, lay in bed in the Tayntor home at Borough Park, Brooklyn, for more than an hour yesterday morning while a world of jewelry and silverware, then the burglars' haul, Mr. Tayntor's hand and foot and escaped with their booty. Mr. Tayntor, who has a number of rich granite quarries in New England, is known as a crack shot. It is believed that the burglars knew this and took no chances with him. The three men gained entrance to the house by breaking a window on the ground floor. The burglar who was ransacking the room found in a bureau and two wedding rings in a bureau and was about to take them, when Mr. Tayntor asked him not to. The burglar replied that he would take everything of value he could find. Then one of the burglars standing guard over the family spoke up: "Don't take these wedding rings. I am a married man, and have some sentiment about wedding rings," he said.

The ring were left, but two toy banks belonging to Charles and Harold, the Tayntor boys, were broken and rifled of $17. The boys cried and were ordered to be quiet. When the room had been completely searched the third robber went down stairs and piled up the silverware. He later returned to the bedside and commanded Mr. Tayntor to give up a $500 ring he wore.

The ring would not come off, so one of the burglars grimly drew a jack knife and was going to cut Mr. Tayntor's finger off. Mr. Tayntor protested and asked permission to go to the bathroom and soak the ring off with soap and water.

"We will do that ourselves," said the man who appeared to be the leader of the trio, and he did forthwith. After this the leader lifted Mr. Tayntor's pillow and found a revolver under it. He laughed and dropped the weapon into his pocket. Then the three men produced a rope and bound Mr. Tayntor's hands and feet. They ordered him not to make an outcry for fifteen minutes, saying one of their number would remain on guard that length of time. They then hurried away. The telephone wires had been cut and an hour elapsed before Mr. Tayntor could notify the police. He was able to give a perfect description of the trio, but this will hardly be of any assistance as the burglars were all dressed alike and wore masks. The burglars wore black suits, black derby hats, kid gloves and white masks. They wore wooden clogs over their shoes.

Mr. Tayntor believes one of the men was a neighbor, and the fact that the men wore gloves would seem to indicate this.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 9.—John W. Kern, defeated democratic candidate vice president, announced last night that he is a candidate for United States senator to succeed James A. Henderson. The incoming Indiana legislature will be democratic on joint ballot by a majority of 18.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 9.—John W. Kern, defeated democratic candidate vice president, announced last night that he is a candidate for United States senator to succeed James A. Henderson. The incoming Indiana legislature will be democratic on joint ballot by a majority of 18.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 9.—John W. Kern, defeated democratic candidate vice president, announced last night that he is a candidate for United States senator to succeed James A. Henderson. The incoming Indiana legislature will be democratic on joint ballot by a majority of 18.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 9.—John W. Kern, defeated democratic candidate vice president, announced last night that he is a candidate for United States senator to succeed James A. Henderson. The incoming Indiana legislature will be democratic on joint ballot by a majority of 18.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 9.—John W. Kern, defeated democratic candidate vice president, announced last night that he is a candidate for United States senator to succeed James A. Henderson. The incoming Indiana legislature will be democratic on joint ballot by a majority of 18.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 9.—John W. Kern, defeated democratic candidate vice president, announced last night that he is a candidate for United States senator to succeed James A. Henderson. The incoming Indiana legislature will be democratic on joint ballot by a majority of 18.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 9.—John W. Kern, defeated democratic candidate vice president, announced last night that he is a candidate for United States senator to succeed James A. Henderson. The incoming Indiana legislature will be democratic on joint ballot by a majority of 18.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 9.—John W. Kern, defeated democratic candidate vice president, announced last night that he is a candidate for United States senator to succeed James A. Henderson. The incoming Indiana legislature will be democratic on joint ballot by a majority of 18.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 9.—John W. Kern, defeated democratic candidate vice president, announced last night that he is a candidate for United States senator to succeed James A. Henderson. The incoming Indiana legislature will be democratic on joint ballot by a majority of 18.

QUALITY IS THE TEST

Lawn Tea Aprons with ruffle and pocket, only 300 at

2 for 25c

Gowns of good flannel, pretty stripes or plain white, good width and length, the kind that are always sold for 98c, now 69c

For the benefit of those unable to attend our Thursday sales, we will offer, just for today, some 25c and 29c Corset Covers and Aprons 19c

For a few days we will sell the 49c Corset Covers we are selling for 29c,

2 for 50c

Ecru and Black Lace Waists, formerly priced up to $2.98, new styles never shown $1.50 before at

$3.50 Lace Waists, $2.97 now reduced to

$4.50 Lace Waists, now reduced to $3.97

Lawn Tea Aprons with wide edge of pretty embroidery, and larger Aprons with embroidery insertion, the usual 49c grades, today 29c

The White Store

114—Merrimack St.—116

MILLS BURNED

PRINCIPAL INDUSTRY AT EAST MACHIAS WIPED OUT

MACHIAS, Me., Nov. 9.—The principal industry of the town of East Machias has been wiped out by two fires, both apparently of incendiary origin, which have destroyed the mills of the East Machias Lumber company. The steam saw and planing mill valued, with its stock, finished and unfinished at $5000, was burned Saturday night, while another mill belonging to the same company was burned several months ago.

The mill destroyed Saturday night has been shut down for ten days. It was partly insured.

A SUICIDE

MAN WAS DESPONDENT OVER NERVOUS AFFLICTION

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Walworth H. Tappan, well known in the iron and steel trade of the south and middle-west, and who lived in Louisville, Ky., blew his brains out last night in the washroom of the Hotel Savoy in Fifth avenue. The report of the shot, fired from a large calibre revolver, was heard through the lower part of the hotel and created great excitement. Despondency over a nervous affliction which was constantly growing worse is given by his wife as the cause of Tappan's act. Mrs. Tappan, who came to New York several weeks ago with her husband, said that she had not seen him since Saturday, when he obtained rooms for them in a fashionable boarding house on the upper west side. The police believe that Tappan had been contemplating self-destruction since then.

GETS PRISON SENTENCE

DENVER, Nov. 9.—John Goodwin, president of the defunct State Bank of Rockyford, Colo., was sentenced on Saturday to serve eight or ten years in the state prison. He had been convicted on charges of making unlawful use of the bank's funds and receiving deposits after he knew the bank to be insolvent.

KING'S BIRTHDAY HONORS

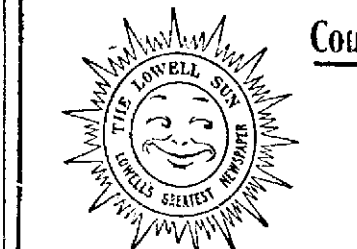

LONDON, Nov. 9.—A long list of the king's birthday honors was issued yesterday. The honors are bestowed mainly as rewards for political and public service at home and in the colonies. Sir Edward Clarke, the former solicitor general, is made a privy councillor. Alfred Russell Wallace is given the Order of Merit, while George J. Brampton, the sculptor, is knighted.

WALKED TO MUD POND

The Knights of King Arthur, of the First Congregational church, went for a tramp with their pastor Saturday. They went to Mud pond, where they enjoyed luncheon under the pines. A football game, played by two scrub teams, furnished lots of excitement and fun. The boys tramped back to Varnum avenue in the cool of the evening.

Count That Day Lost

WHOSE low descending sun goes down upon that vacant house, when a small To Let ad in THE SUN would quickly find a tenant. Little cost. Big results.

JELL-O
The Dairy Dessert
PREPARED INSTANTLY. Simply add boiling water, cool and serve. 10c per package at all grocers. 25c for 5 packages at all grocers. 25c for 5 packages at all grocers.

You Can Depend Upon Our Olive Oil
Being Perfectly PURE.
Try our Pure Olive Oil.
GOODALE'S DRUG STORE
Central Cor. Jackson Street.

DR. HICKS' OPTICAL CO.
WYMAN'S EXCH.
50 MARKET STREET, WELLS, MASS.
We do the work of the OCCULIST and OPTICIAN combined. Appointments made by Tel. 1720.

Soda Crackers with crack to them
Soda Crackers with snap to them
Soda Crackers with taste to them

Uneeda Biscuit

Oven-fresh—Oven-crisp—Oven-clean—

5c In dust tight, moisture proof packages. Never sold in bulk.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

WANTED—Situation by young doing work in blacksmith shop; worker. Inquire at 40 Agawam street.

TRAINS TO AND FROM BOSTON

SOUTHERN DIV.				WESTERN DIV.
To	From	To	From	To	From	To	From
Boston	Boston	Boston	Boston	Boston	Boston	Boston	Boston
Lve.	Arr.	Lve.	Arr.	Lve.	Arr.	Lve.	Arr.
5:40	6:30	6:30	7:20	6:50	7:40	7:00	7:50
6:21	7:11	7:51	8:41	7:31	8:21	7:41	8:31
6:44	7:34	8:14	9:04	7:54	8:44	8:04	8:54
6:49	7:39	8:19	9:09	8:09	8:59	8:19	9:09
7:01	7:51	8:31	9:21	8:31	9:21	8:41	9:31
7:22	8:12	8:52	9:42	8:52	9:42	9:02	9:52
7:31	8:21	9:01	9:51	9:01	9:51	9:11	10:01
7:44	8:34	9:14	10:04	9:14	10:04	9:24	10:14
7:58	8:48	9:28	10:18	9:28	10:18	9:38	10:28
8:01	8:51	9:31	10:21	9:31	10:21	9:41	10:31
8:14	9:04	9:44	10:34	9:44	10:34	9:54	10:44
8:28	9:18	9:58	10:48	9:58	10:48	10:08	10:58
8:40	9:30	10:10	11:00	10:10	11:00	10:20	11:10
8:54	9:44	10:24	11:14	10:24	11:14	10:34	11:24
9:01	9:51	10:31	11:21	10:31	11:21	10:41	11:31
9:14	10:04	10:44	11:34	10:44	11:34	10:54	11:44
9:28	10:18	10:58	11:48	10:58	11:48	11:08	11:58
9:40	10:30	11:10	12:00	11:10	12:00	11:20	12:10
9:54	10:44	11:24	12:14	11:24	12:14	11:34	12:24
10:01	10:51	11:31	12:21	11:31	12:21	11:41	12:31
10:14	11:04	11:44	12:34	11:44	12:34	11:54	12:44
10:28	11:18	11:58	12:48	11:58	12:48	12:08	12:58
10:40	11:30	12:10	1:00	12:10	1:00	12:20	1:10
10:54	11:44	12:24	1:14	12:24	1:14	12:34	1:24
11:01	11:51	12:31	1:21	12:31	1:21	12:41	1:31
11:14	12:04	12:44	1:34	12:44	1:34	12:54	1:44
11:28	12:18	12:58	1:48	12:58	1:48	1:08	1:58
11:40	12:30	1:00	2:00	1:00	2:00	1:10	2:10
11:54	12:44	1:14	2:14	1:14	2:14	1:24	2:24
12:01	12:51	1:21	2:21	1:21	2:21	1:31	2:31
12:14	13:04	1:34	2:34	1:34	2:34	1:44	2:44
12:28	13:18	1:48	2:48	1:48	2:48	1:58	2:58
12:40	13:30	1:50	2:50	1:50	2:50	2:00	3:00
12:54	13:44	2:04	3:04	2:04	3:04	2:14	3:14
13:01	13:51	2:11	3:11	2:11	3:11	2:21	3:21
13:14	14:04	2:24	3:24	2:24	3:24	2:34	3:34
13:28	14:18	2:38	3:38	2:38	3:38	2:48	3:48
13:40	14:30	2:50	3:50	2:50	3:50	2:50	3:50
13:54	14:44	3:04	4:04	3:04	4:04	3:14	4:14
14:01	14:51	3:11	4:11	3:11	4:11	3:21	4:21
14:14	15:04	3:24	4:24	3:24	4:24	3:34	4:34
14:28	15:18	3:38	4:38	3:38	4:38	3:48	4:48
14:40	15:30	3:50	4:50	3:50	4:50	4:00	5:00
14:54	15:44	4:04	5:04	4:04	5:04	4:14	5:14
15:01	15:51	4:11	5:11	4:11	5:11	4:21	5:21
15:14	16:04	4:24	5:24	4:24	5:24	4:34	5:34
15:28	16:18	4:38	5:38	4:38	5:38	4:48	5:48
15:40	16:30	4:50	5:50	4:50	5:50	5:00	6:00
15:54	16:44	5:04	6:04	5:04	6:04	5:14	6:14
16:01	16:51	5:11	6:11	5:11	6:11	5:21	6:21
16:14	17:04	5:24	6:24	5:24	6:24	5:34	6:34
16:28	17:18	5:38	6:38	5:38	6:38	5:48	6:48
16:40	17:30	5:50	6:50	5:50	6:50	6:00	7:00
16:54	17:44	6:04	7:04	6:04	7:04	6:14	7:14
17:01	17:51	6:11	7:11	6:11	7:11	6:21	7:21
17:14	18:04	6:24	7:24	6:24	7:24	6:34	7:34
17:28	18:18	6:38	7:38	6:38	7:38	6:48	7:48
17:40	18:30	6:50	7:50	6:50	7:50	7:00	8:00
17:54	18:44	7:04	8:04	7:04	8:04	7:14	8:14
18:01	18:51	7:11	8:11	7:11	8:11	7:21	8:21
18:14	19:04	7:24	8:24	7:24	8:24	7:34	8:34
18:28	19:18	7:38	8:38	7:38	8:38	7:48	8:48
18:40	19:30	7:50	8:50	7:50	8:50	8:00	9:00
18:54	19:44	8:04	9:04	8:04	9:04	8:14	9:14
19:01	19:51	8:11	9:11	8:11	9:11	8:21	9:21
19:14	20:04	8:24	9:24	8:24	9:24	8:34	9:34
19:28	20:18	8:38	9:38	8:38	9:38	8:48	9:48
19:40	20:30	8:50	9:50	8:50	9:50	9:00	10:00
19:54	20:44	9:04	10:04	9:04	10:04	9:14	10:14
20:01	20:51	9:11	10:11	9:11	10:11	9:21	10:21
20:14	21:04	9:24	10:24	9:24	10:24	9:34	10:34
20:28	21:18	9:38	10:38	9:38	10:38	9:48	10:48
20:40	21:30	9:50	10:50	9:50	10:50	10:00	11:00
20:54	21:44	10:04	11:04	10:04	11:04	10:14	11:14
21:01	21:51	10:11	11:11	10:11	11:11	10:21	11:21
21:14	22:04	10:24	11:24	10:24	11:24	10:34	11:34
21:28	22:18	10:38	11:38	10:38	11:38	10:48	11:48
21:40	22:30	10:50	11:50	10:50	11:50	11:00	12:00
21:54	22:44	11:04	12:04	11:04	12:04	11:14	12:14
22:01	22:51	11:11	12:11	11:11	12:11	11:21	12:21
22:14	23:04	11:24	12:24	11:24	12:24	11:34	12:34
22:28	23:18	11:38	12:38	11:38	12:38	11:48	12:48
22:40	23:30	11:50	12:50	11:50	12:50	12:00	1:00
22:54	23:44	12:04	1:04	12:04	1:04	12:14	1:14
23:01	23:51	12:11	1:11	12:11	1:11	12:21	1:21
23:14	24:04	12:24	1:24	12:24	1:24	12:34	1:34
23:28	24:18	12:38	1:38	12:38	1:38	12:48	1:48
23:40	24:30	12:50	1:50	12:50	1:50	1:00	2:00
23:54	24:44	13:04	2:04	13:04	2:04	1:14	2:14
24:01	24:51	13:11	2:11	13:11	2:11	1:21	2:21
24:14	25:04	13:24	2:24	13:24	2:24	1:34	2:34
24:28	25:18	13:38	2:38	13:38	2:38	1:48	2:48
24:40	25:30	13:50	2:50	13:50	2:50	2:00	3:00
24:54	25:44	14:04	3:04	14:04	3:04	2:14	3:14
25:01	25:51	14:11	3:11	14:11	3:11	2:21	3:21
25:14	26:04	14:24	3:24	14:24	3:24	2:34	3:34
25:28	26:18	14:38	3:38	14:38	3:38	2:48	3:48
25:40	26:30	14:50	3:50	14:50	3:50	3:00	4:00
25:54	26:44	15:04	4:04	15:04	4:04	3:14	4:14
26:01	26:51	15:11	4:11	15:11	4:11	3:21	4:21
26:14	27:04	15:24	4:24	15:24	4:24	3:34	4:34
26:28	27:18	15:38	4:38	15:38	4:38	3:48	4:48
26:40	27:30	15:50	4:50	15:50	4:50	4:00	5:00
26:54	27:44	16:04	5:04	16:04	5:04	4:14	5:14
27:01	27:51	16:11	5:11	16:11	5:11	4:21	5:21
27:14	28:04	16:24	5:24	16:24	5:24	4:34	5:34
27:28	28:18	16:38	5:38	16:38	5:38	4:48	5:48
27:40	28:30	16:50	5:50	16:50	5:50	5:00	6:00
27:54	28:44	17:04	6:04	17:04	6:04	5:14	6:14
28:01	28:51	17:11	6:11	17:11	6:11	5:21	6:21
28:14	29:04	17:24	6:24	17:24	6:24	5:34	6:34
28:28	29:18	17:38	6:38	17:38	6:38	5:48	6:48
28:40	29:30	17:50	6:50	17:50	6:50	6:00	7:00
28:54	29:44	18:04	7:04	18:04	7:04	6:14	7:14
29:01	29:51	18:11	7:11	18:11	7:11	6:21	7:21
29:14	30:04	18:24	7:24	18:24	7:24	6:34	7:34
29:28	30:18	18:38	7:38	18:38	7:38	6:48	7:48
29:40	30:30	18:50	7:50	18:50	7:50	7:00	8:00
29:54	30:44	19:04	8:04	19:04	8:04	7:14	8:14
30:01	30:51	19:11	8:11	19:11	8:11	7:21	8:21
30:14	31:04	19:24	8:24	19:24	8:24	7:34	8:34
30:28	31:18	19:38	8:38	19:38	8:38	7:48	8:48
30:40	31:30	19:50	8:50	19:50	8:50	8:00	9:00
30:54	31:44	20:04	9:04	20:04	9:04	8:14	9:14
31:01	31:51	20:11	9:11	20:11	9:11	8:21	9:21
31:14	32:04	20:24	9:24	20:24	9:24	8:34	9:34
31:28	32:18	20:38	9:38	20:38	9:38	8:48	9:48
31:40	32:30	20:50	9:50	20:50	9:50	9:00	10:00
31:54	32:44	21:04	10:04	21:04	10:04	9:14	10:14
32:01	32:51	21:11	10:11	21:11	10:11	9:21	10:21
32:14	33:04	21:24	10:24	21:24	10:24	9:34	10:34
32:28	33:18	21:38	10:38	21:38	10:38	9:48	10:48
32:40	33:30	21:50	10:50	21:50	10:50	10:00	11:00
32:54	33:44	22:04	11:04	22:04	11:04	10:14	11:14
33:01	33:51	22:11	11:11	22:11	11:11	10:21	11:21
33:14	34:04	22:24	11:24	22:24	11:24	10:34	11:34
33:28	34:18	22:38	11:38	22:38	11:38	10:48	11:48
33:40	34:30	22:50	11:50	22:50	11:50	11:00	12:00
33:54	34:44	23:04	12:04	23:04	12:04	11:14	12:14
34:01	34:51	23:11	12:11	23:11	12:11	11:21	12:21
34:14	35:04	23:24	12:24	23:24	12:24	11:34	12:34
34:28	35:18	23:38	12:38	23:38	12:38	11:48	12:48
34:40	35:30	23:50	12:50	23:50	12:50	12:00	1:00
34:54	35:44	24:04	1:04	24:04	1:04	12:14	1:14
35:01	35:51	24:11	1:11	24:11	1:11	12:21	1:21
35:14	36:04	24:24	1:24

ESTABLISHED 1878

LOWELL MASS. MONDAY NOVEMBER 9 1908

PRICE ONE CENT

NIGHT EDITION

RIGHT OF STATES

To Prevent Co-education of White and Black Races

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—In deciding the case of Beare college vs. the state of Kentucky favorable to the state the supreme court of the United States today held that the states of the union may constitutionally legislate to prevent the co-education of the white and black races. The case was instituted to test the validity of the state law of 1904, prohibiting white and black children from attending the same schools. The higher state court ruled that the white and black are naturally antagonistic and that the enforced separation of the children of the two is in the line of the preservation of the peace. The opinion of the supreme court was handed down by Justice Brewer and affirmed the finding of both the Kentucky circuit court and the court of appeals.

NOTABLE WHITE HOUSE DINNER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—President Roosevelt has issued an invitation for a notable "labor legislation" dinner to be held at the White House, Tuesday, Nov. 17. The guests will include many national labor organization chiefs, several prominent judges and executive officials, but it is understood President Campers, Secretary Morrison, Vice President O'Connell and Treasurer Lemmon of the A. F. of L. are not included. Labor legislation will be discussed.

$40,000 IN GOLD FOR POPE

ROME, Nov. 9.—The pope today received the members of the Sacred college who congratulated him upon the 50th anniversary of his entering the priesthood. The Holy Father was presented with $40,000 in gold pieces in an artistic box.

CHURCH WEDDING

Edmund Cheney Weds Miss King

Ex-Councilman Edmund J. Cheney and Miss Winifred A. King, a popular young lady of Delvidere, were united in marriage this morning at ten o'clock at the rectory of the Immaculate Conception church by Rev. Fr. Flynn, O. M. I.

The bride was attended by Miss Marietta King, sister of the bride, while Dr. Arthur Cheney of Lynn, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

The bride was becomingly attired in white satin, trimmed with Irish lace, carried white chrysanthemums and wore a white picture hat. The bride-maid wore yellow, carried yellow chrysanthemums and wore a yellow picture hat.

Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple repaired to the home of the bride's parents, 295 Stackpole street, where a reception was held. At the dinner only the relatives of the contracting parties were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheney were the recipients of many beautiful and appropriate presents. They left on the 3.47 train for an extended tour. They will be at home to their friends after January first at the corner of Walker and Grove streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheney were the recipients of many beautiful and appropriate presents. They left on the 3.47 train for an extended tour. They will be at home to their friends after January first at the corner of Walker and Grove streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheney were the recipients of many beautiful and appropriate presents. They left on the 3.47 train for an extended tour. They will be at home to their friends after January first at the corner of Walker and Grove streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheney were the recipients of many beautiful and appropriate presents. They left on the 3.47 train for an extended tour. They will be at home to their friends after January first at the corner of Walker and Grove streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheney were the recipients of many beautiful and appropriate presents. They left on the 3.47 train for an extended tour. They will be at home to their friends after January first at the corner of Walker and Grove streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheney were the recipients of many beautiful and appropriate presents. They left on the 3.47 train for an extended tour. They will be at home to their friends after January first at the corner of Walker and Grove streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheney were the recipients of many beautiful and appropriate presents. They left on the 3.47 train for an extended tour. They will be at home to their friends after January first at the corner of Walker and Grove streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheney were the recipients of many beautiful and appropriate presents. They left on the 3.47 train for an extended tour. They will be at home to their friends after January first at the corner of Walker and Grove streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheney were the recipients of many beautiful and appropriate presents. They left on the 3.47 train for an extended tour. They will be at home to their friends after January first at the corner of Walker and Grove streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheney were the recipients of many beautiful and appropriate presents. They left on the 3.47 train for an extended tour. They will be at home to their friends after January first at the corner of Walker and Grove streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheney were the recipients of many beautiful and appropriate presents. They left on the 3.47 train for an extended tour. They will be at home to their friends after January first at the corner of Walker and Grove streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheney were the recipients of many beautiful and appropriate presents. They left on the 3.47 train for an extended tour. They will be at home to their friends after January first at the corner of Walker and Grove streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheney were the recipients of many beautiful and appropriate presents. They left on the 3.47 train for an extended tour. They will be at home to their friends after January first at the corner of Walker and Grove streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheney were the recipients of many beautiful and appropriate presents. They left on the 3.47 train for an extended tour. They will be at home to their friends after January first at the corner of Walker and Grove streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheney were the recipients of many beautiful and appropriate presents. They left on the 3.47 train for an extended tour. They will be at home to their friends after January first at the corner of Walker and Grove streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheney were the recipients of many beautiful and appropriate presents. They left on the 3.47 train for an extended tour. They will be at home to their friends after January first at the corner of Walker and Grove streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheney were the recipients of many beautiful and appropriate presents. They left on the 3.47 train for an extended tour. They will be at home to their friends after January first at the corner of Walker and Grove streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheney were the recipients of many beautiful and appropriate presents. They left on the 3.47 train for an extended tour. They will be at home to their friends after January first at the corner of Walker and Grove streets.

VERDICT OF $1000

Given Against B. & N. R. R. Today

At the opening of superior court, this morning the jury in the case of John M. Bills of Somerville vs. Boston & Northern returned a verdict of $1000 for the plaintiff.

The case of John J. Emerson of Newton, who sues the General Accident Fire and Insurance company of Perth, Scotland to recover $10,000 on an accident policy for loss of a hand, which was opened last Wednesday and suspended until today, was resumed this forenoon.

At the opening of court, counsel in the case held a conference with the court. In this case the company had an agency in Philadelphia and an office in Boston and the defense is requiring the plaintiff to prove that the agent who insured him was the authorized United States agent of the company, a matter which required the course to Philadelphia, lawyers and may necessitate correspondence with the home office in Scotland. The reference was held in Judge White's office and took up the greater part of the forenoon.

After the conference of counsel the case was resumed and took up the entire day's session. The next three cases on the short list are one out of town case against the Boston & Northern and two local cases of White vs. same defendants.

In the first case Lawyer Corcoran of Boston appears for the plaintiff and in the other two Messrs. John J. and William A. Hogan appear while Messrs. Trull & Wier represent the defendants.

At the opening of court, counsel in the case held a conference with the court. In this case the company had an agency in Philadelphia and an office in Boston and the defense is requiring the plaintiff to prove that the agent who insured him was the authorized United States agent of the company, a matter which required the course to Philadelphia, lawyers and may necessitate correspondence with the home office in Scotland. The reference was held in Judge White's office and took up the greater part of the forenoon.

After the conference of counsel the case was resumed and took up the entire day's session. The next three cases on the short list are one out of town case against the Boston & Northern and two local cases of White vs. same defendants.

In the first case Lawyer Corcoran of Boston appears for the plaintiff and in the other two Messrs. John J. and William A. Hogan appear while Messrs. Trull & Wier represent the defendants.

At the opening of court, counsel in the case held a conference with the court. In this case the company had an agency in Philadelphia and an office in Boston and the defense is requiring the plaintiff to prove that the agent who insured him was the authorized United States agent of the company, a matter which required the course to Philadelphia, lawyers and may necessitate correspondence with the home office in Scotland. The reference was held in Judge White's office and took up the greater part of the forenoon.

After the conference of counsel the case was resumed and took up the entire day's session. The next three cases on the short list are one out of town case against the Boston & Northern and two local cases of White vs. same defendants.

In the first case Lawyer Corcoran of Boston appears for the plaintiff and in the other two Messrs. John J. and William A. Hogan appear while Messrs. Trull & Wier represent the defendants.

At the opening of court, counsel in the case held a conference with the court. In this case the company had an agency in Philadelphia and an office in Boston and the defense is requiring the plaintiff to prove that the agent who insured him was the authorized United States agent of the company, a matter which required the course to Philadelphia, lawyers and may necessitate correspondence with the home office in Scotland. The reference was held in Judge White's office and took up the greater part of the forenoon.

After the conference of counsel the case was resumed and took up the entire day's session. The next three cases on the short list are one out of town case against the Boston & Northern and two local cases of White vs. same defendants.

In the first case Lawyer Corcoran of Boston appears for the plaintiff and in the other two Messrs. John J. and William A. Hogan appear while Messrs. Trull & Wier represent the defendants.

At the opening of court, counsel in the case held a conference with the court. In this case the company had an agency in Philadelphia and an office in Boston and the defense is requiring the plaintiff to prove that the agent who insured him was the authorized United States agent of the company, a matter which required the course to Philadelphia, lawyers and may necessitate correspondence with the home office in Scotland. The reference was held in Judge White's office and took up the greater part of the forenoon.

After the conference of counsel the case was resumed and took up the entire day's session. The next three cases on the short list are one out of town case against the Boston & Northern and two local cases of White vs. same defendants.

In the first case Lawyer Corcoran of Boston appears for the plaintiff and in the other two Messrs. John J. and William A. Hogan appear while Messrs. Trull & Wier represent the defendants.

At the opening of court, counsel in the case held a conference with the court. In this case the company had an agency in Philadelphia and an office in Boston and the defense is requiring the plaintiff to prove that the agent who insured him was the authorized United States agent of the company, a matter which required the course to Philadelphia, lawyers and may necessitate correspondence with the home office in Scotland. The reference was held in Judge White's office and took up the greater part of the forenoon.

After the conference of counsel the case was resumed and took up the entire day's session. The next three cases on the short list are one out of town case against the Boston & Northern and two local cases of White vs. same defendants.

In the first case Lawyer Corcoran of Boston appears for the plaintiff and in the other two Messrs. John J. and William A. Hogan appear while Messrs. Trull & Wier represent the defendants.

At the opening of court, counsel in the case held a conference with the court. In this case the company had an agency in Philadelphia and an office in Boston and the defense is requiring the plaintiff to prove that the agent who insured him was the authorized United States agent of the company, a matter which required the course to Philadelphia, lawyers and may necessitate correspondence with the home office in Scotland. The reference was held in Judge White's office and took up the greater part of the forenoon.

After the conference of counsel the case was resumed and took up the entire day's session. The next three cases on the short list are one out of town case against the Boston & Northern and two local cases of White vs. same defendants.

In the first case Lawyer Corcoran of Boston appears for the plaintiff and in the other two Messrs. John J. and William A. Hogan appear while Messrs. Trull & Wier represent the defendants.

At the opening of court, counsel in the case held a conference with the court. In this case the company had an agency in Philadelphia and an office in Boston and the defense is requiring the plaintiff to prove that the agent who insured him was the authorized United States agent of the company, a matter which required the course to Philadelphia, lawyers and may necessitate correspondence with the home office in Scotland. The reference was held in Judge White's office and took up the greater part of the forenoon.

After the conference of counsel the case was resumed and took up the entire day's session. The next three cases on the short list are one out of town case against the Boston & Northern and two local cases of White vs. same defendants.

In the first case Lawyer Corcoran of Boston appears for the plaintiff and in the other two Messrs. John J. and William A. Hogan appear while Messrs. Trull & Wier represent the defendants.

At the opening of court, counsel in the case held a conference with the court. In this case the company had an agency in Philadelphia and an office in Boston and the defense is requiring the plaintiff to prove that the agent who insured him was the authorized United States agent of the company, a matter which required the course to Philadelphia, lawyers and may necessitate correspondence with the home office in Scotland. The reference was held in Judge White's office and took up the greater part of the forenoon.

After the conference of counsel the case was resumed and took up the entire day's session. The next three cases on the short list are one out of town case against the Boston & Northern and two local cases of White vs. same defendants.

In the first case Lawyer Corcoran of Boston appears for the plaintiff and in the other two Messrs. John J. and William A. Hogan appear while Messrs. Trull & Wier represent the defendants.

At the opening of court, counsel in the case held a conference with the court. In this case the company had an agency in Philadelphia and an office in Boston and the defense is requiring the plaintiff to prove that the agent who insured him was the authorized United States agent of the company, a matter which required the course to Philadelphia, lawyers and may necessitate correspondence with the home office in Scotland. The reference was held in Judge White's office and took up the greater part of the forenoon.

After the conference of counsel the case was resumed and took up the entire day's session. The next three cases on the short list are one out of town case against the Boston & Northern and two local cases of White vs. same defendants.

In the first case Lawyer Corcoran of Boston appears for the plaintiff and in the other two Messrs. John J. and William A. Hogan appear while Messrs. Trull & Wier represent the defendants.

At the opening of court, counsel in the case held a conference with the court. In this case the company had an agency in Philadelphia and an office in Boston and the defense is requiring the plaintiff to prove that the agent who insured him was the authorized United States agent of the company, a matter which required the course to Philadelphia, lawyers and may necessitate correspondence with the home office in Scotland. The reference was held in Judge White's office and took up the greater part of the forenoon.

After the conference of counsel the case was resumed and took up the entire day's session. The next three cases on the short list are one out of town case against the Boston & Northern and two local cases of White vs. same defendants.

In the first case Lawyer Corcoran of Boston appears for the plaintiff and in the other two Messrs. John J. and William A. Hogan appear while Messrs. Trull & Wier represent the defendants.

At the opening of court, counsel in the case held a conference with the court. In this case the company had an agency in Philadelphia and an office in Boston and the defense is requiring the plaintiff to prove that the agent who insured him was the authorized United States agent of the company, a matter which required the course to Philadelphia, lawyers and may necessitate correspondence with the home office in Scotland. The reference was held in Judge White's office and took up the greater part of the forenoon.

After the conference of counsel the case was resumed and took up the entire day's session. The next three cases on the short list are one out of town case against the Boston & Northern and two local cases of White vs. same defendants.

In the first case Lawyer Corcoran of Boston appears for the plaintiff and in the other two Messrs. John J. and William A. Hogan appear while Messrs. Trull & Wier represent the defendants.

At the opening of court, counsel in the case held a conference with the court. In this case the company had an agency in Philadelphia and an office in Boston and the defense is requiring the plaintiff to prove that the agent who insured him was the authorized United States agent of the company, a matter which required the course to Philadelphia, lawyers and may necessitate correspondence with the home office in Scotland. The reference was held in Judge White's office and took up the greater part of the forenoon.

After the conference of counsel the case was resumed and took up the entire day's session. The next three cases on the short list are one out of town case against the Boston & Northern and two local cases of White vs. same defendants.

In the first case Lawyer Corcoran of Boston appears for the plaintiff and in the other two Messrs. John J. and William A. Hogan appear while Messrs. Trull & Wier represent the defendants.

At the opening of court, counsel in the case held a conference with the court. In this case the company had an agency in Philadelphia and an office in Boston and the defense is requiring the plaintiff to prove that the agent who insured him was the authorized United States agent of the company, a matter which required the course to Philadelphia, lawyers and may necessitate correspondence with the home office in Scotland. The reference was held in Judge White's office and took up the greater part of the forenoon.

After the conference of counsel the case was resumed and took up the entire day's session. The next three cases on the short list are one out of town case against the Boston & Northern and two local cases of White vs. same defendants.

In the first case Lawyer Corcoran of Boston appears for the plaintiff and in the other two Messrs. John J. and William A. Hogan appear while Messrs. Trull & Wier represent the defendants.

HELD IN $1000

McCarthy Charged With Setting Fire to a Building

Charles McCarthy, a young man 25 years of age, was arraigned in police court this morning on complaints charging him with drunkenness and maliciously burning a building, the property of the commonwealth in the town of Tewksbury early yesterday morning, the building in question being a piggery at the state hospital grounds.

McCarthy has been employed by a farmer on the Andover road in Tewksbury and Saturday night he came to this city. It was testified for the purpose of indulging in some liquid beverages. He boarded the Boston car which leaves Merrimack square fifteen minutes before midnight and got off at Chandler street in Tewksbury, which leads to the almshouse. After making several attempts to gain admittance to the institution to see one of the inmates he went to the piggery on the premises, and it is alleged that he "fired" the place.

William E. Sprout, a conductor on the Boston line of the Boston & Northern Railway Co., testified that on Saturday night McCarthy boarded his car at Merrimack square and left the car at Chandler street, which leads to the state farm in Tewksbury. McCarthy left the car shortly after midnight and was in an intoxicated condition.

Helena Murphy, a nurse at the state hospital, said that at about five minutes before two o'clock he called at the hospital and asked to see one of the inmates. Witness said that he could not see her, whereupon he walked away from the hospital and she watched the defendant walk along the road and about 15 minutes later she saw the piggery was ablaze.

Beatrice Josephine Higgins, also a nurse at the hospital, corroborated the testimony offered by Miss Murphy. Dr. George A. Pierce, of the hospital corps, said that the piggery was burned in three different places.

Dr. Howard Holmes corroborated the testimony offered by the previous witnesses. Frederick Flynn, a member of the state police, said that he had conversed with McCarthy and told the latter who he was said what rights he (McCarthy) had relative to making statements which might be used against him.

Continuing Mr. Flynn said: "Mr. McCarthy told me that he was 24 years of age and had been in this country for 12 years, that he had been an inmate of the Tewksbury institution but that since last July he had been working for a Patrick Kelly on the Andover road.

"Last Saturday night, according to his statement, he came to Lowell and had five or six drinks of beer and took the last car, 11.45 o'clock, for Tewksbury. He got off at some place in Tewksbury and went into the institution building.

"He did not know what happened till about two o'clock in the morning when he awoke in the pig pen and found that the building was afire. Finding that there were two fires in progress he went to the consumptives' department and told the officers at that place that the piggery was afire. He said he didn't know how the fire started. He would not say whether he set it or not.

Probable cause was found and McCarthy was held under $1000 bonds for the grand jury.

WENT AGROUND

Merchants and Miners Steamer Met With Accident

NEWPORT, R. I., Nov. 9.—The Merchants & Miners steamer Dorchester, bound from Baltimore for Providence, ran aground on Southeast beach, Prudence island, while proceeding up Narragansett bay in a thick fog today. The tide was high when the steamer went aground. As the tide fell the Dorchester heeled over to starboard and it was seen that she was on the beach from the stem to the forecast. The steamer grounded at a point almost exactly opposite the naval coaling station at Bradford. The naval tug Alida was sent to the Dorchester's assistance but was unable to drag her off. Another attempt to float the Dorchester will be made at high tide tonight by the naval tug and the Allegheny.

All of the passengers remained on board. It is believed that the Dorchester has sustained little damage.

NOT FOUND YET

Miss Walker is Still Among the Missing

Miss Georgiana Walker is still missing from her home in Pawtucket street, and her folks still cling to the belief that, waking in her sleep, she was drowned either in the canal or in the river. A thorough search of the canal was made yesterday after the water was drawn off, but the body was not found.

THOS. HANNAFIN RETURNS

Mr. Thomas Hannafin, the musician of Sargent street, returned home yesterday after finishing up his season with the Barnum and Bailey circus. The show is on its way to Connecticut. Its winter quarters, but Mr. Hannafin left them in Clarksdale, Miss.

HEAR

Ex-Mayor Casey's Opening Speech

OF HIS CAMPAIGN

Lyon Street Ward Room

TONIGHT 8 O'CLOCK

ALL ARE INVITED

JOHN HANLEY, 50 Tyler St.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

EXTRA

GREAT SUGGESTIONS

Relative to Tuberculosis and Its Prevention

Issued by Massachusetts Board of Education—Instructions to Parents and School Teachers—How Tuberculosis is Spread

A pamphlet containing suggestions to teachers on tuberculosis and its prevention has been issued by the Massachusetts board of education. Supt. Whitcomb is in receipt of several copies of the pamphlets which he will dispose of to best advantage. The suggestions have been prepared for the board of education, as a matter of public service, by several eminent specialists of Boston.

The introduction to the pamphlet contains the following: Chapter 151 of the Acts of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts of 1905 provides that tuberculosis and its prevention shall be taught in all grades of the public schools of this state in which instruction is given in the subjects of physiology and hygiene. This pamphlet is not intended as a textbook for teachers of this subject, but is merely to suggest certain lines of instruction and to emphasize certain points to be dwelt on with particular emphasis. Every teacher should realize her opportunity in thus directing her pupils in the way of wholesome living. A healthy mind requires a healthy body. The interest of the scholars will be aroused in this matter only insofar as the instructor stimulates or develops this interest.

The following extract on consumption is from the pamphlet in question: Most important of all is the fact that this disease attacks people when they are in the prime of their life, and when their services are worth most to their families and to the community in which they live; for the mortality from consumption is the greatest during the most active period of life—from fifteen to thirty-five or forty years. It spares no one neither the child, the youth or the adult, the weak or the strong. Compare this with the infectious diseases of childhood, such as diphtheria, scarlet fever, etc., which are most prevalent and fatal in the early years of life, and with cancer, which is rarely fatal before a person is fifty years old, when one has lived longer than the average length of human life.

When the germ of consumption attacks any person, it gets into his lungs and there grows and multiplies. As the disease becomes active a cough develops and the person afflicted raises a certain amount of sputum. In this sputum are an innumerable number of tuberculous germs, which, if they are inhaled by people run down or otherwise in a poor condition to resist disease, may cause the disease in them also. This sputum must be destroyed in every case. If all sputum from consumptives were destroyed, the disease is spread by contagion, or ignorance on the part of consumptives who do not realize that every time they fail to destroy the sputum, or spit on the floor or sidewalk, it will dry, be ground up into a powder, fly through the air as dust, and be inhaled by some person who is in a condition to receive the disease, and so cause the disease in him. It has been calculated that in the sputum of one consumptive in the course of twenty-four hours there may be more than twenty-four million of these germs.

Tuberculosis is not hereditary. It is the tendency which is inherited, but not the disease itself. Children in such families should be brought up with the utmost care, and should be given the maximum amount of fresh air and sunlight. We should endeavor to teach children, first, that spitting is a dangerous as well as a disagreeable habit; and second, that the best way to avoid consumption is to so live that we are always in a healthy condition, so that we can resist the harmful action of any germs that may find their way into our lungs or stomachs. We should teach children the importance of fresh air, good food and cleanliness, and a proper amount of sleep.

In regard to fresh air in far too many instances mothers have a positive dread of open windows and of draughts. It is, however, very important that rapidly growing children should have as much fresh air as possible. This should be taught in a practical way in the schoolroom itself, by using every possible means for good ventilation, opening the windows wide during all hours of study, and by interesting children in the exercises which are given during the day's work. It is most important that the body should have fresh air in large amounts, should be taught, a large amount of sleep in the growing period is important. All this should be emphasized. The question of proper food and coffee should be considered. The use of tea and coffee and other stimulants among children, especially of the poorer classes, is extremely common, and does a great deal of harm. The dangers of this should be taught.

Teachers of our public schools have a great opportunity to instruct the children with whom they come in contact, young and old, in the principles of this treatment; and it is important to always bear in mind that fresh air, light and day, sunlight, cleanliness, bathing, plenty of plain, nourishing food, are the things on which the treatment of consumption is based; and, further than this, that these are the essential conditions in obtaining and preserving good health, and in avoiding a great many other kinds of diseases. The actual details of the open-air treatment of consumption may well be left to the physician or nurse.

COL. CARMICHAEL

Announces His Candidacy for Mayor

Col. James H. Carmichael today issues his announcement of his candidacy, explaining his tardiness as the result of circumstances over which he had no control. He refers to the fact that having had one nomination last year, he feels that it should be due him to receive a second nomination in accordance with an old custom. He also invites all to consult his public record, as president of the common council, alderman and library trustee, as to his fitness for the office.

A HEARING

ON PETITION FOR A SEWER IN WALL STREET

At 7.30 P. M. Thursday next, the committee on sewers will give a hearing on the petition of the board of health that a sewer be laid in Wall street from the Concord river easterly to a distance of about 300 feet, then northerly to a distance of about 60 feet, making about 360 feet in all. The committee will also give a hearing on a petition for a sewer in Dalton street.

LARGE SIGN

STOLEN FROM PROPERTY IN EAST CHESHAMFORD

A large "For Sale" sign has been stolen from a piece of property in East Cheshamford, and the owner is trying hard to apprehend the thieves. The sign was probably taken as a Halloween joke, and placed somewhere else, where the people have no intention of selling, and if this is the case serious trouble may result. It would be advisable for the thieves or jokers to return it at once, as the owner says if it isn't returned soon he will notify the police.

LOWELL GAS LIGHT CO.

Lowell, Mass.
Gentlemen: I began using Lowell gas when I began making candy in 1891, and I have used it in my business ever since. I also use coke at my home.
DUDLEY L. PAGE.
Nov. 1th, 1908.

LAWRENCE CUMMINGS

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR

WILL SPEAK TONIGHT, NOV. 9

In Old Fellows Hall, Bridge Street, and in Centralville Social Club Rooms, Lakeview Avenue, near Alden Street.

LAWRENCE CUMMINGS, 29 Huntington Street.

Advertisement.

ELECTRIC POWER

Twenty-four hours per day, 365 days per year and one day extra in leap year.

The mill with electric motors has no fear of low water, engine break down or boiler explosion, resulting in shut down for weeks or months.

We Can Explain

Lowell

Electric Light Corp.

50 Central St.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.

Advertisement.</

LATEST LAMPHERE IN COURT

Charged With Murder of Woman and Three Children

LAPORTE, Ind., Nov. 9.—Ray Lamphere today was brought from the county jail to the circuit court room to answer to the charge of murdering Mrs. Belle Guinness and her three children. The court room was crowded. The prisoner appeared cheerful. The jury box was filled by members of the regular panel. As fast as one was excused a venireman from the special panel of twenty-five was called.

The state expects to find Peter Karlson who was once employed by Mrs. Guinness and who is said to have talked with Lamphere regarding numerous mysterious doings at the Guinness home.

Although Coroner Mack has accepted a call to the Swedenborgian church at Toledo and will leave this week for that place he expects to return the first of next week for he will be one of the state's most important witnesses for proving the death of Mrs. Guinness.

SHOT IN STREET

Postmaster Morgan of N. Y. Attacked as He Left His Home

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Postmaster Edward M. Morgan was shot at 146th street and Broadway today by a man who then shot and killed himself. Mr. Morgan was shot through the stomach and probably will die. He was taken to his home in an unconscious condition. The identity of his assailant has not been learned. The man was well dressed and about 40 years of age. He died instantly after firing three shots into his head.

Mr. Morgan had left his home in West 146th street for his office and had just reached the corner at Broadway when the man stepped in front of him. There were several persons within a few feet of the two men but none of them heard a word spoken and the first indication they had of trouble was when a shot rang out and Mr. Morgan fell to the ground with a bullet through his stomach. He lost consciousness instantly.

For an instant after the shot had been fired the assailant stood looking down upon his victim. Then he raised the still smoking revolver and pressing it against his forehead pulled the trigger. The bullet did not cause a fatal wound and once more and then a third time the man sent a bullet crashing against his skull. The third ball penetrated the brain and the man fell dead. As he lay there with the revolver still clenched in his hand several persons who had witnessed the double shooting rushed up to the assistance of Mr. Morgan whom some of them had recognized. A physician was called from a house nearby and was with the wounded man within a few moments after the first shot had been fired. With the assistance of a number of men in the crowd which had quickly gathered he removed Mr. Morgan to his residence only a few doors from the corner. Another physician was called into consultation. It was found that the bullet had passed entirely through the stomach and the doctors held out little hope for Mr. Morgan's recovery. Hurried preparations were made to perform an operation, however.

While the surgeons were working over Mr. Morgan at his home in an effort to save his life, the body of the man who fired the shot and then killed himself was lying on the sidewalk where he had fallen. A great crowd had gathered at the scene but a detail of policemen who had been rushed to the place immediately after the shooting stood over the body. They were directed to guard it and prevent its removal until the arrival of the coroner.

Mr. Morgan has been connected with the postal service in New York for more than a quarter of a century. He began his career as a letter carrier thirty-one years ago and worked his way to the top. Last year he was promoted from assistant postmaster to the position of postmaster to succeed W. R. Wilcox who became a public service commissioner. Mr. Morgan is the republican leader in the Washington Heights assembly district.

When the physicians made a closer examination they found that Mr. Morgan's wound was not so serious as first supposed. It is now believed that the bullet which had not penetrated by the hand and which had been employed by a firm with offices at 155 Broadway.

Mackay had been in the employ of Hunt, Hill & Betts, lawyers, at 155 Broadway, for about four years. He came from England nine years ago, worked for a time in Boston and then came to this city. Mackay was held in high esteem by his employers, who say they are completely at a loss to explain his act. The only clue thus far found which may have a bearing on the tragedy is contained in a number of letters found in Mackay's desk. These indicate that about a year ago he had complained to the postmaster that some of his mail had not been properly delivered. The correspondence was signed by one of the regular department clerks. Mackay's employers say that so far as they knew he never met or had any dealings with Postmaster Morgan. Mr. Morgan regained consciousness while the physicians were working on him. He said he never saw his assailant until he confronted him this morning. He knew of no reason for the attack, he said.

Among papers found in Mackay's pocket was an envelope addressed to "Miss Anna Mackay, care of Training School for Nurses, Newburyport, Mass." The envelope was empty. A slingshot and a dagger were found in Mackay's pockets.

PRESIDENT TO KING

VICTOR SARDOU Well Known Dramatist is Dead

PARIS, Nov. 9.—Victorien Sardou, who has been ill for a long time, died yesterday from pulmonary congestion.

The man whose first play was hissed and who then wanted to go to America to seek his fortune died rich and honored, with the proud title of France's greatest and most prolific contemporary dramatist.

SEWER JOB

WILL BE COMPLETED WITHIN TWENTY DAYS

The work of lowering the Merrimack street sewer is going merrily along and when the big engine moves again it will reach John street, the other end of the job. Unless more formidable ledge is encountered than is anticipated by Mr. Morse the job will be done within 20 days and that will be going some.

If the officer who keeps close watch on persons who linger about the scene of the sewer work will allow you to look the situation over you will see, among other things, that the conduits containing the wires of the city are being held in position by ropes securely fastened. But for those ropes the conduits would drop down and the clerks would be to pay.

DOCK WAS CROWDED

Large Number of Offenders in Police Court Today

Men Arrested for Dancing on Sunday — Sad Case of Man Arrested for Stealing Clothing — Drunk List Longer Than Usual

Sergt. Hugh Maguire and Patrolmen William Giroux and John J. Ganley, though unwitting guests, "buted" into a dancing party which was being held in upper Market street yesterday afternoon and as a result of their unceremonious entrance, six foreigners were given a free ride to the police station.

The officers happened to be passing through Market street late in the afternoon when their attention was attracted to a building from which emanated great sounds. Investigation showed that six men were dancing in a style which is anything but peculiar to Americans. Music for dancing was being furnished by lyres, lutes, cymbals and other instruments.

The appearance of the officers put a stop to the festivities and the merry-makers were hustled into the narrow wagon and taken to the police station where they gave their names as George Makers, James Goulas, Athanasian Tzielamas, George Hajama, Andreas Warmopoulos and Kostas Samarias.

In court this morning the sextet were charged with voluntarily taking part in an amusement known as dancing on the Lord's day. They all pleaded guilty, but through an interpreter informed the court that they did not know they were violating the law.

Judge Hadley read the law, but feeling that there was more ignorance of the law than an intent to violate it, allowed them to go after paying fines of $2 each.

Larceny of Lead
Germain Pincault was arraigned in court Saturday on a complaint charging him with the larceny of 24 pounds of lead, the property of Paul Cossette and the case was continued till this morning in order that he might have a chance to make restitution. In the meantime Mrs. Pincault made a settlement with the complainant and Pincault was placed in the hands of the probation officer.

To State Farm
John J. Fox was arrested Saturday night for drunkenness. It was his fourth offense and the court sentenced him to the state farm.

William J. Fleming, a parole man, will be returned to the state farm.

Sent to Jail
John J. Foley, charged with being drunk, was in very bad condition as a result of the over indulgence of liquor. His wife said that he was drunk all the time and had been on a continual spree for six weeks. He was sent to jail for eight days in order that he might sober off.

James Patterson was charged with being drunk, he denied the allegation. Patrolman Dennett testified that he was called to Patterson's home Saturday afternoon and found him drunk in the yard in the rear of the house. Patterson said that he had had but one drink during the day and that when the officer arrived he was sitting in his house and was perfectly sober.

Patrolman John Leighton who was in the station house when Patterson arrived, said that the latter was drunk. It was his second offense and he was fined $5.

Patrolman Kelley and wife, arrested for drunkenness, Saturday, were placed on probation.

Joseph Dion, a third offender, was sentenced to three months in jail.

Robert Poppy, a third offender, also was sentenced to four months in jail. Sentence was suspended and he was placed in the hands of the probation officer for one year.

The court was inclined to be lenient with Martin Conneron. It was his third offense, but the fact that he was an old man caused the judge to be lenient. Conneron was given a suspended sentence of four months in jail and placed on probation for one year.

William H. Dever, a third offender, was sentenced to the state farm.

Five first offenders were fined $2 each and ten simple drunks were released without appearing in court.

The following second offenders were fined $5 each: David Liston, George Wigley, Arthur Levesque, Arthur Blouin, Louis Provost, Patrick J. Gately and Albert Hamilton.

Among the Sunday offenders were the following: Frank Gogart, fined $7; Jacob Topolski, Joseph Sopol and Angie Tomson, $5 each and Costos Arkas $5.

Placed on Probation
Frederick Potter was arrested Saturday night by Inspectors Lafamme and Maher for the larceny of clothing from the store of J. L. Chailfoux in Central street, and was in police court this morning on that charge.

Potter, it is alleged, frequented the store during the rush hour for the apparel and while the clerk was engaged with another customer Potter would walk out with the garment he was trying on.

It is said that a week ago Saturday night Potter worked the game twice, and secured a couple of coats, but his attempt to get away with the goods Saturday night was frustrated.

In court this morning Potter pleaded guilty to a complaint charging him with the larceny of two coats, valued at $11.50 each; one vest, valued at $1,

WEDDING BELLS

Suggested in the Following Intentions

The following intentions to marry were registered at the city clerk's office today:

James Grouke, 28, laborer, 112 Chapel street and Annie D'Lacey, 24, operative, 255 Central street.

Francisco Ferreira, 23, operative, 17 Peabody street and Eleanor I. Bottencourt, 22, operative, 355 Watt street, Lawrence, Mass.

Edmund J. Cheney, 31, hair dresser, 15 Grove street and Winnifred A. King, 19, at home, 295 Stackpole street.

Antonio Dion, 24, butcher, Montreal, Canada, and Eva M. Vincent, 21, hairdresser, 44 Race street.

The drug store conducted by Gemond L. Field at 395 Merrimack street was raided shortly after midnight Sunday morning by Inspectors Atkinson and Dwyer and the latter seized more than 150 pint and half pint bottles of whiskey, together with a barrel containing about five gallons of liquor.

A couple of officers in plain clothes entered the store shortly after midnight and made purchases of whiskey. While one of the officers who had secured the "fire water" was present, Messrs. Atkinson and Dwyer appeared on the scene and making a search of the premises succeeded in locating the liquor.

Mr. Field will be haled into court during the week and charged with the illegal keeping and sale of liquor.

VOTERS REGISTER
The Hours Fixed by Board of Registrars

Voters are requested not to forget that the hours for registration at city hall these days are from 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 p. m. There were 21 registrations Saturday and it is not expected that the registration for the city election will be very great as the work was pretty well cleaned up for state election. The total number for the state election this year was 1360 which was over 500 more for both state and city last year.

HOLY NAME OF SACRED HEART CHURCH TO HOLD IMPORTANT MEETING

Tonight the junior branch of the Holy Name society of the Sacred Heart church will hold its regular monthly meeting in the school hall, and tomorrow evening the senior branch of the organization will meet in the hall. As this is the first meeting of the society since attending the celebration in Boston, Nov. 1, a large number is expected to be present.

FUNERALS
CASEY—The funeral of Johanna Casey took place from her late home 133 Chapel street, this morning, at 9:15 o'clock. The cortege proceeded to St. Peter's church, where at nine o'clock a requiem mass was sung for the soul of the deceased. The church choir, under the direction of Mr. P. P. Haggerty, was in attendance at the mass and rendered the Vatican edition of the requiem. The solo at the mass were given by Messrs. P. P. Haggerty and James E. Donnelly. Mrs. Josephine Kennedy, presided at the organ.

The bearers were: Fred Buckley, Fred Rollins, William Buckley, Matt McCarthy, John Buckley and Peter Brault. Interment was in the Catholic cemetery in charge of Funeral Director Thomas J. McDermott. Rev. Fr. Burns officiated at the grave.

The floral offerings were as follows: Spray, Ruth and Leo Buckley; spray, Miss Nellie Buckley; spray, Mrs. Edward Buckley.

BURNS—The funeral of the late Malack Burns took place from his home on Pleasant street this morning at 9:00 o'clock. It was one of the largest funerals that passed through the city for considerable time. A solemn high mass of requiem was sung at the Immaculate Conception church at 9 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Evans, O. M. I., assisted by Rev. Frs. Lyons and McReary, O. M. I. At the offertory Mr. John Dalton rendered "O Salutaris" and as the body was being borne from the church Mr. William Goggin rendered "The Procession." Despite the fact that it was requested that no flowers be sent, there were many floral tributes in evidence. Many friends from out of town were present, among whom were Messrs. Maher of Nashua, Mrs. Edward Teigny, Mrs. John Callahan, Mrs. Andrew Callahan, Miss Nellie Kleron, Miss Mary Gilligan, Mr. John O'Brien, Sr., John Meahan, John Butler, Patrick Galligan of Boston, Mrs. Ella McManus, Mrs. Elizabeth Noonan, Miss Abbie Noonan, Mrs. Anna Carpenter of Lynn, the bears were Messrs. Frank Stokas, Peter Kavan, James Hickey, Frank Burns, Anthony M. Carron, John Collins, William H. Curtis had charge of the funeral. Peter H. Davey was the undertaker. Rev. Fr. Sullivan, O. M. I., and Rev. Fr. Lyons officiated at the grave.

FUNERAL NOTICES
DUMAS—The funeral of the well known book binder, passed away at his residence, 143 W. street, this morning, at 9 o'clock. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock from his late home at 143 W. street, at 10 o'clock. The funeral will be in charge of G. W. Healey, will be in charge.

FUNERAL NOTICES
MURPHY—The funeral of Mrs. Sarah A. Murphy will take place from her late home, 143 W. street, this morning, at 9 o'clock. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock from his late home at 143 W. street, at 10 o'clock. The funeral will be in charge of G. W. Healey, will be in charge.

FUNERAL NOTICES
MURPHY—The funeral of Mrs. Sarah A. Murphy will take place from her late home, 143 W. street, this morning, at 9 o'clock. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock from his late home at 143 W. street, at 10 o'clock. The funeral will be in charge of G. W. Healey, will be in charge.

FUNERAL NOTICES
MURPHY—The funeral of Mrs. Sarah A. Murphy will take place from her late home, 143 W. street, this morning, at 9 o'clock. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock from his late home at 143 W. street, at 10 o'clock. The funeral will be in charge of G. W. Healey, will be in charge.

FUNERAL NOTICES
MURPHY—The funeral of Mrs. Sarah A. Murphy will take place from her late home, 143 W. street, this morning, at 9 o'clock. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock from his late home at 143 W. street, at 10 o'clock. The funeral will be in charge of G. W. Healey, will be in charge.

FUNERAL NOTICES
MURPHY—The funeral of Mrs. Sarah A. Murphy will take place from her late home, 143 W. street, this morning, at 9 o'clock. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock from his late home at 143 W. street, at 10 o'clock. The funeral will be in charge of G. W. Healey, will be in charge.

FUNERAL NOTICES
MURPHY—The funeral of Mrs. Sarah A. Murphy will take place from her late home, 143 W. street, this morning, at 9 o'clock. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock from his late home at 143 W. street, at 10 o'clock. The funeral will be in charge of G. W. Healey, will be in charge.

FUNERAL NOTICES
MURPHY—The funeral of Mrs. Sarah A. Murphy will take place from her late home, 143 W. street, this morning, at 9 o'clock. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock from his late home at 143 W. street, at 10 o'clock. The funeral will be in charge of G. W. Healey, will be in charge.

FUNERAL NOTICES
MURPHY—The funeral of Mrs. Sarah A. Murphy will take place from her late home, 143 W. street, this morning, at 9 o'clock. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock from his late home at 143 W. street, at 10 o'clock. The funeral will be in charge of G. W. Healey, will be in charge.

FUNERAL NOTICES
MURPHY—The funeral of Mrs. Sarah A. Murphy will take place from her late home, 143 W. street, this morning, at 9 o'clock. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock from his late home at 143 W. street, at 10 o'clock. The funeral will be in charge of G. W. Healey, will be in charge.

VALUABLE FURS

$6000 Worth Stolen From a Store in Providence

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 9.—Over $6000 worth of valuable skins and furs, one half of the stock of Kaps & Reinacher, 135 Mathewson street, in the centre of the business district, were stolen from the store some time between midnight Saturday and 8 o'clock this morning.

More than unusual interest is lent to the case because of the unique features. During the whole time the store was lighted by four gas jets, the skins taken must have weighed over 300 pounds, a police officer was on duty in front of the store during the whole time and an experienced selection of the furs was made by the robbers.

The police believe the case to be the work of professionals. The burglar alarm was escaped by removing a plate of glass and the goods were carried through a blind alley in the rear over the tops of sawmill sheds to a waiting automobile.

The police believe the case to be the work of professionals. The burglar alarm was escaped by removing a plate of glass and the goods were carried through a blind alley in the rear over the tops of sawmill sheds to a waiting automobile.

The police believe the case to be the work of professionals. The burglar alarm was escaped by removing a plate of glass and the goods were carried through a blind alley in the rear over the tops of sawmill sheds to a waiting automobile.

The police believe the case to be the work of professionals. The burglar alarm was escaped by removing a plate of glass and the goods were carried through a blind alley in the rear over the tops of sawmill sheds to a waiting automobile.

The police believe the case to be the work of professionals. The burglar alarm was escaped by removing a plate of glass and the goods were carried through a blind alley in the rear over the tops of sawmill sheds to a waiting automobile.

The police believe the case to be the work of professionals. The burglar alarm was escaped by removing a plate of glass and the goods were carried through a blind alley in the rear over the tops of sawmill sheds to a waiting automobile.

The police believe the case to be the work of professionals. The burglar alarm was escaped by removing a plate of glass and the goods were carried through a blind alley in the rear over the tops of sawmill sheds to a waiting automobile.

The police believe the case to be the work of professionals. The burglar alarm was escaped by removing a plate of glass and the goods were carried through a blind alley in the rear over the tops of sawmill sheds to a waiting automobile.

The police believe the case to be the work of professionals. The burglar alarm was escaped by removing a plate of glass and the goods were carried through a blind alley in the rear over the tops of sawmill sheds to a waiting automobile.

The police believe the case to be the work of professionals. The burglar alarm was escaped by removing a plate of glass and the goods were carried through a blind alley in the rear over the tops of sawmill sheds to a waiting automobile.

The police believe the case to be the work of professionals. The burglar alarm was escaped by removing a plate of glass and the goods were carried through a blind alley in the rear over the tops of sawmill sheds to a waiting automobile.

The police believe the case to be the work of professionals. The burglar alarm was escaped by removing a plate of glass and the goods were carried through a blind alley in the rear over the tops of sawmill sheds to a waiting automobile.

The police believe the case to be the work of professionals. The burglar alarm was escaped by removing a plate of glass and the goods were carried through a blind alley in the rear over the tops of sawmill sheds to a waiting automobile.

The police believe the case to be the work of professionals. The burglar alarm was escaped by removing a plate of glass and the goods were carried through a blind alley in the rear over the tops of sawmill sheds to a waiting automobile.

The police believe the case to be the work of professionals. The burglar alarm was escaped by removing a plate of glass and the goods were carried through a blind alley in the rear over the tops of sawmill sheds to a waiting automobile.

The police believe the case to be the work of professionals. The burglar alarm was escaped by removing a plate of glass and the goods were carried through a blind alley in the rear over the tops of sawmill sheds to a waiting automobile.

The police believe the case to be the work of professionals. The burglar alarm was escaped by removing a plate of glass and the goods were carried through a blind alley in the rear over the tops of sawmill sheds to a waiting automobile.

The police believe the case to be the work of professionals. The burglar alarm was escaped by removing a plate of glass and the goods were carried through a blind alley in the rear over the tops of sawmill sheds to a waiting automobile.

The police believe the case to be the work of professionals. The burglar alarm was escaped by removing a plate of glass and the goods were carried through a blind alley in the rear over the tops of sawmill sheds to a waiting automobile.

The police believe the case to be the work of professionals. The burglar alarm was escaped by removing a plate of glass and the goods were carried through a blind alley in the rear over the tops of sawmill sheds to a waiting automobile.

The police believe the case to be the work of professionals. The burglar alarm was escaped by removing a plate of glass and the goods were carried through a blind alley in the rear over the tops of sawmill sheds to a waiting automobile.

The police believe the case to be the work of professionals. The burglar alarm was escaped by removing a plate of glass and the goods were carried through a blind alley in the rear over the tops of sawmill sheds to a waiting automobile.

The police believe the case to be the work of professionals. The burglar alarm was escaped by removing a plate of glass and the goods were carried through a blind alley in the rear over the tops of sawmill sheds to a waiting automobile.

The police believe the case to be the work of professionals. The burglar alarm was escaped by removing a plate of glass and the goods were carried through a blind alley in the rear over the tops of sawmill sheds to a waiting automobile.

REV. MR. FISHER

Talks on Men and the Election Results

Governor Hughes He Considers Leading Figure in Political Life Today—Labor Vote Can't Be Delivered

"After Election Lessons: What Can Be Done for the Common Good?" was the subject of Rev. C. E. Fisher's Sunday night sermon at the First Universalist church. Mr. Fisher said he did not believe in all of the policies of President Roosevelt. He looked upon Mr. Roosevelt's advocacy of strong-arm rules and navies as an argument for the needless expenditure of public money, and he alleged that Mr. Bryan had tried to excite class hatred. He said it was impossible nowadays to deliver the labor vote, and he thanked God for it. He said his respects to the trusts and said he considered Gov. Charles E. Hughes of New York the leading figure in American life today. He said in part:

"The time has come when the common people must be considered. I thought as I looked over my ballot last Tuesday and saw the number of presidential candidates, that if we could take the grain of truth from each one of them and put those grains all in one man, what a wonderful man and candidate we would have. You all will agree that the social life of America needs toning up. It is slowly coming to the time when the process will begin in earnest. And the time will come, too, when presidential candidates won't have to go out on the stump looking for votes. I don't believe the candidates in this last election influenced very many people to change their votes. People are thinking for themselves. The day of the torchlight and the brass band, as persuaders, has gone."

"The great question was asked and answered by one of the candidates for president in this last election: 'Do the people rule?' I will answer it: 'Yes' and 'No.' The people, when aroused, will assert their right to rule. In matters of mere routine they show little interest in ruling for themselves. If you impose on the people a little, they will rule for themselves. Men of character and righteousness will come to the front in politics. We have some of them today. Money isn't all there is in life, for some men, neither is political office, although it would seem to be in Lowell just now, when there money. It takes 67 per cent of the revenues of the land to support these vast numbers of fighting men and machines. With all of the poverty and the sin and the degradation existent in the land at the present time, it seems wholly wrong to me to spend so much money for fighting when that same money would do great good in alleviating suffering."

REV. CALSB E. FISHER.

"The trouble with Mr. Bryan was that he tried to excite class hatred, set class against class. While I will not deny that to an extent there is a division of classes, nevertheless the man we want as president is not the man who will widen the chasm between classes, but who will bridge it and finally bring them together. Then, too, there was that monstrous idea of delivering the labor vote. You can't do it nowadays and I thank God for it. The labor vote will think. Perhaps it didn't once, but it does today. You are so many men aspiring for petty offices. There are men today in public life who would stand by a principle to their last breath, men that money could no more touch or swerve from a purpose than a gale of wind could change their minds.

"I don't believe in all of the policies of Theodore Roosevelt, but I do believe he is honest and righteous to the core. He is a strong, sturdy man, a man who does as he believes right."

"The men we need are the men who hold in their power good and who will spread that good about. There are many men who might do much good in the world, who consider themselves doing much if they keep themselves free from taint."

"Now, Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States, has advocated vast armaments, has advocated strong armies and navies. This I consider nothing short of a waste of public

RAY LAMPHERE

GUNNESS MURDER

The Prisoner, Lawyer and the Victims

can't run men in today by the halter, into religion or anything else.

"I will tell you that when a man toils all day, works hard, exhausts his body, and then receives only remuneration enough to pay for what he eats, and his clothing, there is something radically wrong. Man was never made to work like that and to live like that. There's got to be something besides mere talk of abolishing the trusts. No trust has gone out of business, as far as I can learn, despite the vast amount of talk about putting them out. You've got to do more than talk; you've got to act. There is something in the hearts of men which won't stand abuse; that something is righteousness. I have nothing against trusts, only as they affect the common good, and when they do, then I believe in abolishing them."

In conclusion, Mr. Fisher said that he considered the leading figure in American life today to be Gov. Charles E. Hughes of New York. He considered him a big man, a man of absolute integrity, with righteousness as the basis for his acts.

THE DUKE

WILL NOT COMMAND UNTIL MADE REAR ADMIRAL

TUREN, Nov. 9.—The Duke of the Abruzzi, in conversation yesterday, jokingly said that he would not go to the United States nor on a cruise on the battleship Regina Elena, which, therefore, would not be under his command on her next voyage. This confirms the official statement that the duke will not again take command until after his promotion as rear admiral.

One of the duke's intimate friends said yesterday that seven chances out of ten were favorable to the marriage of the duke to Miss Ekins, but there were three still against it.

7-20-4
10c CIGAR

Actual increase for past nine months two million, sixty-eight thousand. Factory, Manchester, N. H.

AT FIRST BAPTIST

Rev. S. W. Cummings on "Secret of Life"

Rev. Selden W. Cummings, pastor of the First Baptist church in Amherst, N. S., occupied the pulpit at the First Baptist church in this city, yesterday. In the evening he preached on "The Secret of Life." In part he said:

"What is the secret of life? True life is not power. Otherwise the palaces of the Caesars would not be in ruins. Life is not money. O the delectableness of riches! Intellectual power or capacity is not life. Lord Byron was one of the greatest geniuses of his age, but on account of his dissipation he died an old man at 36. The man who follows the instruction of the text has found the secret of life. It bears our relation to man and to God. How shall a man 'do justly'? It is to live on the square, to so live, to so transact his business that he can look into his neighbor's eye and not flinch. To so live that he will not take advantage of another man even in trading horses."

"To Show Mercy." The original word comprised the idea of forgiveness and compassion. When Christ looked on a man or a woman and had compassion on him or her his very life went out and for the time being he was that person. In our relation to our fellow-man the secret of life is to do justly the secret of life toward God is to walk humbly before him. This is to live so that we become subject to him, until what he wants we do and we strive constantly to serve him. God made this world and all that therein is. He made us and to walk with him is to know that fact and to be in proper relation with him. From the power house of God there should come to us his strength to be and to do. That power is over at the disposal of the weakest child of his. We can come into this relation with God through Jesus Christ. I can find no other way revealed by which we can come into the father. Christ wants to touch your life. He wants to mend that broken life of yours. If you will let him, you will solve the secret of life."

CITY OF MANILA

REPORTED TO BE FREE FROM CHOLERA

MANILA, Nov. 9.—The Merchants' association of this city has issued the following statement:

"Manila is reported by the health authorities to be practically free of cholera. Since Nov. 1, in a population of nearly one-quarter of a million, one case daily has occurred. These cases were found in outlying districts, not usually visited by whites. The investigation proved to be of a very light character. Since its beginning in the month of July there were only 22 cases among the white people. Of these but ten proved fatal. There was not a single case among the 12,000 city school children."

"Soldiers from Fort McKinley and sailors from the Asiatic squadron are now entering the city freely and the citizens are anxious that Rear Admiral Sperry will permit them to carry out the plans for the reception of the Atlantic battleship fleet. If these plans are not carried out, it is feared that a false and harmful impression will be given to the world of the sanitary condition of Manila, which unquestionably is better than of any other city in the Orient and probably is unexcelled by any large city of the world."

LIKE FINDING IT.

We've had bargains before, we've had soap bargains before, but nothing like our present offering, and we do not believe that its equal has ever been shown in Lowell. Venetian Violet soap, a pure, perfumed, toilet soap, three cakes in a box at 10c a box. Remember this offer is for this one lot only and may last but a few weeks. Howard, the druggist, 197 Central street.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of J. C. Watson

HUGH J. MOLLOY

Of the State Normal School Faculty

TELLS WHAT IS WORTH WHILE IN THE SCHOOLS

Methods Are Only Incidental—The Children Are Worth While—True Education Will Work Out All Problems of the Nation

Mr. Hugh J. Molloy of the State Normal school was the speaker at the Elliot Congregational church Sunday night. It was the first of a series of three sermons for young people. The general theme of the course is "What is Worth While?"

Mr. Molloy said that the question, "What is worth while in the schools?" he considered a more appropriate one to ask. "The great questions that are now being debated," he said, "will not be settled by the men and women of today, but by the boys and girls now in the schools. That is the serious question. In connection with the consideration of what is worth while in the schools, that through these boys and girls now growing up in the schools, the great questions of the republic are to be settled."

"Changes may be made in the curricula of the schools, new methods devised and adopted; but the essentials, the fundamentals of the training of children will not be materially changed. The best things in life are as old as the race itself. The finest

PROF. HUGH J. MOLLOY.

STOLE JEWELRY

Thieves Made Big Haul in New York

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—With the ray of a burglar's dark lantern shining in their eyes and two revolvers held by masked men covering them, the five members of the family of Charles E. Taylor, a wealthy granite dealer, lay in bed in the Taylor home at Borch Park, Brooklyn, for more than an hour yesterday morning while a third masked burglar picked up $10,000 worth of jewelry and silverware. Then the burglars bound Mr. Taylor hand and foot and escaped with their booty.

Mr. Taylor, who has a number of rich granite quarries in New England, is known as a crack shot. It is believed that the burglars knew this and took no chances with him. The three men breaking entrance to the house by breaking a window on the ground floor. The burglar who was ransacking the room found a jewel case with two wedding rings in a bureau and was about to take them, when Mr. Taylor asked him not to. The burglar replied that he would take everything of value he could find. Then one of the burglars standing guard over the family broke up: "Don't take these wedding rings. I am a married man, and have some sentiment about wedding rings," he said.

The rings were left, but two toy banks belonging to Charles and Harold, the Taylor boys, were broken and rifled of $17. The boys cried and were ordered to be quiet. When the room had been completely searched the third robber went down stairs and piled up the silverware. He later returned to the bedside and commanded Mr. Taylor to give up a $500 ring he wore. The ring would not come off, so one of the burglars grimly drew a jack knife and was going to cut Mr. Taylor's finger off. Mr. Taylor protested and asked permission to go to the bathroom and soak the ring off with soap and water.

"We will do that ourselves," said the man who appeared to be the leader of the trio, and he did forthwith. After this the leader lifted Mr. Taylor's pillow and found a revolver under it. He laughed and dropped the weapon into his pocket. Then the three men produced a rope and bound Mr. Taylor's hands and feet. They ordered him not to make an outcry for fifteen minutes, saying one of their number would remain on guard that length of time. They then hurried away. The telephone wires had been cut and a burglar escaped before Mr. Taylor could notify the police. He was able to give a perfect description of the trio, but this will hardly be of any assistance as the burglars were all dressed alike and wore masks. The burglars wore black suits, black derby hats, kid gloves and white masks. They were wearing numbers over their shoes.

Mr. Taylor believes one of the men was a neighbor and the fact that the men wore gloves would seem to indicate this.

JOHN W. KERN

IS A CANDIDATE FOR U. S. SENATOR

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 9.—John W. Kern, defeated democratic candidate, vice president, announced last night that he is a candidate for United States senator to succeed James A. Henderson. The incoming Indiana legislature will be democratic on joint ballot by a majority of 12.

QUALITY IS THE TEST

Lawn Tea Aprons with ruffle and pocket, only 300 at

2 for 25c

Gowns of good flannellette, pretty stripes or plain white, good width and length, the kind that are always sold 69c for 98c, now

For the benefit of those unable to attend our Thursday sales, we will offer, just for today, some 25c and 29c Corset Covers and Aprons 19c

For a few days we will sell the 49c Corset Covers we are selling for 29c,

2 for 50c

Ecru and Black Lace Waists, formerly priced up to $2.98, new styles never shown $1.50 before at

$3.50 Lace Waists, now reduced to $2.97

$4.50 Lace Waists, now reduced to $3.97

Lawn Tea Aprons with wide edge of pretty embroidery, and larger Aprons with embroidery insertion, the usual 49c grades, today

29c

The White Store

114-Merrimack St.—116

MILLS BURNED

PRINCIPAL INDUSTRY AT EAST MACHIAS WIPED OUT

MACHIAS, Me., Nov. 9.—The principal industry of the town of East Machias has been wiped out by two fires, both apparently of incendiary origin, which have destroyed the mills of the East Machias Lumber company. The steam saw and planing mill valued, with its stock, finished and unfinished at $8000, was burned Saturday night, while another mill belonging to the same company was burned several months ago.

The mill destroyed Saturday night has been shut down for ten days. It was partly insured.

A SUICIDE

MAN WAS DESPONDENT OVER NERVOUS AFFLICTION

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Walworth H. Tappan, well known in the iron and steel trade of the south and middle-west, and who lived in Louisville, Ky., blew his brains out last night in the washroom of the Hotel Savoy in Fifth avenue. The report of the shot, fired from a large calibre revolver, was heard through the lower part of the hotel and created great excitement. Despondency over a nervous affliction which was constantly growing worse is given by his wife as the cause of Tappan's act. Mrs. Tappan, who came to New York several weeks ago with her husband, said that she had not seen him since Saturday, when he obtained rooms for them in a fashionable boarding house on the upper west side. The police believe that Tappan had been contemplating self-destruction since then.

GETS PRISON SENTENCE

DENVER, Nov. 9.—John Goddard, president of the defunct State Bank of Rockford, Colo., was sentenced on Saturday to serve eight or ten years in the state prison. He had been convicted on charges of making unlawful use of the bank's funds and receiving deposits after he knew the bank to be insolvent.

KING'S BIRTHDAY HONORS

LONDON, Nov. 9.—A long list of the king's birthday honors was issued yesterday. The honors are bestowed mainly as rewards for political and public service at home and in the colonies. Sir Edward Clarke, the former solicitor general, is made a privy councillor. Alfred Russell Wallace is given the Order of Merit, while George J. Brampton, the sculptor, is knighted.

WALKED TO MUD POND

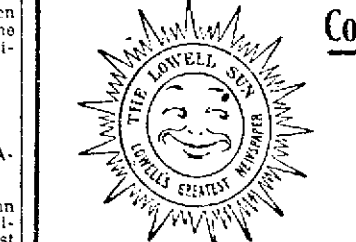

The Knights of King Arthur, of the First Congregational church, went for a tramp with their pastor, Saturday. They went to Mud Pond, where they enjoyed luncheon under the pines. A football game, played by two scrub teams, furnished lots of excitement and fun. The boys tramped back to Vermont avenue in the cool of the evening.

JELL-O
The Dainty Dessert
PREPARED INSTANTLY. Simply add boiling water, cool and serve. 10c. per package at all grocers. 7 flavors. Refuse all substitutes.

You Can Depend Upon Our Olive Oil
Being Perfectly PURE.
Try our Pure Olive Oil.
GOODALE'S DRUG STORE
Central Cor. Jackson Street.

We do the work of the OCULIST and OPTICIAN combined. Appointments made by Tel. 1720.
DR. HICKS OPTICAL CO.
WYMAN'S EXCH. 80 MERRIMACK ST. LOWELL, MASS.

Soda Crackers with crack to them
Soda Crackers with snap to them
Soda Crackers with taste to them
Uneeda Biscuit
Oven-fresh—Oven-crisp—Oven-clean—
5c In dust tight, moisture proof packages. Never sold in bulk.
NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

Count That Day Lost

WHOSE low descending sun goes down upon that vacant house, when a small To Let ad in THE SUN would quickly find a tenant. Little cost. Big results.

THE LOWELL SUN

SUN BUILDING, MERRIMACK SQUARE, LOWELL, MASS.

JOHN H. HARRINGTON, PROPRIETOR.

Member of the Associated Press.

Three Dollars per Year. Twenty-five Cents per Month

The Sun receives the full day service of THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, the greatest news-gathering organization in the world. The entire service is received over a leased wire, by our own operator, in our own office in The Sun building.

SWORN CIRCULATION OF THE SUN

The sworn daily net average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1907 was

15,453

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reldy, business manager, and Alfred Pilote, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1908.

JAMES E. O'DONNELL, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest net average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

The candidate is busy soliciting votes. Do not let his blandishments delude you nor promise him support unless you know him to be the best man available for the office he seeks. That is the way to improve our city government and thereby reduce our taxes, our rents and municipal expenditures.

MORE CONFIDENCE IN THE COURTS.

The greatest deterrent of crime in this or any other country is the certainty with which punishment falls upon guilt. If wealthy criminals can purchase immunity nobody will respect the law or the courts.

We have been getting accustomed to see wealthy men set free on one pretext or another when, according to the evidence, they should be convicted. The conviction of a few trust magnates and bank wreckers will inspire fresh confidence in the administration of justice. The federal courts seem to be above the reach of influence. We cannot say as much of the state courts.

BURNS, THE GREAT LABOR LEADER.

John Burns, the great labor leader of England, was becoming unpopular with the socialists and even Premier Asquith until King Edward sent for him to spend the evening with his majesty at Sandringham Palace.

Burns opposed the scheme of temporary relief in the form of charity claiming that the only proper way to relieve the 600,000 unemployed in London was by providing them work.

The king is much concerned over the situation and wanted the views of Burns who is the most esteemed labor leader in England, although as a member of parliament he has shown a conservatism of which some people believe him incapable. The king is expected to use his influence in effecting a practical solution of the difficulty.

REPUBLICANISM AND PROSPERITY.

Before election the republicans promised an early return of prosperity if Taft were elected. Now that he has been triumphantly elected, it is in order to hold the republicans, the manufacturers and the trust magnates to their promises. Will they make good?

There is evidence that they are doing their level best to convince the country that republicanism and prosperity are inseparably associated and that to allow any other party to take hold of the business throttle valve would mean disaster to the nation.

The people after two years of republican depression are quite willing to let the republican party have all the credit it may from the business revival. It is regretted by the leaders, of course, that republicans cannot lay their years of panic at the door of any other party while endeavoring to infuse new life into languishing enterprises their panic has almost ruined.

IT WAS BRYAN WHO WAS FEARED.

A canvass of the returns in the national election shows that while in some close states Taft received a substantial plurality, the democratic state ticket was elected. This was the case in Minnesota where Johnson was elected; in Ohio where Harrison was elected governor; in Indiana where Marshall was chosen by a plurality of over 50,000. In Illinois Adlai Stevenson, while failing in election, polled 120,000 more votes than Bryan. Thus it appears that throughout the country Bryan ran behind his ticket.

The people are not afraid of the democratic party, but they were in this case afraid to elect Bryan, lest the period of depression and panic should be prolonged. They know that the republicans are in league with the money power of the country and, therefore, they voted for the party they believed to have the strongest grip on business and that can sooner than any other restore the normal conditions of business.

The lesson should not be lost on the democratic party. It teaches all parties that it is foolishness to run the same man for president a second time if defeated the first time. It is madness to run a twice defeated candidate a third time. Bryan's case will stand as proof of this claim.

TRIAL MARRIAGE AND THE AFFINITY FAD.

It is amusing with what ingenuity those who do wrong will try to justify their action by some authority supposed to be respectable. A couple of young people in Worcester decided to elope and on being apprehended protested that they had agreed to put in practice Mrs. Parson's theory as to trial marriage. The young man alluded to the young woman as his soul affinity and stated that he was the soul affinity of the girl who had entered into the trial marriage arrangement with him.

The Worcester "affinities" have been reminded by the police that the trial marriage agreement is not recognized by law and that they will go to jail if they persist in carrying it out. As to the "affinity" business it may last a couple of weeks and wind up as it did with a noted New York artist who put away a faithful wife for an affinity "model" whom he kicked and abused before they had been long together.

The trial marriage, the affinity and other similar ideas are but flimsy pretexts to gloss over illicit cohabitation by parties. A good many people who do not hesitate to do wrong are very much "put out" if their conduct is called by the proper name. It is this tendency to give crime the aspect of decency that causes the mantle of religion to be thrown around free love, polygamy and some "cults" bearing very high sounding names.

SEEN AND HEARD

A dollar has only 100 cents in it, but there's a bunch of college "grads" that don't count that far when it comes to finance.

Because your friend talks in six figures it does not mean that he has a credit balance with his landlady.

An automobilist who was touring the country recently in his car was called into court on the charge of over-speeding. Finding the trial a friend, who had been riding in the car with the defendant was summoned as a witness.

After taking the oath, and being interrogated as to his knowledge of automobilism, the venerable justice pronounced the following question to the witness: "Now my man, if your chauffeur was running your automobile at the rate of forty or fifty miles an hour, as the policeman swore this automobile was running, and the chauffeur should stop it within twelve feet from the place where the officer signalled him, where would the chauffeur go?" To which the witness replied: "It would all depend upon his early training."

The day after election, when you read the returns in the morning papers, you can't help wondering if the election prospects will ever get courage to prophesy again.

The man who was never late to a lecture must be insufferable to meet.

All the girls agree that high-heeled shoes are foolish; also that it would be foolish not to wear them when they are in fashion.

Tuberculosis doesn't frighten people half so much nowadays as consumption did thirty years ago.

It is a mistake for a father to postpone disciplining his son until the boy has grown big enough to thrash him, (the father).

Perhaps it is only natural that the six-ounce trout that you caught ten years ago should have grown half an ounce every time you have told the story.

If you should always say exactly what you think about what your friends say to you, how many enemies would you have before night.

BEFORE IT IS TOO LATE

If you've a tender message or a loving word to say, Don't wait till you forget it, but whisper it today.

We live but in the present, the future is unknown.

Tomorrow is a mystery, today is all our own.

The tender words unspoken, the letter never sent,

The long-forgotten messages, the wealth of love unspent—

For these some hearts are breaking, for these some loved ones wait.

So show them that you care for them before it is too late.

"No matter how small your income is, save part of it." Everybody agrees that it is a good rule, but how many people follow it?

The man who learns to play the cornet in a flat must have a very winning disposition, as well as a natural talent for music, in order to be popular.

The very same girl who almost sits on a man's knees in a crowded electric car would very likely freeze him with a look if he should try to sit down beside her in a hammock.

When a man drops into your office in business hours, just to kill time, he ought at least to ask you if you have any time to kill.

A mother can never understand, three months after her boy has got a settee to empty waste-baskets in the office of a big corporation, why he isn't promoted and his salary increased.

Perhaps one reason why the girls embrace so affectionately when they meet is to set the men a good example.

The old-fashioned wife who used to make her husband shirts has that much more time now for fancy work.

It has been noticed that a girl is always ready to learn Esperanto, if the young man who offers to teach her is all right.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Edward G. Gilmore, the New York theatrical manager, who for 23 years ran the Academy of Music in that city, died Thursday at his home, 78 Irving place. He was taken ill last Saturday at the theatre. The immediate cause of death was acute peritonitis. Mr. Gilmore was the chief manager in New York. No man, however, had any larger acquaintance than he for he had been prominent not alone as a theatrical manager, but as a hotel man and politician.

He was born in Monson, Mass., 60 years ago. His hotel experience began when he went there from Massachusetts without a cent as a 15-year-old lad, and got a job helping the bartender at the old Monson Hotel. His first venture was as manager of the Old Theatre Company at 511 Broadway. In 1875 he leased the old freight depot on the site of what is now Madison Square Garden, fitted up the place for a theatre and concert hall and gave it the name of Gilmore's Garden. Mr. Gilmore once said that he has made $75,000 a year while he ran Gilmore's Garden. In 1878 Mr. Gilmore leased Niblo's Garden, and it was there that "The Old Homestead" was first produced, a play that netted Mr. Gilmore and his partners a small fortune. He backed the Kithafes when they began to bring out the spectacles. It was in 1888 that Mr. Gilmore, with Eugene Tompkins of Boston, who survives him, bought the Academy of Music for $350,000. "The Old Homestead" was put on for its wonderful run of three years. Mr. Gilmore was once manager for Mrs. Leslie Carter and had also managed other well-known stars. He was superintendent of public works for some years, and one of the leading members of the Ainen corner.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

THE PARENT AND THE SCHOOL.

Boston Herald: A striking reminder of student insubordination and egotism is given in the appeal of the McRose school authorities asking for parental support in putting an end to extension of secret organizations in the high school, which are considered harmful and prejudicial to democracy and to school discipline and legitimate educational ends. The very fact that the school authorities have to ask for such aid is a sad comment on the state of family discipline, as well as a confession of weakness in the public school morals. Under normal conditions school authorities should be so certain of parental support in enforcing rigid discipline that there would be no need of a special appeal for aid. Melrose is not a sinner above other towns. Indeed, it is better than most, for it is squarely facing and combating an evil which has invaded the schools of the country.

FIRST PROMINENT VICTIM OF HIGH FINANCE

Boston Herald: Charles W. Morse, found guilty on fifty-three counts of appropriating bank funds and embezzling, has been sentenced to fifteen years at hard labor. There is no alternative of fine. Morse was arrested on charges of "high finance" twelve months ago. Morse is a man of fortune with $200,000,000 today he is a felon, with none to do him honor. The Morse arrest, trial and conviction is a landmark in the history of Massachusetts, such as those of New York, where the punishment of Banker Morse, the Standard Oil and other great financiers has been a landmark in the history of the state. The federal government, however, while this case is pending, has no means of interfering with the liberties of the people.

Y. M. C. A. STAFF COURSE

The second entertainment of the course conducted by the association at the First Congregational church will occur Wednesday evening, Nov. 11. On Tuesday evening Isabel Garritani, Boston, will make her second appearance alone at the Y. M. C. A. Temple in "Parasol," which she is to give here in a solid week. One man has booked her for a solid week in cities near Boston. As a reader she is not excelled on the American platform, and is considered by some as even superior to Leland Rogers. She is accompanied by Miss Tina Mae Holmes, an organist and Miss Harriet Shaw as harpist.

CENSUS BUREAU

REPORTS ON THE SUPPLY OF COTTON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The world's production of cotton for mill consumption during the year ending August 31, 1908, exceeded by 2,340,000 bales, the production of the previous year, according to the census bureau's report on the supply and distribution of cotton. It is a fact, the report shows, that the fluctuations in the world's supply of cotton is measured practically by the variations in the annual production in the United States. If the consumption of cotton in 1909 equals that of 1908, the United States, it is declared, must contribute about 12,500,000 bales to prevent further decrease in the stocks. The number of cotton spindles in this country is 27,964,387, the distribution among the states giving Massachusetts 54 per cent, South Carolina, 13 per cent, and North Carolina, 11 per cent. Rhode Island ranks fourth in the list. The number of spindles has increased 22 per cent in the last eight years and the consumption of cotton 24 per cent. The annual exports of manufacturers of cotton are declared to be subject to wide fluctuations, those for 1908 amounting to $25,177,758, or less than one-half the value of exports for 1905 which aggregated in value more than $50,000,000.

This reduction is due to the falling off in the exports to China. An interesting fact to producers is that of the total cotton supply of the country for 1908, amounting to 4,549,500 bales, 31 per cent was consumed in the United States.

Prod C. Church held the insurance on Frank P. Cheney's property on Tanner street, damaged by fire Saturday afternoon.

Fresh Clams Every Day

At the Lowell Inn, Fresh fish direct from the Boston wharves. Lobsters fresh from the traps. Meats of all kinds and wholesale. Call and see us. LOWELL INN, busiest place in Central street.

JOHN J. O'CONNELL, FUNERAL DIRECTOR,

Telephone Connection

1010 Central St. Davis Sq.

ST. THOMAS' SALVE

—FOR—

Piles, Old Sores and Skin Diseases

—FOR SALE—

At All Up-to-Date Drug Stores

THIRTY-FIVE CENTS.

Wall Paper

—AT—

97 APPLETON ST.

ELECTRIC AND COMBINATION

FIXTURES

At Manufacturer's Prices

—AT—

DERBY & MORSE'S

84 Middle Street, Lowell, Mass.

JAMES E. O'DONNELL

Attorney-at-Law

Hilth Building Lowell, Mass.

PUTNAM & SON CO., 166 Central Street

For the Man Who Enjoys Fine Clothes and is satisfied only with the best we provide,

ROGERS-PEET'S OVERCOATS.

Rich, elegant, splendidly tailored, fitting perfectly, these superb garments are in every respect as satisfactory as the most exacting man can desire. Made from a variety of handsome soft finished English coatings, French patent beavers, and the finest qualities of kerseys and meltons. They may be had in plain black, blue, olive, Cambridge gray and oxford and in the new pencil stripe and shadow stripe olive and Cambridge kerseys. The linings are sumptuous, pure dye silk or specially woven worsteds. Such garments easily supplant those for which a merchant tailor charges extravagant prices.

ROGERS-PEET'S OVERCOATS

$20, $25, $30, up to $55

TEXTILE NOTES

Interesting Items From Mill Centers

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 9.—A local business change of interest is that the Overall-Hawes Hat Co. is to succeed the Sperry-Walsh Hat Co. The new company, which was incorporated some time ago for this purpose, has elected the following officers: D. D. Overall, president; John W. Overall, first vice president; J. C. Dearman, second vice president, and Rush Hawes, secretary and treasurer.

ASHLAND MILLS RESUME. JEWEL CITY, Conn., Nov. 9.—The Ashland Cotton Company mills have resumed operations after a shut-down, principally to install a new water pipe for the boilers. A start would have been made before had the water in the pond and reservoir been sufficiently high to warrant it. A change of time has been made in the Slater mill, starting a half hour later so as to give the water time to get down from the Ashland mills which are above on the same stream.

METHUEN MILLS ON FULL TIME

LAWRENCE, Nov. 9.—The Methuen company is now able to run its mills on full time, after several weeks of short time, owing to low water in the Spicket river. The rains have brought the river up to a considerably higher stage than has been reached for some time. It is thought that with the water which enters the Spicket from New Hampshire, the mills can continue on full time.

KNOXVILLE, MILLS BUSY

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 9.—The Knoxville cotton mills are now running on full time. They have enough orders to keep them busy until February, and are daily receiving orders for their goods. In some instances the future prices offered for cotton goods are not what cotton manufacturers believe should be paid and that class of orders is not generally accepted by cotton mills throughout the country. The Knoxville cotton mills during the dull times lost some of their employees and have as yet not obtained a full force, but could use more if they would apply for work. The Knoxville woolen mills are running with a larger force than for the past 11 months, and are now obtaining many orders. They hope soon to have the mills running at capacity.

EMBROIDERY PLANT MORTGAGED

JERSEY CITY, Nov. 9.—There has been recorded in the registrar's office at the court house a mortgage whereby Max Neuburger of Manhattan pledges to Louis M. Simson of the same place the plant formerly belonging to the Weebawken Embroidery Works, located on Ninth and Tenth streets, west New York, as security for the payment of $17,500. The mortgage is dated Oct. 22, and is payable in five years with interest at the rate of 5½ per cent. per annum.

COAL $6.50 Per Ton

I am now delivering until further notice, at the above price, a quality of No. 2 Nut coal, that you cannot equal in this State. Just the proper fuel for your kitchen range. If you try it once, you will always use it. I will guarantee every ton to give full satisfaction or have it changed at my expense. No extra charge for half ton lots.

Mail and telephone orders will receive immediate attention.

JOHN P. QUINN

Office and Yards Gorham and Dix Sts.

Take any Gorham Street car. Two telephones—1180 and 2480—when one is busy call the other.

WILLIAM H. TAFT

On Golf Links at Hot Springs, Va.

SAVANNAH RACE

Two More Big Cars are Entered

The first car to practice on the course was the Buick entered by E. S. Hearne of Chicago, in the Light Car Race.

Mr. Hearne, who will drive the car himself, and his mechanic Jack Tower report the course very fast and have been credited by the amateur clockers who are already on the job with making the 9.5 miles which constitute the Light car course in 16 minutes and 15 seconds.

Word was received from the Acme factory that Len Zengle, who brought the Pennsylvania car into prominence during the summer, would pilot the Acme in Savannah instead of Paschke.

It is also announced that the locomotive entered by Bergdoll will probably not start as Mr. Bergdoll prefers to drive in the Light Car Race.

Due to prohibition laws existing in the southern states, the managers of the "Wall Street Special" have decided to provide cocktails, wines and liquors with the meals. It is expected therefore that the passengers of this train will not have to utilize the numerous drug stores in Savannah.

ARRIVED AT NEWPORT

NEWPORT, R. I., Nov. 9.—The scout cruiser Chester, which left Rockland, Me., Saturday night after undergoing standardization trials in preparation for the 2000 mile race with the scout cruisers Salem and Birmingham, arrived yesterday at the Bradford coal station. She will take on coal here and may possibly await the arrival of the Salem and Birmingham, which are to have their standardization tests within the next month.

The S. P. O. is of 95.4 mm. of bore and has a stroke of 139 mm. It has

PRES. ROOSEVELT

Says That Religion Has no Place in Politics

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Secretary Taft's religious faith is purely his own private concern and not a matter for general discussion and political discrimination, says President Roosevelt, in a letter he made public last night, in which he answers numerous correspondents.

The letter selected for reply, from many similar ones received by the president during the campaign, is one written to him by J. C. Martin of Dayton, O. The president says he deferred the publication of the letter until now, to avoid any agitation likely to influence the election. The president's letter follows:

"My Dear Sir—I have received your letter, running in part as follows: 'While it is claimed almost universally that religion should not enter into politics, yet there is no denying that it does, and the mass of the voters that are not Catholics will not support a man for any office, especially for president of the United States, who is a Roman Catholic.'

"Since Taft has been nominated for president by the republican party, it is being circulated and is constantly urged as a reason for not voting for Taft that he is an infidel (Unitarian) and his wife and brother Roman Catholics. If his feelings are in sympathy with the Roman Catholic church, on account of his wife and brother being Catholics, that would be objectionable to sufficient number of voters to defeat him. On the other hand, if he is an infidel, that would be sure to mean defeat. . . . I am writing this letter for the sole purpose of giving Mr. Taft an opportunity to let the world know what his religious beliefs are."

Many Similar Inquiries
"I received many such letters as yours during the campaign, expressing dissatisfaction with Mr. Taft on religious grounds; some of them on the ground that he was a Unitarian, and others on the ground that he was suspected to be in sympathy with Catholics. I did not answer any of these letters during the campaign because I regarded it as an outrage even to agitate such a question as a man's religious convictions, with the purpose of influencing a political election. But now that the campaign is over, when there is opportunity for men calmly to consider whether such propositions as those you make in your letter would lead, I wish to invite them to consider them, and I have selected your letter to answer because you advance both the objections commonly urged against Mr. Taft, namely, that he is a Unitarian and also that he is suspected of sympathy with the Catholics."

Freedom of Conscience
"You ask that Mr. Taft shall let the world know what his religious beliefs are. This is purely his own private concern; and it is a matter between him and his Maker, a matter for his own conscience, and to require it to be made public under penalty of political discrimination is to negative the first principles of our government, which guarantee complete religious liberty, and the right to each man to act in religious affairs as his own conscience dictates."

"Mr. Taft never asked my advice in the matter, but if he had asked it, I should have emphatically advised him against thus stating publicly his religious belief. The demand for a statement of a candidate's religious belief can have no meaning except that there may be discrimination for or against him because of that belief. Discrimination against the holder of one faith means retaliatory discrimination against men of other faiths. The inevitable result of entering upon such a practice would be an abandonment of our real freedom of conscience and a reversion to the dreadful conditions of religious discrimination which in so many lands have proved fatal to true liberty, to true religion and to all advance in civilization."

Lincoln and Adams Cited
"To discriminate against a thoroughly upright citizen because he belongs to some particular church or because, like Abraham Lincoln, he has not avowed his allegiance to any church, is an outrage against that liberty of conscience which is one of the foundations of American life. You are entitled to know whether a man seeking your suffrage is a man of clean and upright life, honorable in all his dealings with his fellows and fit by qualification and purpose to do well in the office for which he is a candidate; but you are not entitled to know matters which lie purely between himself and his Maker."

"If it is proper or legitimate to oppose a man for being a Unitarian, as was John Quincy Adams, for instance, as is Rev. Edward Everett Hale, at the present moment chairman of the senate, and an American of whose life all good Americans are proud, then it would be equally proper to support or oppose a man because of his views of justification by faith, or the method of administering the sacrament, or the gospel of salvation by works. If you once enter on such a career there is absolutely no limit at which you can legitimately stop."

"Foul Slander" on Catholics
"So much for your objections to Mr. Taft because he is a Unitarian. Now, for your objections to him because you think his wife and brother to be Roman Catholics. As it happens, they are not, but if they were, or if he were a Roman Catholic himself, it ought not to affect in the slightest degree any man's supporting him for the position of president. You say that 'the mass of the voters that are not Catholics will not support a man for any office, especially for president of the United States, who is a Roman Catholic.' I believe that when you say this you are slandering your fellow countrymen. I do not for one moment believe that the mass of our fellow citizens, or that any considerable number of our fellow citizens can be influenced by such narrow bigotry as to refuse to vote for any thoroughly upright and fit man because he happens to have a particular religious creed. Such a consideration should never be treated as a reason for either supporting or opposing a candidate for a political office."

"Are you aware that there are several states in this Union where the majority of the people are now Catholics? I should reprobate in the severest terms the Catholics who in those states (or in any other states) refused to vote for the most fit man because he happened to be a Protestant, and my condemnation would be exactly as severe for Protestants who, under reversed circumstances, refused to vote for a Catholic."

"In public life I am happy to say that I have known many men who were elected and constantly re-elected to office in districts where the great majority of their constituents were of a different religious belief. I know Catholics who have for many years represented constituencies mainly Protestant, and Protestants who have for many years represented constituencies mainly Catholic; and among the congressmen whom I know particularly well was one man of Jewish faith, who represented a district in which there were hardly any Jews at all. All of these men by their very existence in political life refute the slander you have uttered against your fellow-Americans."

"I believe that this republic will endure for many centuries. If so there will doubtless be among its presidents Protestants and Catholics, and very probably at some time Jews."

"I have consistently tried while president to act in relation to my fellow-Americans of Catholic faith as I hope that any future president who happens to be a Catholic will act toward his fellow-Americans of Protestant faith. Had I followed any other course I should have felt that I was unfit to represent the American people."

Instances His Cabinet
"In my cabinet at the present moment there sit, side by side, Catholic and Protestant, Christian and Jew, each man chosen because in my belief he is peculiarly fit to exercise on behalf of all our people the duties of the office to which I have appointed him."

"In no case does the man's religious belief in any way influence his discharge of his duties, save as it makes him more eager to act justly and uprightly in his relations to all men."

"The same principles that I obtained in appointing the members of my cabinet, the highest officials under me, the officials to whom is entrusted the work of carrying out all the important policies of my administration, are the principles upon which all good Americans should act in choosing, whether by election or appointment, the men to fill any office, from the highest to the lowest in the land."

"Yours truly,
(Signed) 'Theodore Roosevelt.'"

BIG BREWERY
TO BE BUILT ON ISTHMUS OF PANAMA
PITTSBURG, Nov. 8.—That capitalists of New York and Pittsburgh have combined to make beer on the isthmus of Panama is an announcement of yesterday, Col. L. Smith of New York city is named by Pittsburgh people as the one having secured concessions on the isthmus. Plans for an immense brewery, which will turn out 2,000,000 barrels a year, have been drawn by Vincent Wyss-Thalman of Pittsburgh, who declares he is backed by a great deal of money here.

Mr. Wyss-Thalman last night said it is the intention to incorporate a company under the laws of New Jersey, and that it will be known as the Pan-American brewing company. The concern, according to the Pittsburgh man, has already bought four acres of land in the city of Panama and will have the exclusive rights to make beer on the isthmus. About $750,000 will be expended in the erection of the plant. Daniel Brady, a rich Pittsburgher, appears as back of the scheme here.

Last summer several Pittsburgh men of affairs spent some weeks on the isthmus of Panama and they returned full of ideas and figures on beer. It is asserted that there is more beer drunk in proportion to population on the isthmus than any other place known. There were shipped into the isthmus last year 2,000,000 barrels of beer, which was sold to the natives and Americans working there at high prices.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

of North America, New York, was taken to a cell in the Tombs prison as soon as the verdict of the jury was announced. He also was denied bail pending preparation of papers for a review of his case. His attorneys, however, hope to obtain his release on bail through an order of the court of appeals.

Mr. Brown's Rallies
Candidate George H. Brown was about yesterday speaking in busy tones as the result of the campaign of out-door speaking, but he believed that by resting yesterday he would be in shape for today's strenuous work. "If my voice holds out," said Mr. Brown, "I shall make 25 speeches during the week. He will address the employees of the American Hide and Leather company at the factory, and this noon, at 7:30 o'clock Mr. Brown will speak at the corner of Bridge street and Middlesex avenue. At 7:45 he will address his fellow citizens from in front of Sparks' drug store, corner of Lakeview avenue and Little Canada, and will make a speech there."

The Leaguers' Ticket
The local independence leaguers have nominated the following municipal ticket: For mayor—William Zimmer, 31 Pine street, merchant, 23 Middle street. Chief of department of supplies—William H. Brown, printer, 171 Fort Hill avenue.

Albion—Joseph P. Ashton, textile worker, 36 Prescott street. William Thomas, Ring attorney at law, 51 Willis street. Frank M. Bell, painter and decorator, rear 414 Carlton street. Hugh Gallagher, stationary fireman, 2 Poland street. Robert Hartley, merchant, 51 Willis street. Joseph P. Brown, carpenter, 23 West Sixth street. William H. Williams, merchant, 295 Summer street. Joseph McDonald, machinist, 27 Cornhill street. Michael A. Lee, carpenter, 55 Blackpole street.

FOUND DEAD
COHASSET MAN DIED IN BOSTON HOTEL
BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Thomas E. Keefe of Cohasset, a railroad telegrapher, was found dead yesterday afternoon in his room at the Revere house, with gas flowing from two open jets. Medical Examiner Magrath said there was an apparently a deliberately planned suicide.

The window of the room was shut and locked, bed clothing had been stuffed into the fireplace and paper had been put about cracks of the door to prevent the escape of gas. A paper which had contained a sleeping potion was found in the room.

Keefe went to the hotel about 9 Saturday evening and registered under the name of "Thomas Edwards" of Brockton. About noon yesterday gas escaping from his room attracted attention, and Patrick Collins, a porter, was sent to force the door. He found the man on the bed undressed and dead.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL
Chevalier-Middlesex lodge, 2, K. of P., met Friday night. A large delegation was present. Frank Griffin was in the chair and a large amount of business was transacted, after which whist was enjoyed. Next Friday evening steamed claims will be served. All members are invited.

3000 FARMERS
TO HOLD MEETING IN WASHINGTON WEDNESDAY
WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Three thousand farmers, hailing from thirty states, will meet in this city on Wednesday next, when the national grange patrons of husbandry assemble for their forty-second annual convention. The convention will be significant as bearing upon the financial, social and educational advancement of the farmer, and will bring together a distinguished gathering, comprising those who are foremost in the farming industry in the United States.

Some of the leading figures in the business world will attend to further establish between the farmer and the business interests relations that will foster co-operation and mutual success. A concerted movement will be inaugurated among the three million members of the organization to secure the passage in congress at its next session of postal banks and parcels post legislation, to which the national grange is committed.

The Bon Marche

Monday Evening Sale

From 6 to 9.30 O'Clock Only

LONG OUTING FLANNEL SKIRTS (Second Floor) 45c

Made of good outing flannel in sizes 36-38 and 40. Regular price 50c. Monday Evening Price, 45c

TEASPOONS 6 for 5c

Good heavy Steel Spoons, finished to imitate silver. Regular price 6 for 10c. Monday Evening Price, 6 for 5c

WOOL FLANNEL (Basement) 12½c Yard

Extra heavy White Flannel, 28 inches wide. Regular price 25c. Monday Evening Price, 12½c

MEN'S NEGLIGEE SHIRTS 20c

Chambays, Madras and Percales, with separate cuffs. Regular price 50c. Monday Evening Price, 20c

WOMEN'S HOSE 15c, or 2 Pairs for 25c

Black Hose, ribbed and plain, winter weight, with linen heel and toe. Regular price 25c pair. Monday Evening Price, 15c Pair, or 2 Pairs for 25c

SHETLAND FLOSS 5c Skein

Genuine Shetland Floss, in full size skeins. Bright colors only. Regular price 12½c. Monday Evening Price, 5c Skein

TOOTH BRUSHES 8c

Full size, bone handles, with good bristles. Regular price 15c. Monday Evening Price, 8c

COLLAR FOUNDATIONS 7c

All styles, in black or white. Regular price 10c. Monday Evening Price, 7c

ILLUSTRATED HISTORY OF LOWELL AND VICINITY—A

9x12 book of 881 pages and about 1000 illustrations of buildings, scenes and prominent persons. A beautiful book published by the Courier-Citizen Co., giving the history of Lowell from its earliest period. Published to sell at $3.00. Monday Evening Price, 69c

REMNANTS OF COLORED DRESS GOODS 25c Yard

Mostly dark colors (full goods). Regular price 30c yard to 50c yard. Monday Evening Price, 25c Yard

36-INCH SATINS FOR COAT LININGS 79c Yard

Gray, made, brown and black. Regular price $1.00. Monday Evening Price, 79c Yard

WOMEN'S UNION SUITS 89c

Very fine fleece lined Jersey in cream and white. Regular price $1.25. Monday Evening Price, 89c

WOMEN'S GAITERS 35c

Ten-button length in black. Regular price 50c. Monday Evening Price, 35c

BELT BUCKLES AND BELT PINS 25c

In Gilt, Plain, Rose, Silver and Oxidized finish, plain and stone settings. Regular price 50c and $1.00. Monday Evening Price, 25c

CHILDREN'S WHITE FUR SETS 79c

Muff and throw, very handsome little sets for children. Regular price $1. Monday Evening Price, 79c Set

LADIES' SHIRT WAISTS

69c

$1.00 Value

J. L. CHALIFOUX

49 to 59 CENTRAL ST.

MEN'S ALL WORSTED WOOL

SWEATERS AT $1.38

Regular $3 Value

$10 for Women's Coats

Of the $15.00 and $18.00 Types

Dressy coats and coats of simplicity. Made by the highest salaried tailors of highest grades of Woolsens, Broadcloths and Kerseys, in black and colors. Wide variety from the unassuming jacket to the handsome 52-inch models, braided or silk trimmed.

Misses' School Coats

In heavy Scotch Mixtures, all sizes in different patterns; semi-fitted. Good storm coats.

Ladies' Sweaters

48c, 98c, $1.98 and $2.98

Heavy Weight Close Knit Sweaters, all sizes, in mannish styles. In different colors

Ladies' Patent Leather Shoes

For $1.49

We have only about 50 pairs left, the remainder of several hundred pairs we closed out from a manufacturer at about 50 cents on the dollar.

CHAS. W. MORSE

Convicted Banker on His Way to Jail

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Charles W. Morse, the "ex-ice king" sentenced to fifteen years in prison for misappropriating the funds of the National bank

POLITICAL NOTES

The Candidates Will be Busy This Week

The rainy weather of yesterday drove the politicians indoors and Merriam square and vicinity presented a deserted appearance during the day. But the headquarters were filled with supporters of the different candidates and there was much enthusiasm indoors. A meeting of the ward committees of the Cummings' followers was held at the headquarters on Middlesex street yesterday afternoon and encouraging reports were received from each ward. Mr. Cummings was present and addressed the assembly. Ex-Mayor Casey was present at his headquarters during the day and addressed a large number

Meetings this Week
This will be a busy week for all candidates for they will make addresses at different points nightly. Mr. Cummings will address meetings in Old Fellows hall, Bridge street, and the Centralville Social Club, Aiken street, tonight. Ex-Mayor Casey will address a meeting in the Lyon street school this evening.

Ex-Alderman Cosgrove Active
Daniel Cosgrove, candidate for the democratic nomination for the office of chief of the supply department, opened his campaign yesterday afternoon by holding a caucus meeting which was attended by about 300 enthusiastic democrats who represented every ward in the city. Of course, the majority of the voters present were representatives of the democratic wards, but there was a good representation of democrats from the republican wards and the latter were as enthusiastic as their brothers from the democratic wards.

Candidate Cosgrove made a very brief speech and refrained from throwing bouquets at himself, but the speaker who followed him spoke of his career at city hall, stating that it was clean, beyond criticism and that his acts had been approved by the voters throughout the city, both democrats and republicans.

The fact was also brought out that the first year that Mr. Cosgrove aspired for political honors he was elected to the common council to represent ward four. The following year a very unusual thing happened, Mr. Cosgrove, instead of seeking reelection for the lower board, aspired higher and was elected to the board of aldermen. His acts while in the upper board were of such a character as to give him the lead at the next two elections the entire strength of the democratic party and a good portion of the republican party

As a result he never lost the highest vote ever given a man for any position in the city of Lowell.

Mr. Cosgrove said there were three other candidates seeking the democratic nomination for the same office and that there should be no mud-slinging or knocking; also that after the primaries it was the duty of the members of the democratic party to support the democratic nominee, whether it be himself or one of the other candidates. Several speeches were made in advocacy of his nomination.

Mr. Brown's Rallies
Candidate George H. Brown was about yesterday speaking in busy tones as the result of the campaign of out-door speaking, but he believed that by resting yesterday he would be in shape for today's strenuous work. "If my voice holds out," said Mr. Brown, "I shall make 25 speeches during the week. He will address the employees of the American Hide and Leather company at the factory, and this noon, at 7:30 o'clock Mr. Brown will speak at the corner of Bridge street and Middlesex avenue. At 7:45 he will address his fellow citizens from in front of Sparks' drug store, corner of Lakeview avenue and Little Canada, and will make a speech there."

The Leaguers' Ticket
The local independence leaguers have nominated the following municipal ticket: For mayor—William Zimmer, 31 Pine street, merchant, 23 Middle street. Chief of department of supplies—William H. Brown, printer, 171 Fort Hill avenue.

Albion—Joseph P. Ashton, textile worker, 36 Prescott street. William Thomas, Ring attorney at law, 51 Willis street. Frank M. Bell, painter and decorator, rear 414 Carlton street. Hugh Gallagher, stationary fireman, 2 Poland street. Robert Hartley, merchant, 51 Willis street. Joseph P. Brown, carpenter, 23 West Sixth street. William H. Williams, merchant, 295 Sum-

DON'T WRITE BUT TELEPOST

Boston, Lowell, Lawrence, Haverhill, Essex, Portsmouth, Dover, Biddeford, Saco, Old Orchard and Portland are the first cities to be given the new, cheap, rapid and accurate Telegraph service. These cities are now connected, and the Telegraph lines open for business.

New cities will be added in rapid succession until all parts of the United States are placed in telegraphic communication at the same flat rates, regardless of distance.

25-Word TELEGRAMS, 25 Cents
5-Word TELEPOSTS, 25 Cents
10-Word TELETYPE, 25 Cents
10-Word TELECARDS, 10 Cents

Official Sending-Blanks on Sale at Drug Stores, 4-Cigar Stores and Hotel Offices. Write for Booklet No. 29, which gives in detail the Company's plans for rapid expansion.

Telepost Company, 225 5th Ave., N.Y.

Men's Overcoats Of High Quality

An Unexcelled Variety Very Moderately Priced
Our assortment is noteworthy not only for the wide variety of styles offered, but also for the extensive number of patterns in each style.

$28 SILK LINED Black Kersey Overcoats

Equal to $65 kind made by tailors. The merits of these Overcoats will appeal to any one wanting the best. They are hand made, by the best journeymen tailors, lined with the best of silk and are guaranteed to fit perfectly.

$22 Fine Auto Overcoats

In fine Scotch Cheviot; tan, gray and olive.

Young Men's Fancy Overcoats $15

The assortment at $15.00 is unsurpassed and comprises half a dozen new shades of Scotch Cheviots, Cassimeres and Kerseys. Some are made with patch pockets and fancy sleeve trimmings.

Men's Overcoats $12.95

Regular $18.00 Value
In mouse colored Kersey; black, blue and brown Kerseys; and fancy Cheviots. Full lengths and thoroughly well made.

ERVIN E. SMITH 47-49 Market Street

Number 45

We do not have to cut prices in our store 25 or 50 per cent. to sell goods. We buy large quantities direct from the manufacturers and set our prices lower than the lowest. We lead, others follow.

Furniture Polish 9c, worth 25c
Scrub Brushes...3c, worth 5c
Nail Sets7c, worth 10c

Dust Brushes...18c, worth 25c
Carpenters' Pencils 2c, worth 5c
Axe Handles...12c, worth 25c

INVERTED GAS LAMPS, 49c, Worth $1.00.

Window Brushes 42c, worth 60c
Brooms.....19c, worth 25c
Tack Hammers...7c, worth 15c

Hatchets.....23c, worth 50c
Axes.....63c, worth 75c
Axe Handles...12c, worth 25c

GAS MANTLES, 7c, Worth 15c.

Can Openers...5c, worth 10c
Garment Hangers 3c, worth 5c
Hand Saws39c, worth 50c

Liquid Veneer 18c, worth 25c
Whisk Brooms15c, worth 25c

WASHING MACHINES $2.89, Worth $5.00

Scissors and Shears, 5 to 8 in. 14c, worth 30c

Best Steel Shears, 6 to 8 in. 49c, worth 75c

2-blade Pocket Knives, 15c, worth 50c

6-5-4-STOVE POLISH, 15c, Worth 25c

Lanterns.....42c, worth 60c

Axle Grease.....8c, worth 15c

Boys' Axes.....59c, worth 85c

Wood Faucets...7c, worth 10c

Sponges.....19c, worth 35c

Stove Clay.....17c, worth 25c

1 blade Pocket Knives 10c worth 25c

Kitchen Sets, five knives 79c, worth $1.00

Putty Knives...9c, worth 15c

Coat and Hat Hooks 5c Dozen, worth 12c

Ash Sifters, wood frame 29c, worth 50c

Ash Sifters, all wire, 42c, worth 60c

ZIZ-ZAG RULES, All Sizes, 15c, Worth 20c to 50c.

SMITH'S, 47-49 MARKET ST.

MAN LEFT IN JAIL

Awaiting Trial That Had Been Abandoned

Probation Officer Ramsey recently unearthed an interesting case which illustrates two important matters, one the peculiarity of the law relative to paternity cases, and the other how soon and how easily a foreigner coming to this country may become a public charge.

About the 15th of last May a young woman who had been in Lowell for two years had a fellow-countryman, also of youthful age, arrested on a paternity warrant. Both came from the continent of Europe. As is well known to lawyers and those familiar with such cases, the man arrested on such a charge has about one chance in one hundred of clearing himself, even if innocent. The girl had no counsel nor had the accused, and on the 22nd day of last May the man was committed to jail, unable to give a bond to the complainant.

Now such cases, though first appearing in the police court, are not ranked as criminal but as civil cases, and while in a criminal case the defendant is called to trial by the government at stated intervals, in a civil case the defendant does not have to answer in court until the complainant gets ready to call the case against him. Before the late Gov. Greenhalge became a member of the legislature the law was such that a man sent to jail on a paternity charge would have to remain there until the complainant called him into court, and if the complainant showed no disposition to have the case brought up, the unfortunate would remain in jail for an indefinite period. A case of this evident injustice came to the attention of Gov. Greenhalge, and he got an amendment of the existing law through the legislature to the effect that if a case should ever arise where the defendant was kept in jail awaiting trial for more than a reasonable length of time the probation officer or keeper of the jail could notify the district attorney and he in turn would present a petition to the court to have the complainant come into court and show why the case should not be disposed of.

Recently Probation Officer Slattery discovered the unfortunate man in jail, and upon learning that he had been in since last May immediately notified District Attorney Higgins, who sent the necessary petition to the court. The latter promptly instructed the clerk to send an order to the complainant to come into court. Then the difficulty arose as to where to find the complainant, who had no counsel in court and was not known to the police.

Mr. Ramsey then accepted his grateful position as "poor man's counsel," and started out to find the woman. After a search he located her, and learned that she had no child where she was living and had no intention of prosecuting the case any further. He continued his investigation and learned that the child had been born at the state hospital at Tewksbury and had been abandoned by the mother and left to the tender mercies of the state. Happily for all concerned, however, the child passed away on Saturday. Mr. Ramsey had thought of having the mother and child sent back to their native land, but the death of the child and the fact that the mother has gone back to work made this move unnecessary. He then returned to the mother who stated that she had no intention of prosecuting the man any further, but did not know how to proceed to allow his release. Accordingly, Mr. Ramsey reported back to the authorities, and this afternoon the young man was taken from jail to the superior court on a writ of habeas corpus, and discharged from custody.

HISTORIC LANDMARK

Old Asa Pollard House at Billerica Burned

The historic Asa Pollard house in Billerica, just beyond the Fordway bridge, was destroyed by fire early Saturday evening. The house was famous because of the fact that it was on the estate of Asa Pollard, the first Continental soldier to fall at the battle of Bunker Hill on June 17, 1775, and was one of the most prominent landmarks in connection with the early battles of the rebellion. The cause of the fire is unknown.

The large barn in the rear of the house which was well stocked with hay, was saved as were a pair of horses and eight cows, but the fire in the house had such a headway before it was discovered that all efforts to save the building were fruitless. The barn caught fire several times from flying sparks and brands, but through the efforts of the firemen and neighbors who were attracted to the scene the barn was well protected.

The fire had its origin in a shed in the rear of the house and quickly communicated to the main building. As soon as the blaze was discovered, the fire alarms were sounded in the North and Centre villages, and the department was promptly in responding. The North Billerica department was first on the scene and Engineer O'Toole saw at a glance that there was no hope to save the house inasmuch as the blaze had spread rapidly and the lumber in the building was exceedingly dry, making good food for the flames.

Attention was immediately directed to the barn. Sparks from a burning house were showering on the roof of the barn and from time to time a fire would start in the shingles, but a line of hose or a couple of extinguishers operated by the firemen extinguished the fires on the different parts of the roof.

At one time the blaze got into the hay in the left of the barn and for a time it looked as though the building was doomed, but a couple of streams of water soon extinguished the fire.

The house burned like tinder and the blaze cast a reflection on the sky that could be seen for many miles. The house was completely gutted and nothing remains but the walls of the structure. A few chairs were the only articles of furniture saved.

The house was owned by J. Henry Call and was tenanted by James A. Ruth and family, with whom Mr. Call boarded. None of the Ruth family was in the house at the time the fire started, both Mr. Ruth and his wife being in the barn in the rear.

The Ruths lost practically all of their furniture, upon which there was no insurance. Mr. Call was in Windham, N. H., at the time but he was immediately notified of the fire and started at once for Billerica.

Searchers among the ruins yesterday afternoon discovered a blackened cigar box with $65 in bills stuck to the bottom of it. The box was found near that part of the building which was occupied by Mr. Call and the money belonged to him. The bills were water soaked, showing that the box must have come in contact with one of the streams of water that the firemen played upon the flames.

The original building of which the barn is said to have been a part was erected over 200 years ago. According to the history of Billerica the estate was acquired by Thomas Pollard, who came to Billerica about 1682, purchased the place and "right" which had been

William Hale's, near the Fordway, and received in 1708 a grant of 30 acres between the road to the fordway and the road which turns east from it. Asa, his grandson, the first to fall at Bunker Hill, was born in 1775. A stone placed by the Billerica Historical society several years ago, with a suitable inscription marks the spot.

CUT EXPENSES

In the Assessing Dept. in Boston

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Declaring that the number of employees in the assessing department of the city of Boston is excessive, and that the antiquated method of doing business is extravagant, the finance commission yesterday issued its report covering an investigation of the department through a term of 13 years. Recommendations are made which, it is claimed, will save the city $24,000 a year.

The commission finds that from one-half to three-fourths of the citizens escape paying poll taxes, and that the cost of assessing and collecting is $115,000, or more than the poll tax receipts. Extravagant pay, from $5.50 to $14 a day, is paid copying clerks, when typewriters might be employed at much less expense. It is further claimed.

The commission recommends that a system be devised to do away with duplication of work in assessing polls, that the work of recording poll taxes be simplified and the payment of the polls be enforced; that the number of assessors be reduced from nine to five, and salaries and the number of employees be reduced.

FUNERALS

QUINN.—The funeral of the late Thomas Quinn took place yesterday afternoon from his home, 7 Hampton avenue, Walker street, and was largely attended by friends and relatives. Among the many floral tributes were a large wreath, Misses Fitzgerald, Coolidge and Tremblay; palms, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Giblin; mammoth cross on base inscribed "At Rest," from fellow workmen. The bearers were Thomas and Maurice Hanniffin, Roger Hayes, Cornelius Hart, Michael Donovan and Jeremiah Hayes. At the grave Rev. John McHugh read the committal prayers and the burial was in the Catholic cemetery in charge of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Co.

ROBINSON.—The funeral of the late Gertrude F. Robinson was held Saturday afternoon from her home, 127 Powell street. Rev. George F. Kennigott conducted the services, and Miss Nellie Studley sang "Face to Face" and "Jesus Wipes Our Tears Away." The bearers were A. R. Coffin, A. A. Ludvig, H. M. Fox and W. S. Stanley. The burial in the Edison cemetery was in charge of Undertaker George Healey. The body reclined in a perfect bed of flowers among which was a large pillow inscribed "Baby" from the family and Mr. Herbert Butler; a beautiful wreath from Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Wiley and Miss S. A. Hope; wreath, Miss Catherine Thomas; sprays chrysanthemums, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Crawford, Beta Sigma club, Miss G. E. Colton, Miss Grace Blood; sprays of pinks, Miss E. B. Bennison, Misses P. Penbody and E. Martel, Mrs. S. M. Patterson and family; sprays of roses, Mrs. M. J. Coffin and son, Miss Mildred Hutchins, and a large basket of pinks, Mr. A. M. Holman and family.

SMITH.—The funeral of Mrs. Rose C. Smith, who passed away at the Old Ladies' home, took place yesterday afternoon from the home of Robert E. Foster, 216 Thordike street. Services were conducted by Rev. B. A. Willmott, pastor of the First Congregational church, and there was singing by Mrs. George Burns. The bearers were J. W. Griffin, E. W. Fletcher, C. Worden and J. H. Kimball. Burial was in the family lot in the Lowell cemetery under the direction of the J. B. Currier Co.

FINNEGAN.—The funeral of Dennis Finnegan took place yesterday afternoon from the home of his niece, Mrs. James Dean, 21 Lundberg street, and was largely attended by relatives and friends of the deceased. The funeral services were held at the Sacred Heart church where the "Liberal" for the dead was read by Rev. Bernard Fletcher.

O. M. L. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery where the body was tenderly laid to rest in the family lot. The bearers were Thomas Mahan, James Sheehan, Daniel Managan, Thomas Lynch and Eugene Dean of this city, and John Finnegan of Milford, N. H. The funeral was attended by out-of-town friends from Milford, N. H., Fitchburg, R. I., New York city and Haverhill, Mass. The arrangements were under the direction of Undertaker John A. Finnegan.

HOVEY.—The funeral of J. W. Hovey took place yesterday afternoon from his home, 4 Fifth street. The services were conducted by Rev. P. A. Mahon, and there was singing by Mr. Lou-

MERCHANTS

You desire prosperity and the patronage of the people, you desire to build up a firm, substantial and successful business in Lowell, and to do so you depend on the masses, do you not? Of course you do. No one can be independent; every one depends on the patronage of those around him.

The Lowell Sun is the people's paper. It is universally read. Seek the attention of the people through the advertising columns of the people's paper, and prosperity is yours.

The Sun has by far the largest circulation in Lowell. Advertise first of all in The Sun, then in the other papers if you choose.

It is in every respect
LOWELL'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER

is Sweet and Miss May Whitely, of the West Fifth Street church. The bearers were Frank J. Clifford, Henry Prescott, William McCreedy and Joseph M. Bowers. Among the many floral offerings were a wreath from Charles Guthrie and son; sprays, Mr. and Mrs. Peter C. Dechafre, George and William McCreedy; James S. Hovey, Miss Marion Hovey, Philip Hovey, Mrs. A. O. Austin, George D. Mahoney; wreaths, O'Donnell Brothers, Martin Penbody, and wreaths from other friends.

Burial was in the family lot in the Hillcrest cemetery under direction of the J. B. Currier Co.

REED.—The funeral of Frank C. Reed took place Saturday afternoon from the home of his sister, Mrs. William McCabe, 653 Broadway, the Rev. Arthur P. Wedge officiating. The bearers were Charles Taylor, James B. Taylor, Frank Vaughn and Charles Neal. Burial was in the Edison cemetery, C. M. Young in charge. Among the floral tributes were a large pillow from the family; spray of purple chrysanthemums from Mr. and Mrs. Charles Neal; spray of purple and white chrysanthemums from James B. Taylor; spray of yellow chrysanthemums from friends.

PERRY.—The funeral of Manuel Perry took place Saturday afternoon from his home, 82 German street. Funeral services were held at St. Anthony's church, Rev. Fr. Rosa officiating. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery in charge of Undertakers M. H. McDonough & Sons.

FELTON.—Mrs. Henry F. Felton, formerly Mrs. Eli W. Hoyt, died Saturday night at her home, 355 Andover street, aged 70 years.

Mrs. Felton had been ill for about two years, and while her death was not unexpected, it brought sorrow to a large circle of friends.

Mrs. Felton had lived in Lowell over 50 years and was an attendant of the First Unitarian church up to the time of her illness. Beside her husband, she leaves a sister, Mrs. Ellen Kane of Milwaukee.

DEATHS

SLATTERY.—Mrs. Mary A. Slattery, widow of the late Patrick Slattery, died Saturday morning at her late home, 47 Torrey street, Dorchester. She was a former resident of this city and a well known and highly respected member of St. Patrick's church. She leaves three daughters, Mary A. and Elizabeth Slattery of Dorchester and Mrs. William Mahoney of Lowell, and one grandchild Miss Lottie Mahoney of Lowell. She was a well known member of Garfield colony, Pilgrim Fathers of this city.

BUCKLEY.—Mrs. Alice Buckley died at her home in North Billerica, yesterday afternoon, at the age of 59 years, 4 months. She leaves, besides her husband, William Buckley, three daughters, Mrs. William Cropper of England, Mrs. Henry Brown and Mrs. Thomas Ellis of Billerica; and three sons, Joseph and Frank of Lawrence, and William of Maynard. Mrs. Buckley was a member of the Daughters of St. George.

BRUNELLE.—John Roland Brunelle, infant son of Archule and Aulogie Brunelle, died last night at the home of his parents, 21 Beaver street, aged four months and 16 days.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Louis Sergerie of Nashua and Miss Maria Begin of this city were married yesterday at St. Joseph's rectory, where the ceremony was performed at 2 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Baron, O. M. L. Messrs. Benjamin J. Begin, an uncle of the bride, and Charles Bechler, her father, were the witnesses. Later in the afternoon a dinner was served at the home of Mr. Charles Begin, 41 First street, and Mr. and Mrs. Sergerie left in the evening for a honeymoon trip to be enjoyed in Canada. They will reside in Nashua.

THE VANDERBILT CUP PRESENTATION

The automobile editor of The Sun is in receipt of an invitation from the Vanderbilt Cup commission to be present at the Automobile Club of America, Fifty-fourth street, New York city, on Thursday evening, to witness the formal presentation of the William K. Vanderbilt, Jr. trophy to the winning locomobile.

ROLLER POLO LEAGUE

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 8.—At a meeting of the directors of the National Roller Polo League yesterday, the franchise on the Quinn, Mass. club was declared vacant, that club having disbanded last week. Of the players Faby was assigned to Worcester and Jason to Brighton to strengthen those teams, and the sale of Higgins to Fall River was confirmed.

A BIRTHDAY PARTY

A most delightful birthday party was held Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Richardson of Chase street in honor of their two children, Edith and Arthur. Refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. John Nolan and numerous games and songs were enjoyed until a late hour.

A. G. POLLARD COMP'Y

The Store for Thrifty People

Rummage Sale Offerings

In Our House Furnishings Department

Household Articles Almost Given Away

This is more than a usual clearance sale, for we have dug out every corner and shelf of this basement, finding the little lots that would ordinarily come to your notice in January sales. We have made such unheard-of price cuttings as to tempt the closest shopper or thinnest pocketbook.

For 1c—Articles worth 3c to 10c.
For 2c—Articles worth 5c to 10c.
For 5c—Articles worth 10 to 25c.
For 10c—Articles worth 20c to 40c.
For 15c—Articles worth 25c to 50c.
For 20c—Articles worth 35c.
For 25c—Articles worth 50c to $1.50.
For 35c—Articles worth 75c.
For 50c—Articles worth $1.00 to $1.75.
For $1.50—Wash Boilers worth $2.10 and $2.25.
For $2.00—Wash Boilers worth $3.00 and $3.75.

The list includes Bono Dishes (decorated), Bird Cage Hooks, Bluing, Clothes Baskets, Baking

Time, Covered Butter Dishes, Individual Butters, Cake Plates (decorated), Covered Vegetable Dishes, Coffee Boilers (tin and enameled) Clothes Lines, Coffee Cans, Coffee Caddies, Children's Mugs, Celery Trays, Chocolate Pots (decorated), Egg Separators, Fruit Dishes (nickel), "Home" Package Dyes, Gas Check or "By Pass," Ice Cream Freezers, Kitchen Knife-and-Fork Sets, Oil Cloth Binding (zinc), Preserving Kettles (tin), Pictures, Paper Racks or Wall Pockets, Pudding Dishes (nickel), Tissue Paper, Soap Dishes (decorated), Wash Benches, Wash Boards, Wash Boilers, Wash Tubs, etc. The lots are small and the prices exceedingly low.

BE SURE TO VISIT THIS SALE

Merrimack Street

READY TODAY

Basement

A Great Dress Goods Value is Ready For You

SPECIAL SALE OF DRESS GOODS

Over 25,000 Yards

Of MILL ENDS at practically half the regular price. Panama, Sicilian, Barathons, Diagonals, full 36 inches wide, all colors and white. Regular price 50c..... ONLY 29c A YARD
Brilliantines, Serges, Nans Veilings, Granite Weaves, full 50 inches wide, blacks, whites, blues, every color. Regular price 75c..... ONLY 39c A YARD

Lengths from One to Ten Yards

Palmer Street

Right Aisle

A Special Demonstration

—of this—

PREPARED PUDDING

A Special Demonstration of this PREPARED PUDDING will be held in our Tea and Coffee Section all this week. Free samples will be served. You are invited to come and share.

Merrimack Street

Basement

"ALL READY ALL THE TIME."

A SUIT REDUCTION

That Means Something

$18.50 Suits at $10.98

We have taken 20 SUITS from our $18.50 and $15.00 reels and will offer these few SUITS at the ridiculously low price of $10.98. There are just 20 SUITS in all, and there will be no more, so if you want one of these SUITS be on hand early. Three splendid styles of Plain and Fancy Striped Suits, full satin-lined coats. These SUITS are taken out of our stock and are not cheap suits bought for this sale.

Our Entire Stock of MODEL SUITS has been reduced 15 per cent. and 25 per cent. reductions on some of these SUITS.

ALTERATIONS FREE

$1.25 Wrappers - - 98c

COME IN WHILE THE ASSORTMENT IS GOOD

Cloak Department

Second Floor

BASEMENT BARGAIN DEPT.

ON SALE TODAY

2500 YARDS OF FINE WOOL CHALLIES WITH SATIN STRIPE

Just received from the mill one case of these FINE WOOL CHALLIE REMNANTS, plain colors and figured, with fancy worn satin stripes, very handsome material for waists, etc. made to retail at 50c a yard..... Our Price 29c yd.

FIVE BALES OF VERY FINE UNBLEACHED COTTON

We have closed out from the mill man a small lot of VERY FINE BROWN SHEETING, 40 inches wide, for Pillow Cases and Sheets, Cotton easily bleached, remnants two yards to 15 yards long, sold on the piece at 12c a yard. We offer it at Half Price..... 5 1-2c yd.

FOR TODAY ONLY

10 DOZEN BED COMFORTERS

In order to reduce our stock of $2.00 COMFORTERS, we offer them at a special price Monday. COMFORTERS extra long and regular size, covered with fine silkoline, medium and dark colors, filled with pure white sanitary batting, with fancy stitching, nice, light and fluffy, $2.00 value..... At $1.39 each

ON SALE THIS EVENING AT 7 O'CLOCK

75 DOZEN MEN'S JERSEY FLEECE UNDERWEAR

As a special attraction in our Men's Department, we offer 75 dozen MEN'S 50c JERSEY RIBBED UNDERWEAR at almost half price. Very heavy garments with thick wool fleece and made of Egyptian combed yarn. Fleece Shirts with French neckband, saten facing and pearl buttons. Drawers are made with reinforced gusset, strong saten waistband. Garments sold all over New England at 50c each. We have Shirts and Drawers in all sizes..... 29c each

TONIGHT AT 7 O'CLOCK

Hello! Hello!

Give me a sack of Flour please—
No—that's wrong
Give me

GOLD MEDAL FLOUR

WASHBURN-CROSBY'S

FOR SALE BY YOUR GROCER

THE VERY HIGHEST QUALITY

